CLUBS and PARTIES

Woman's Club Has Supper Meet
Members of the Woman's Club and their guests, members of the Junior Woman's Club, gathered at the home of Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Friday evening, for a covered dish supper and to hear Dr. Harold J. Dudley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Wilson, speak on "Citizenship."
Mrs. Hobgood introduced Dr. Dudley stating that he was called upon short notice after Mrs. R. S. Ferguson, only woman state senator, had to cancel her speaking engagement here due to illness.
Basing his talk upon this reference to the Preamble to the Constitution of our state, "Frequent recurrences to fundamental principles is essential to the preservation of the liberties of a free people," he took his audience to the year 1930 when supposedly the United States was in a state of totalitarianism. Calling upon each person present to become more aware and wide awake as to what the government is doing, he noted that if Americans continue to pay such little attention, they may wake up to find their country under such a rule.
A book published during the war, "Diplomacy and God," written by George Glasgow, an Englishman, was discussed and used in bringing out these four fundamental principles upon which citizenship is based; 1. God is sovereign and reigns supreme; 2. Rightness alone exalts a nation; 3. Man is worth saving; 4. We pass through tragedy to triumph. An interesting illustration, proving that God is sovereign and reigns supreme was the incident of the English being saved from the Spanish Armada by the storm that destroyed a great part of Spain's fleet, which was recounted by Dr. Dudley.
Miss Tabitha DeVilscanti, president, presided and presented Mrs. Elbert C. Holmes who was in charge of the musical program. Miss Rosemary Holmes, Mrs. R. O. Lang, Jr., and Elbert C. Holmes rendered vocal selections, duet and trio numbers with Mrs. E. W. Holmes, Mrs. Hobgood and Mrs. Elbert C. Holmes as accompanists.
The dining room table, from which the supper was served buffet style, was covered with a white cloth and bore a centerpiece of red and white candles, red and white ribbon bows and a figurine, which was surrounded by carnations and placed on a large red heart with a frilly white edging. Decorations on the buffet also carried effectively the Valentine idea.
Mrs. W. H. Moore, Jr., and Mrs. Sam D. Bundy acted as hostesses and passed individual white ice cakes topped with red decorations. Miss Margaret Smith presided over the coffee service.
Hawthorn, ferns and daffodils were used in artistic arrangement in the living room.
Mrs. Dudley and the ministers of the town shared honors with the members of the Junior Woman's Club as special guests.
Junior Woman's Club
Mrs. Melton Allen was a gracious hostess to the Junior Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. J. T. Nolen, presiding over the business session. The meeting was opened with the Pledge.
The members voted to buy the Brownies a flag and to have a training school for members.
Mrs. W. Jesse Moye reported that school supplies had been purchased with the money collected for that purpose and had been turned over to D.N.R.R.A. to be sent to needy schools overseas. Mrs. Frank K. Allen gave a resume of an article, "Russian Women as I Saw Them," written by Mrs. Lafall Dickinson, national president.
The parliamentarian, Mrs. Henry D. Johnson, gave a five minute talk after which the meeting closed with the repeating of the Collect.
The hostess served refreshments in the social hour.
Literary Club
Featuring the Literary Club program, Wednesday afternoon, was an interesting and enlightening talk on Youth Conservation by Mrs. A. B. Moore.
The speaker stated that the problems of youth are in truth the problems of life, and that for a happy, wholesome life it is essential that young people have good home, church and school influences. She also stressed the necessity of providing them with a safe place in which to live and to attend school, and a safe place in which to play and to work.
In conclusion, Mrs. Moore made an appeal to adults to stir in the heart of youth an awareness of appreciation and a sense of belonging, and warned against their having an unbalanced view of life in relation to sciences, industry and politics.
The Club met in the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, who acted as hostess in the absence of Mrs. J. W. Joyner. The Holden home was decorated with early spring bloom.
Following adjournment, frozen macaroni and salad, sandwiches, pickles and coffee were served.
Book and Bridge Club
Mrs. R. T. Williams charmingly entertained her bridge club, Friday evening, at her home. Mrs. V. B. Williams acted as hostess and presided over the meeting and tea served with refreshments, which were served prior to the game.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Brownan, of Texas City, Tex., and Oglethorpe, Ga., announce the marriage of their daughter, Jeannette Rodgers, to Carl L. Ivey, Jr., Thursday, February 13, in Selma with Rev. W. H. F. Ivey, grandfather of the bridegroom officiating.
Mr. and Mrs. Ivey are at present making their home with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ivey, Sr., at 418 East Wilson street, Farmville.
Farville Home Demonstration Club
Mrs. J. R. Lewis presided at the club meeting, Thursday afternoon, opening with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" followed by the Collect. Reports from the treasurer and several committees were given after which Mrs. Fred T. Langford, home agent, interestingly based her program on the subject, "Water for Better Health."
Carrying out the club's plan to study a foreign country each month in order to promote better understanding between the nations, Mrs. B. R. Fields gave a short talk on "Russia." Mrs. J. R. Lewis reviewed the book, "Claudia," by Rose Frank. A Valentine contest was won by Mrs. J. L. Nauney.
The hostesses, Mrs. Richard Tugwell and Mrs. J. L. Nanney, served a congenial salad and individual ice cakes decorated in the Valentine motif followed by hot coffee.
At The Rotary Club
Carl Blackwood, as program leader at the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening, had arranged for three minute talks on the future of the Church and the present trend and future prospects in the business world, as viewed by various local representatives. These included George Davis, who talked on the Church; T. Eli Joyner, Jr., the furniture business; Lynn Eason, automobile; Levi Walston, banking; labor; Paul Ewell; income tax and taxation in general; Manly Liles; the advisability of establishing a medical school at Chapel Hill; Dr. Chas. E. Fitzgerald; college basketball in N. C.; James Monk. The judges, John Lewis, Irvin Morgan and the Rev. E. S. Coates found it impossible to pick the winner in the speaking contest, and so prizes were given to all participants.
Charles Hotchkiss and Graydon Liles, of Durham, were special guests at this time.
An announcement was made relative to the benefit Kiwanis-Rotary basketball game, to be held February 28, in the school gym.
FARMERS ENJOY A SUPPER AND FILM
Two hundred farmers of this area enjoyed a barbecue supper and the showing of interesting films at the Country Club, Wednesday evening, by invitation of the Farmville Implement Co., and the Texas Company, joint hosts at the event, which was presided over by Frank K. Allen, as master of ceremonies.
Films included the Army-Navy game, the 1946 World Series baseball and one shown in connection with the lubrication and care of farm implements.
A number of representatives of the Texas Company throughout this section were in attendance.

