CLUBS and PARTIES

Mrs. McCullum Honored
Mrs. Bert McCullum, of Louisville, Ky., houseguest of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Joyner, was honor guest at a lovely dinner party given by Mrs. D. R. Morgan, Friday evening. Lovely arrangements of jonquils and Japanese quince were used in decorating.

A barbecued chicken dinner was served to Mrs. McCullum, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Joyner, Mr. and Mrs. Lath Morris, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Willis, Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Gilchrist, Miss Anna L. Jones, Miss Marjorie Freeman, Miss Mariah Thompson and W. H. Causey, Jr.

Junior Woman's Club
Mrs. W. Jesse Moye, who conducted a training school for new members at the Junior Woman's Club, Tuesday evening, was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Allen Darden. The leader traced the history of the federation of Women's Club from their beginning in 1890 and explained something of the way in which the Federation is organized.

Mrs. J. T. Nolen presided over the meeting and led in saying the Pledge. The members upon hearing about two needy families whose needs were brought to their attention by the chairman of welfare, Mrs. Sam Lewis, voted to provide for one family, after more investigation by Mrs. Lewis, as a project this year in place of the Tiny Tots, Playground project.

As another phase of their work, the club voted to send two gifts to the Jackson Training School. Mrs. Curtis Flanagan made a report on material from the North Carolina Clubwoman. The hostesses, Mrs. W. H. Duke, in whose home the meeting was held, and Miss Margaret Smith served a congealed salad, nuts, saltines and coffee in the social hour. Greenery was effectively used in decorating.

Literary Club
Mrs. A. B. Moore was a gracious hostess to the Literary Club at her country home, Wednesday afternoon. Golden daffodils made a lovely spring setting for the meeting. Miss Elizabeth Davis presided over the business session.

Miss Annie Perkins, who presented the program in the absence of Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Sr., used "The Lincoln Reader" by Paul M. Angle as the basis for the review of the statesman, Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Angle, who knew Mr. Lincoln from all sides, having as associates in his research 66 able writers, blends his material into a fine biography.

In the absence of Mrs. W. P. Eastley, Miss Perkins also conducted the Time's news quiz. Chicken salad, cran, potato chips, pickles, sandwiches, date bars and coffee were served in the social hour to the members and the following guests: Mrs. L. E. Turnage, Sr., Mrs. L. E. Turnage, Jr., Mrs. H. D. Moye, Mrs. G. M. Holden, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. E. W. Holmes and Mrs. Louise D. Harris.

Contract Club
Contract Club members and special guests, Mrs. Bert McCullum, of Louisville, Ky., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Joyner, and Mrs. W. M. Willis, enjoyed an afternoon of bridge with Mrs. Lath Morris, as hostess, Tuesday.

Prior to the games heavenly hash, salted nuts and coffee were served. Mrs. W. R. Willis won a double deck of Congress cards as high score and Mrs. McCullum received the guest high, dusting powder.

Jonquils were used in artistic arrangements.

Book and Bridge
Mrs. Sam Lewis was a guest of Mrs. Frank K. Allen, Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Allen delightfully entertained her bridge club.

Fruit salad, cheese crackers, pickles, stuffed dates, candy and coffee were enjoyed. Coca-colas were passed during play.

Mrs. R. T. Williams was the high scorer for the afternoon and also won the book award for the high score of the month. Mrs. Walter B. Jones, who was second high for the month, was given a book.

Jonquils were used in attractive arrangements in the Allen home.

Dance Club
Mr. and Mrs. Carroll D. Oglesby, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Allen M. Harris were hosts to the Dance Club Saturday evening, at the Country Club.

Tables were arranged cabaret style around the dance floor and the St. Patrick's Day motif was attractively carried out in the appointments of table covers and Shamrock green candles, which were used extensively and very effectively, on the tables and mantels. The mantels, also, bore large Shamrock cut outs and artistic arrangements of magnolia leaves.

Vienna sausages and hors d'oeuvres, of potato puffs, cheese, ribs, cream cheese spread, pickles and olives, were served from the refreshment table and were uniquely arranged on frostless trays and grapefruit holders. Fruit juice and nuts were served on the individual tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Darden, new members, were welcomed into the club, and out-of-town guests enjoying the delightful entertainment of the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clifton and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clifton, of Kinston; Mrs. Dilly Thompson and Miss Teeny Joyner, of Rocky Mount; Mrs. Alan Gawthrop, of Jacksonville; Miss Natalie Vought, of Raleigh; and Miss Britt Davis, of Goldsboro.

P. T. A.
A girl's chorus rendered "Our God Our Help in Ages Past" as the opening song at the regular monthly meeting, Thursday afternoon. President George W. Davis presided. The room roll call, conducted by Miss Anne L. Jones and Miss Marjorie Freeman, was won by Mrs. Berkeley Rutledge's first grade.

Rev. Z. B. T. Cox gave the devotional reading from Matthew 7:24-30, the verses fitting in appropriately with the fiftieth anniversary of P. T. A.

Objects of the P. T. A. were discussed by Mrs. George W. Davis as a part of the Founder's Day program. Mrs. J. M. Hobgood read a message from the Founder's Day chairman and Mrs. Z. B. T. Cox made a talk about National P. T. A. Miss Annie Perkins gave a history of the local organization which she had compiled.

