New Tobacco Group Can Assist Growers

Director I. O. Schaub of the State College Extension Service says he has been advised that a considerable quantity of tobacco is now being sold on the market at a price below its loan value.

He has, therefore, notified county agents to fully advise growers regarding the objectives and operating plan of the new Fine-cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation.

The objective of the Stabilization Corporation is to assist in making government loans available to growers on any tobacco for which the price bid by private buyers on auction markets is less than the government loan rate.

The new cooperative organization provides an agency through which government loans can be made to tobacco growers most effectively, and which can act for the growers in selling loan tobacco with the view of obtaining additional returns above the amount of the loan.

It provides for the packing, storing and selling of tobacco and for distribution to growers on an equitable basis of any net returns realized from the sale of the tobacco.