Miss Nancy Newsom Weds J. H. Darden, Jr.

Durham.—Miss Nancy Newsom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Eugene Newsom of 1542 Hermitage Court, became the bride of James Henry Darden, Jr., son of Mrs. James Henry Darden and the late Mrs. Darden of Farmville, Saturday at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at Trinity Methodist Church.
The Rev. D. D. Holt, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Clarence B. Haden, pastor of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony in a setting of fern, baskets of white flowers, and burning white candles in candelabra.
Proceeding the ceremony a program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Bert Cunningham, organist, who played "I Love Thee" by Gregg, "Serenade" by Schubert and "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod. Ben C. Thaxton, soloist, sang, "Because by d'Hardelot," "Calm as the Night" by Bohm and "O Perfect Love" by Burlingame.
The bride was escorted by her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of ivory satin with brocaded wedding bells. A short afternoon veil of illusion fell from a coronet edged with bugle beads. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, bouvardia, and white orchids.
Matron of Honor
Mrs. Everett L. Bagg, Jr., of Durham was matron of honor and only attendant for her sister. She wore a dress of ice blue crepe and carried a bouquet of red roses.
John C. Darden, of Farmville, acted as best man for his brother. Ushers were Guy Mitchell of Durham, Al Whitaker of Kinston, James L. Newsom and Stewart Alexander, Jr., of Durham.
Mrs. Newsom chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of brown crepe trimmed with bronze beaded net. Her corsage was of brown spray orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore a black crepe dress trimmed with shell pink lace, with which she used a corsage of orchids.
Reception
Immediately following the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Everett L. Bagg, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. James L. Newsom entertained at the Forest Hills Club for the bride and bridegroom, a few close friends, members of the two families and out-of-town guests.
After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Darden left for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will be at home in Farmville. The bride wore for travel, an aqua wool dress and jacket ensemble with black accessories and the white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.
Mrs. Darden graduated from Durham High School, and took a secretarial course afterwards. For the past several years she has been a medical secretary in Durham. Mr. Darden attended Darlington School, Rome, Ga., and the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. During the war he was a major in the United States Army Air Corps, serving in the China-India Theatre.
Out-of-town guests included Mrs. John C. Darden, Mrs. J. W. Parker, M. L. Eason, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Darden and Miss Adelaide Darden, all of Farmville; Miss Sara McDearman of Memphis, Tenn.; Al Whitaker, Miss Neva Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Foster, Courtney Mitchell, Jr., all of Kinston; Miss Virginia Poy of Raleigh; Dr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson of Creedmoor; Edgar Long, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Long, Jr., J. A. Long, Sr., and Mrs. R. J. Teague, all of Keshoro; Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Richard J. Reid, Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Umstead and Mr. and Mrs. Frank...

VALENTINE PARTY

Mrs. Cherry Easley graciously entertained the members of the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship, of which she is counsellor, and special guests, at a lovely Valentine party, Friday evening.
Each person introduced himself by giving his name, his hobby and his highest ambition. Heart Bingo was played with Miss Peggy Burgess and Carl Creech winning the prizes. A Bible baseball quiz concluded the entertainment.
Mrs. Easley was assisted in serving gelatine in heart molds and cookies by her daughter, Miss Jen.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Nan Martin Williams, attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Williams, celebrated her eighth birthday Monday afternoon, with a party at which the Brownies, Dottie Jones and Mrs. George Fary, Brownies leader, were guests.
Upon arrival, the guests were invited into the dining room which was attractive with Valentine decorations. Mrs. Fary passed punch and brownies and called nuts were served. Each guest was given a Valentine basket containing candy and a bracelet as a favor.
Home movies were shown after which the hostess passed her gifts. There were 15 guests.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to friends for their many acts of kindness and help during my recent illness.
