CLUBS and PARTIES!

SUPPER CLUB

Mrs. and Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Williams entertained the Supper Club members and additional friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Monk, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Eason, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Donnell, Jr., at the Country Club, Saturday evening.

Mantels and tables bore arrangements of shamrocks, jonquils and green and yellow tapers.

A supper consisting of rock stew, slaw, tomatoes, pickles, olives, corn sticks and individual lemon pies was served after which dancing was enjoyed.

CONTRACT CLUB

Mrs. W. S. Royster was hostess to the Contract Club, Tuesday afternoon, having as special guests, Mrs. Pat Ruffin and Mrs. W. M. Willis. Jonquils and hawthorn were used as a setting for the two tables.

Mrs. Mark E. Dixon was awarded the high score prize, canape trays, and the low bridge cards, went to Mrs. Ruffin.

Devils food cake and coffee were served.

MRS. BURKE HONORS SISTERS AT BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Billy Burke entertained Thursday afternoon at the Farmville Country Club with seven tables of bridge, honoring her sisters, Mrs. Maurice Julian, of Chapel Hill, who before her marriage in January was Miss Mary Brady, of Bennett and Greensboro, and Mrs. Edgar S. Ormont, of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Burke, wearing green with a corsage of Talisman roses, received informally with her guests of honor, Mrs. Julian, who wore aqua with a corsage of gardenias, the gift of Mr. Julian, as were the corsages worn by Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Ormont, who wore brown and gold with a corsage of Talisman roses.

The club was artistically decorated with native long leaf pine, holly, ivy and wild magnolia leaves. The mantles were especially attractive—a marriage scene, flanked by white candles and the other having a center wedding ring motif of ivy and a white bell, tied with tulle, which was also flanked by white candles. Both mantles were banked with greenery.

The brides' table was covered with an imported linen cloth. White trellises covered with ivy were used on either side of the table. White carnations, snapdragons and ferns were arranged in a crystal bowl at one end of the table and the crystal punch bowl, surrounded by ivy and long leaf pine, was used at the other. The punch bowl, a family heirloom, has been used at all bridal parties in the Brady family.

Punch was served during the afternoon by Mrs. Roderick Harris and Mrs. W. C. Garner. The card tables were spread with embroidered cloths and bridal lace, snowball cakes and toasted almonds were passed prior to the games.

During the three progressions of contract that followed, Mrs. Pat Ruffin scored high and received a blue hosiery flower basket, and Mrs. Robert T. Monk, with low score, received an antique green vase. Mrs. Julian was presented a tall silver canteen by her nephew, Billy Baskley, Jr., and Mrs. Ormont received a silver bon bon spoon. Mrs. R. T. Williams, whose wedding anniversary occurred on that date was remembered with a miniature cap and saucer in a rock.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

Miss Gaye Pippin celebrated her sixteenth birthday, Wednesday evening with a fish supper. The table was decorated with candles and centered with a pink and white birthday cake. Ice cream and the cake were served after the main course.

Dancing, music and games were enjoyed from 8 until 10 o'clock.

Guests were Misses Fannie Quinn, Dot and Ray Hathaway, Connie Rollins, Peggy Burgess, Dot Lucas and Carol Pippin.

Gordon Elghman Lee gave a wondrous roast Saturday afternoon for 18 of his friends to celebrate his ninth birthday, which occurred Monday, March 17.

Waffles and drinks were enjoyed after which the birthday cake decorated in green and white, carrying out the St. Patrick's colors, was cut and served. Entertainment consisted of playing games.

If you have escaped an automobile accident thus far in 1947 make it your prime business to keep up the good record.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Mrs. Lucy Grimm or Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mac Gimmmer, of Tarboro, to Louis Tucker Pierce, Jr., son of Mrs. L. T. Pierce, of Farmville, and the late Mr. Pierce, was solemnized on Friday, March 21, at noon, in Tarboro, in the parsonage of the Methodist Church, with the pastor, Rev. M. W. Manna officiating.

The bride wore a brown spring suit of gabardine with an off-tee hat in the heavenly blue shade and in the spring mode. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses.
