Meetings of Week Have Varied Interests

MRS. EDWARDS HONORED A delightful event of the week's social calendar was the informal coffee hour of Saturday morning, at which Mrs. James M. Wholesale, Jr. was hostess in compliment to Mrs. Charles S. Edwards, a recent bride. The home was decorated with dahlias and roses in artistic arrangements. Mrs. Max McLeod greeted the guests and the hostess presented the honoree. Refreshments were served from the dining room table, which was centered with a bowl of pink cosmos and ageratum. Mrs. McLeod poured coffee, and Mrs. E. C. Copenhaver assisted the hostess in passing ham biscuits, open-face sandwiches, cheese straws and stuffed dates. The honoree was presented matching ivory cases of cranberry glass on crystal bases, by the hostess. WOMAN'S CLUB Mrs. B. S. Sheppard presented a splendid program on "Top Flight Famous Women" at the Woman's Club meeting, held Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. W. J. Esberry with Mrs. J. W. Bass as joint hostess. The program leader discussed Katharine Cornell, who, at the age of eight, saw Maude Adams act in "Peter Pan" and dreamed that she would become an actress. This dream stayed with her through the years and now she is one of the best-known actresses on the stage. A pioneer in aviation who holds 28 achievement-firsts is ambitious Ruth Nichols. During the infancy of aviation Miss Nichols decided to further the cause by creating new trails. The original creator of mother-and-daughter-fashions, Mary Lewis, now owns an exclusive New York Shop. Her faith in the creating of colorful and exciting clothes by American designers is unerring and implicit. Many of the dresses, suits and blouses seen in a certain manufacturer's catalog each season are designed by Miss Lewis' skillful hands. Mrs. E. R. Clegg read an article entitled "Woman's Role in Politics" which clearly urges more Tar Heel women to qualify for public offices and use their rights to vote on the full women's rights amendment in the November election so that it may become a part of our State Constitution. More than 50 per cent of the 40,000 citizens on the pay rolls in North Carolina are women. Only through diligent work and the full use of powers already at hand can these Mr. and Mrs. John Eason, Mr. and Mrs. George Macdon and Mrs. M. J. McLeod, of Greenville, were Oxford visitors during the week end. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss and Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Allen were guests at the Smithfield Kiwanis Ladies' Night, Tuesday evening. Miss Annie Perkins left Wednesday morning for several weeks visit with her nephew, William Tyson and Mrs. Tyson, in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Joyner, Jr., who spent last week in New York and Baltimore returned en route home by Virginia Beach, where they attended the Lipscomb-Smith wedding. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss and Mr. and Mrs. Sam D. Bundy will attend the Ladies' Night and Twenty-Fifth Anniversary celebration of the Greenville Kiwanis Club in Greenville on Friday night of this week. George Wilkerson, of Greenville, was the guest of Mrs. S. G. Gardner, Sunday. Mrs. Wilkerson who has been recuperating from an illness at the home of her mother returned with him Sunday afternoon, to Greenville. Mrs. Wesley R. Willis returned, Thursday, from a visit to her brother, Lee Chappell, in San Francisco and Eureka, Calif. While away, Mrs. Willis visited Hollywood, Los Angeles and other points of interest in California. E. S. Smith, Jr., assistant manager of Albemarle Hall, Virginia Beach, Va., arrived Tuesday for a month's visit to his parents before going to West Palm Beach, Fla., where he will be associated with the Miramar Inn. Mrs. Paul E. Jones, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Duke, in Pasadena, Calif., and other cities and points of interest in that state, will return home during the week end. Mrs. Jones visited relatives in Washington, D. C., en route home. Rev. E. S. Coates, Misses Janet Stansell, Pat Corbett and Elsie May, Donald Baucum, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Elks and seven members of the Youth Fellowship at Ballards, attended the fall rally of Albemarle Presbytery, held in Goldsboro, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Horton Rountree returned Sunday to Chapel Hill after a visit to their mother, Mrs. Madeline H. Rountree and grand-daughters, Mrs. Dora E. Koel, Mrs. Rountree and Mrs. Wayne A. Mitchell, Jr., of Kinston, returned with them for a visit in the afternoon and evening. Mrs. Herbert Acton and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bottery, of Danville, Ky., spent several days of this week here. Mrs. Acton visiting her husband, a member of the Tobacco Colony, and Mr. and Mrs. Bottery visiting his and her family in Danville. The two couples attended the Duke-Tennessee game, Saturday.

