Rector-Smith Vows Are Spoken Here

Miss Frances Rivins Smith, of Washington, D. C., became the bride of Ralph Louis Rector, also of Washington, in an afternoon ceremony performed in the Farmville Methodist Church, Saturday, at four-thirty o'clock. Rev. W. A. Wilson, of Durham, grandfather of the bride, assisted by Rev. E. E. Clegg, the bride's pastor, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Fern floor baskets of white flowers and candelabras which were lighted by the ushers prior to the ceremony, made a lovely setting for the vows.

The wedding music was presented by Mrs. M. V. Jones, organist, and by Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt and Miss Rosemary Holmes, soloists. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Jones played Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni, My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice by Saint-Saens, Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes, Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms, and Serenade by Schubert. During the ceremony she played To a Wild Rose by MacDowell, and the traditional wedding marches were used. Mrs. Bobbitt and Miss Holmes sang The Sweetest Story Ever Told by Stultz as a duet; Because by D'Hardelot was sung by Miss Holmes. Following the benediction the duet, O Perfect Love by Stairs was rendered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and embroidered with seed pearls. The skirt was made princess style and extended into a train. The long sleeves were pointed. Her full length veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white camellias.

Miss Dorothy Smith, attending her sister as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink marquisette and carried an arm bouquet of carnations, sweet peas and gladioli.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Richard L. Welsh, of Baltimore, Md., wore a dress of blue marquisette, identical to that of the maid of honor. Her arm bouquet was of snapdragons and gladioli.

Richard W. Carroll, of Alexandria, Va., was best man. The ushers were Richard L. Welsh, of Baltimore, Md., L. L. Kinkel, of Mt. Ranier, Md., Joseph Joyner and Bernice Turnage, of Farmville.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, was attired in a dress of sheer black crepe, with a yoke embroidered in pink beaded roses. She used pink accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Susan Walker, of Beltsville, Md., aunt of the bridegroom, wore a black suit with black and white accessories, and at her shoulder was a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Rector, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Smith, of Farmville, graduated from Farmville high school. After her graduation from Duke university in 1942, she taught in the Walden schools for two years. For the past three years she has been employed by the Department of Justice in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Rector is the son of Rozier R. Rector, of Washington, D. C., and is a graduate of the University of Maryland. He served with the Navy in the Pacific for five years with the rating of Lieutenant, junior grade. Since returning to the States he has been employed as an engineer by the District of Columbia.

After the ceremony the couple left for a Southern wedding trip. Upon their return they will be at home in Kensington, Md. For traveling the bride changed to a suit of steel gray gabardine with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage of white camellias was lifted from her bridal bouquet. She wore a black straw hat trimmed with ribbon and veiling.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Susan Walker, Joseph Rector, Beltsville, Md.; Miss Lena Rector, Arlington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Kinkel, Mt. Ranier, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Carroll, Alexandria, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Patchall, Wilson; Miss Rachel Brown, Bethel; Rev. W. A. Wilson, Miss Dorothy Wilson, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Miss Becky Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, Jr., R. H. Wilson, Sr., R. H. Wilson, Jr., of Durham; Mr. and Mrs. Royal Stephenson, Frank Marks, Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Powell, Reidsville; Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Welsh, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. J. L. Rumley, Greenville.

Luncheon

The parents of the bride entertained at a three course luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the D. A. R. Chapterhouse, which was beautifully decorated with spring flowers. The cocktail table was covered with a cloth given to the bride's grandfather by the members of his Japanese congregation on his sixtieth birthday.

The bride's table, covered with an imported cloth, bore a centerpiece of white flowers. Places were laid for 40. Mrs. Howard Harris, Mrs. Carol Modlin, Miss Mary Thorne Tyson and Miss Anna Jones assisted in serving. In addition to the out-of-town guests and bridal party, luncheon guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Jones, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt, Miss Rosemary Holmes, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Clegg, Mrs. E. E. Joyner, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Arch Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Flanagan, and Joseph Joyner.

Coffee hour

Mrs. Richard L. Welsh, of Baltimore, Md., entertained at a coffee hour at the home of her mother, Mrs.

S. G. Gardner, Friday at noon, honoring Mrs. Rector. Upon arrival the hostess was presented a corsage of white flowers.

The dining table was covered with a white hand-crocheted cloth and was centered with an arrangement of white carnations and eucalyptus in a crystal bowl. Gladioli and potted plants were used in the living room.

Guests were seated and plates on which were chicken salad, sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, carrot and celery curls and coffee were served. Bridal cakes were passed.

There were approximately 20 guests.

Mrs. Allen Darden, Mrs. Archie Speight, Mrs. George Wilkerson, of Greenville, and Miss Elizabeth Lang, of Farmville and Roanoke Rapids, assisted in serving.

The honor guest was remembered by the hostess with silver in her pattern.

Buffet Supper

Miss Dorothy Smith entertained at a buffet supper at her home Friday evening preceding the rehearsal for the bridal couple and the out-of-town guests. The dining table was spread with a cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white flowers and candles.

Coffee was poured by Mrs. E. S. Powell, of Reidsville.

Cake Cutting

Mrs. Arch and Mrs. Curtis Flanagan honored the bridal party and out-of-town guests at a cake cutting following the rehearsal, Friday evening, at the home of the former.

Carrying out the traditional colors of green and white, snapdragons, gladioli, carnations, stocks and sweet peas were used throughout the reception rooms. The dining room table bore a white hand crocheted cloth and an arrangement of candles and flowers. Mrs. Royal Stephenson, of Raleigh, aunt of the bride, was seated at one end of the table and served iced cream. The cake was served from the other end by Miss Dorothy Wilson, of Durham, another aunt of the bride. Misses Elvira Tyson, Gayle, Sue and Clara Rellie Flanagan and Becky Wilson, of Durham, assisted in serving nuts and mints.

Several showers and dinner parties were given for the bride in Washington, D. C., before her arrival here for the wedding.

HOME CEREMONY UNITES MISS WILKERSON, MR. TICKNER

In an impressive ceremony Saturday at 12:30 o'clock, Miss Hazel Wilkerson, of Newport News, Va., formerly of Farmville, was united in marriage with Frank Edward Tickner, of Newport News, at "Rondell," the home of the bride's brother, John Erwin Wilkerson, near Farmville.

Rev. Key W. Taylor, pastor of the Walstonburg Methodist Church, officiated. The vows were spoken in the living room before an improvised altar of tall baskets of yellow snapdragons and lighted yellow candles.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck, pianist, and Miss Betty Rose Wilkerson, niece of the bride, soloist. Mrs. Roebuck played A Love Dream by Liszt; and Love's Greeting by Elgar. Schubert's Serenade was softly played during the ceremony. Miss Wilkerson sang I Love Thee by Greig.

The bride and groom entered together unattended. The bride wore a suit of light beige with black accessories, a beige hat and at her shoulder, a purple orchid. Her only ornament was an heirloom brooch, which belonged to her maternal grandmother.

Mrs. Wilkerson, mother of the bride, wore a black dress and her corsage was of red roses.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. John Erwin Wilkerson entertained at a luncheon for the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. Lee Wilkerson, Newport News, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilkerson and children, of Charlotte.

After a trip to unannounced points, the couple will be at home in Newport News.

BROWNIES

During the business session, presided over by Nan Williams, Wednesday, the girls decided to have a rummage sale, Saturday, April 19, in order to raise funds for the opera.