A committee composed of Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Mrs. R. LeRoy Rollins and Miss Annie Perkins was appointed to select a suitable gift for the first president of the local P. T. A., Mrs. J. W. Lovelace, of High Point.

In the business session Mrs. L. P. Thomas gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., Mrs. Sam Lewis and J. H. Moore were appointed as a nominating committee.

Seven Pines H. D. Club

The Seven Pines Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, February 25, with Mrs. Jasper Morgan as hostess. The president, Mrs. Clifton Ellis, presided. Nineteen members were present including Mrs. Horace Corbett who joined the club at this meeting.

Mrs. Ferrell Morgan gave an interesting talk on Russia and Mrs. Jasper Morgan made a book report on "Starting of the White House."

Miss Verna Lowery spoke about "Water in Relation to Health," particularly emphasizing good water systems and bathrooms. The hostess served cake, ice cream, salted nuts and an iced drink following the recreation period.

Mrs. Elvin Mills of the Ballards Club and Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker were special guests.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Addison Sprague, of 811 Greenwood Drive, Durham, announce the birth of a son, James Addison, at New Hope hospital, Erwin. Mrs. Sprague is the former Miss Virginia Spell, of Farmville.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Windham, of Fountain, Route 1, announce the birth of a daughter, Edna Upha, Tuesday, March 4 at the Williams-Winstead Clinic. Mrs. Windham is the former Miss Marjorie Duff, of Fountain.

NOTE OF THANKS

I wish to express my deepest appreciation for the many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy shown me during the recent passing of my brother.

Mrs. J. R. Shearin.

Activities of Local Church Organizations

Baptist
Mrs. C. L. Beaman and Miss Mamie Davis made talks on Russia at the Woman's Missionary Society, Monday afternoon. The presiding officer was the president, Mrs. J. E. Shearin, and Mrs. Dameron Fields was the devotional leader, using Psalms 22:26-31 as the basis for her topic, "God's Pledge to His Suffering Servant."

"I Need Thee Every Hour" was sung at the beginning of the meeting. After adjournment Mrs. J. M. Wholes, Mrs. E. W. Holmes, Mrs. George W. Davis, Mrs. R. T. Williams, Mrs. C. A. Tyson, Mrs. J. E. Shearin, Mrs. W. H. Fisher and Mrs. W. J. Rasberry, hostesses for the quarter, passed sandwiches and Russian tea.

Mrs. Florence Phillips was a visitor.

The young people's auxiliaries were guests at the showing of films on Baptist home mission work, which was a continuation of the Week of Prayer Services for Home Missions, Thursday afternoon, in the church. The service this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock will conclude this special week.

The Annie Perkins Circle met in the home of Mrs. George W. Davis with Mrs. C. L. Langley as joint hostesses, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. W. Holmes and Mrs. R. L. Manning gave the program study on Russia and Mrs. Paul Vaughan led the meditation. A report was heard about the mission study class held recently. Miss Annie Perkins, chairman, presided. Stuffed angel cake, nuts and coffee were served in the social period.

Christian

Mrs. Ted Albritton presided over the Woman's Council, which opened with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," in the church, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Flave Darden gave the devotional and Mrs. Aaron Turnage spoke about "Young Doctor and Big Woman."

After the adjournment by the benediction, Group 1 served refreshments, which consisted of sandwiches, cookies and Russian tea.

Episcopal

Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss in whose home the Lenten Study Class met Monday afternoon, introduced the study of the book, "Doctrine of the Holy," by reviewing the section entitled "Lord and Giver of Life."

Mrs. John D. Dixon reported that a donation of sheets had been mailed to the Good Shepherd hospital. Members were urged to bring their gifts and clothing for the over seas' box. Miss Helen Smith presided and gave the devotional.

Greenery and potted plants were used as decorations in the Hotchkiss home.

Methodist

Mrs. Melton Allen used the topic, "Thou Art Our Father," as her meditation at the Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting, Monday afternoon, in the church. The program, "Children and their Church," was developed by Mrs. J. H. Harris. A solo, "It Fell upon a Summer Day," was rendered by Mrs. John C. Parker.

"Lord Speak to Me" was sung during the program. Mrs. E. R. Clegg adjourned the meeting with prayer.

The Workers' Council met Monday evening with Mrs. J. M. Carraway as hostess in the home of Mrs. S. G. Gardner.

T. E. Joyner, Jr., superintendent of the Sunday School, presided. Mrs. Allen Darden gave the devotional using "Stewardship" as her subject based on the Scripture, I Corinthians 4:1-4. Reports from each department were given by the heads. It was decided at this time to revise class rolls and, hereafter, to have an active roll and an associate roll for visitors who come at regular intervals.

Plans were made for a program to be given Easter Sunday.

Coming to the attention of the council members was the fact that two classes now bear the name of the Lovelace Class. A decision was made that Mrs. Clegg's class retain the name and that the class taught by Miss Anna Jones select a new name, preferably the Young People's Class.

In the social period coconut cake and coffee were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Gardner and Miss Bettie Joyner.

Presbyterian

Mrs. C. F. Baucom was guest speaker at Circle 1, Monday afternoon, using as her topic, "Stewards for the House of Life and Peace."

Mrs. George B. Moore presided and Mrs. Baucom opened the meeting with prayer.

The devotional was given by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, who adjourned the meeting with a prayer.

Russian tea, sandwiches and cakes were served in the social hour by the hostesses, Mrs. J. M. Mewborn. Eight members were present.