women and others within voting age help to form their government. Miss Rosemary Holmes, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. E. W. Holmes, sang My Swan—Henric Ibsen—music by Edward Grieg and If God Left Only You—Job; Danmore. Attractive yearbooks prepared by Miss Annie Perkins and typed by Mrs. B. S. Sheppard were distributed at this meeting which was presided over by the president, Miss Tabitha M. DeVisconti. Department chairmen were announced as follows: citizenship and American home, Mrs. E. R. Clegg and Mrs. J. M. Hobgood; international relations, Miss Mamie E. Davis; literature, Miss Annie Perkins; art, Mrs. C. W. Blackwood; education, Mrs. William Esley; and public welfare, Mrs. Sam D. Bundy. A cordial welcome was extended to Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck, a former member, who has rejoined and to Miss Georgia Howard and Miss Holmes, special guests. The club voted to take a birthday gift for a boy in a correctional school to the district Federation meet in Plymouth, Friday. A color scheme of blue and yellow was effectively carried out in the flower arrangements of chrysanthemums, ageratum and crotolaria. In the refreshment hour, ice cream and cookies were followed by dent-tasse and wafers. MERRY MATRONS The Merry Matrons enjoyed a delightful meeting, Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, in which tasteful arrangements of fall flowers were used. Following a short business session, Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Sr., gave an interesting review of Betty McDonald's book "The Egg and I," which is an account of the author's life on a chicken farm. Mrs. Holden, assisted by Mrs. Morgan and Miss Edna Robinson, served pecan tarts topped with whipped cream, cheese straws, mints, stuffed dates and coffee. Mrs. Edgar J. Barrett, Miss Robinson and Mrs. E. R. Clegg were special guests. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. M. Hobgood on October 22. U. D. C. The election of officers featured the business session of the October meeting of the Rebecca Winborne Chapter, U. D. C., held Friday afternoon, when Miss Annie Perkins was made president to succeed Mrs. Robert D. Rouse, and the following officers were reelected: Mrs. W. M. Willis, vice president; Mrs. Fred C. Darden, secretary; Mrs. T. W. Lang, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Parker, registrar; Mrs. J. H. Darden, historian. The program was featured with a splendid talk by Miss Perkins relative to outstanding Pitt Countians during the period of the War Between the States. The program was brought to a close with a beautiful piano solo, Madeline-Bohn, played by Miss Ruth Moore. During the social hour, the hostess, Mrs. T. W. Lang, served individual minicement pies, topped with cream, nuts and coffee. The Lang home on Contentnea street, was decorated with roses, dahlias and other fall flowers in pleasing arrangements. Sharing with chapter members in the pleasures of the afternoon were Miss Ruth Moore, Mrs. J. G. Gardner and Mrs. E. C. Beaman. LAMERAD CLUB Lovely lavender pompon dahlias were used as a setting in the home, Friday afternoon, for two tables of bridge when Mrs. R. V. Flier delightfully entertained members of the Lamrad Club and a special guest, Mrs. Yancy Burke, of Horse Cave, Ky. Delicious individual chocolate pies, cheese straws and coffee were enjoyed following play. Coa-colas were served between progressions. High score prize was awarded Mrs. Yancy Burke, who also was remembered with a special gift of cocktail napkins by the hostess. WEDNESDAY CLUB Members of the Wednesday Afternoon Club and additional guests, Mrs. Wayne A. Mitchell, Jr., of Kinston, Mrs. Walter E. Jones and Mrs. Richard D. Harris, were delightfully entertained, Wednesday, by Mrs. Harry Harper at her home, which had as a floral setting for the three tables attractive arrangements of yellow, lavender and white chrysanthemums. The tables were spread with refreshment covers and centered with red roses in bud vases when the guests arrived and tippy cake and coffee were served prior to the contract game. Mrs. George E. Moore, Jr., won the club award, smoking accessories, and Mrs. Walter E. Jones the club prize, an ivy bowl. ELECTED TO HONOR COUNCIL Miss Corinne Holloway, daughter of Mrs. Mamie Ruth Holloway, of Ballards, was elected senior representative to the Honor Council last week at Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va. Miss Holloway has also been chosen as a member of the annual staff. FAMILY REUNION In honor of their children, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Jones gave a sumptuous barbecue dinner, Sunday.
