Activities Of Local Church Organizations

Christian
 Groups One, Three and Four of the Woman's Council met Monday evening. Mrs. Fred Smith was Group One's hostess. Mrs. Lee Corbett presented the devotional and the Hidden Answers taken from the magazine, "The World Call" were led by Mrs. Aaron Turnage. Thirteen members attended.

Mrs. Joe H. Moore was hostess to Group Three, with Mrs. Arch Flanagan, leader, presiding and conducting the Hidden Answers. Mrs. L. E. Turnage was in charge of the devotional. After dismissal by the benediction, the hostess served nut sundaes to the nine present.

Mrs. Tod Albritton presided in the absence of Mrs. E. L. Russell at the meeting of Group Four, held in the home of Mrs. E. V. Fisher. Mrs. Howard Mays had the devotional and Mrs. Albritton led the Hidden Answers. Individual lemon pies, cheese straws, Easter candles and coffee were served to 17 members.

Episcopal
 The last in a series of Lenten Study Classes was held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. H. Darden, Sr., with Mrs. R. S. Scott presiding in the absence of the president, Miss Helen Smith. The devotional, given by Mrs. Scott, was taken from a book, "Forward Day by Day."

Mrs. Darden concluded the study of the book, "Doctrine of the Holy," by discussing things to do in the church.

The leader adjourned the meeting with prayer.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED
 Honoring Miss Frances Bivins Smith, April bride-elect, Miss Mary Thorne Tyson was a charming hostess for three tables of bridge, Saturday afternoon, in her home which was lovely with arrangements of jonquils and other spring flowers.

Upon arrival the honoree was presented a corsage of red roses. Chocolate tarts and coffee were served prior to play. Each plate bore a pansy. During the games coca colas and nuts were enjoyed.

A pink bowl was given to Mrs. Allen Darden, high scorer, and the low prize, a nest of ash trays, went to Miss Dorothy Smith.

The hostess remembered Miss Smith with china in her pattern and a handmade linen tea towel.

Guests included the honoree, Miss Dorothy Smith, of Wilson, Mrs. Darden, Mrs. Allen M. Harris, Miss Mary Ann Townsend, Miss Anne Jones, Mrs. Joseph D. Joyner, Mrs. Allen Drake, Mrs. Alfred H. Lewis, Mrs. Robert P. Wheless, Mrs. Emerson Smith and Mrs. Carol Modlin.

MERRY MATRONS
 Mrs. Marvin Jones was a gracious hostess to the Merry Matrons and special guests, Mrs. R. O. Lang, Sr., Mrs. Cherry Easley and Miss Rosemary Holmes, Tuesday afternoon, March 25.

After the business session, which was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, in the absence of Mrs. G. M. Holden, president, Mrs. Cherry Easley was presented by the program leader, Mrs. R. A. Fields. Mrs. Easley gave a review of the life of Carrie Jacobs Bond, noted composer, who died recently. At the close of the talk, Miss Rosemary Holmes sang two of Mrs. Bond's songs, "A Perfect Day," and "Just A-wearying for You." Miss Holmes also delighted the group by singing "Sunset" by Dudley Buck.

A chicken salad plate followed by individual coconut cakes and black coffee was served in the social hour.

The Jones home was attractively decorated with spring flowers.

MISS MORRIS ENTERTAINS
 Miss Betsy Morris entertained the cast of the senior play and the members of the first "string" of the basketball team, Friday evening. Spring flowers were used in pleasing arrangements.

Punch, ice cream and cake, and nuts were enjoyed.

Dancing was the chief entertainment.

Half the truth is often more dangerous than none.

DANCE CLUB
 The Dance Club met Saturday evening at the Country Club with Mr. and Mrs. Roland Sauls, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carraway and Charlie Esberry as hosts.

The mantles of the club were made attractive by the use of large pink bunnies with yellow satin neck bows, tapers in pastel shades and large colored egg cutouts, used in nests of golden excelsior. The walls of the club also were decorated with the bunny and egg cutouts.

The individual tables were covered alternately with ruffled covers of bright pink and spring green, and were centered with arrangements of daffodils and pink candles.

The refreshment table bore a pink cover and was centered with an arrangement of daffodils and tapers. Deviled eggs, cheese straws, bird nest cookies and sandwiches of cream cheese and olive and lettuce and bacon were served from wicker trays. A variety of pickles, crax and fruit juices were passed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Drake were welcomed into the club as new members.

Out-of-town guests enjoying the pleasures of the evening were: Miss Margaret Fountain, of Rocky Mount, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Clifton, of Kinston, and Dawson Jefferson, of Fountain.

LITERARY CLUB
 Mrs. J. W. Parker graciously entertained the Literary Club on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Church street. Arrangements of spring flowers were used in artistic decoration.

After a brief business period the meeting was turned over to Mrs. J. I. Morgan, program chairman for the afternoon. Mrs. Morgan gave a most interesting and enlightening talk on Russia, its geographical setting in the universe, its populace, its present rebuilding program, its political attitudes under Communist regime, and briefly remarked on the events leading to the Russian Revolution and the rise of the Communist Party.

Following adjournment the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Darden, Mrs. W. M. Willis and Mrs. J. L. Morgan, served frozen salad, ritz and coffee. Nuts and pickles were passed. Miss Frances Bivins Smith, bride-elect, was a special guest and was presented with silver in her chosen pattern by the hostess.

It's never too late, if you are alive, to be careful on the highways.
