Instructions For Overseas Mailing Of Christmas Packages

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 7. — There's no point in sending your GI overseas a Christmas parcel unless you are reasonably sure he'll get it, says Major George F. Heinz, Postal Officer, Seventh Army, and he tells you how to do your part to speed delivery. He asks that these instructions be followed: Don't use a gummed sticker for the address. It might get damp and slip off the package. Print his full name, rank or grade, serial number and APO number on the paper in which you have securely wrapped the package. Print your name and return address in the upper left corner. Here's a new one: List the contents of the package, together with your name and return address and the full name, rank or grade, serial number and APO number of the addressee, on a sheet of paper and insert it inside the package before wrapping. Reasons: Packages may break open. If so, postal authorities can check contents, rewrap the package, readdress it and continue it on its way.

Gifts should be packed in a strong box with plenty of cushioning inside to keep contents from rattling around. Use heavy wrapping paper and heavy cord. Perishables, inflammables, poisons or intoxicants are not permitted and fragile parcels will not be accepted. Mark the package "Christmas Gift parcel."

Select your gifts wisely. He gets food and clothing and can buy a lot of common items at his Post Exchange. Electrical appliances sent to Europe may be useless, as much of the continent's electrical output is of a different voltage than in the U. S. and it may be direct current instead of alternating.

You can send a package weighing up to 70 pounds and the combined length and girth must measure no more than 100 inches. Mail as early as possible. November 15 is the deadline.

BASKETBALL

Practice for the American Legion basketball team will be held at 7:30, Monday evening, November 11. Every member and every prospective member of the American Legion who is interested and who desires to participate in this activity is urged to meet at the Farmville High School Gym.

The enthusiasm for sports shown by the members of the American Legion at the last meeting brought about the appointment of a Recreation Committee to plan and organize a recreation program for the coming year. Some of the sports to be enjoyed by the Legionnaires will be basketball, golf and soft ball.

A large number are expected for the first practice of the basketball team.
