

CARE OFFERS 9 NEW WAYS TO AID EUROPE'S VICTIMS

Nine new ways in which Americans may help to save European lives threatened by starvation, cold and disease in the coming winter have been announced by CARE, non-profit, government-approved service through which 70,000,000 pounds of food already have been sent to 15 European countries.

This expanded program, supplementing CARE'S regular food, cotton, woolen and blanket parcel service, was devised in response to authentic reports that next winter will bring even greater hardships abroad than the disastrous winter of 1946-47, according to Paul Comly-French, CARE executive director.

packages, three (layette, infant food and baby food) are directed to meeting one of the chief concerns of most Americans: to save the many thousands of children who will surely die unless real help reaches Europe without delay.

Already infant mortality abroad is far above the prewar level. In some parts of Poland, reports show, one of every three children born in 1946 died before its first birthday. Mr. French estimated that if timely and adequate aid had been sent, half a million infant lives could have been saved. In Berlin, the prospects are that half of the babies born will die before they are a year old and of the survivors three-quarters will suffer from tuberculosis.

The layette package contains articles almost indispensable to the proper care of an infant—milk bottles, powder, cotton, castile soap, diapers, safety pins, receiving blankets, kimono, medications and other vital items. The infant food package (birth to 6 months) provides either a complete or a supplementary diet and will last from 4 weeks to 3 months, depending on health and weight of the child. It consists of 10 pounds milk powder; 18 ounces cereal; 2 pounds granulated sugar; 2 bottles vitamins; soap and can opener.

The baby food parcel (6 months to a year) holds 8 pounds milk powder; 18 ounces cereal; 1 pound sugar; 30 cans strained baby foods; 2 bottles vitamins; soap and can opener. This package will last from 30 to 60 days. All three of the packages may be ordered from CARE, 50 Broad Street, New York 4, at $10 each. Delivery is guaranteed in Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Finland, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Netherlands, Poland and Rumania.

For the first time since its inception, CARE is now offering packages containing a single item. One is the 25-pound parcel of flour, available at $4, and the 10-pound package of lard, also $4. These may be sent to all countries served by CARE except Eire and Finland, where they are not major needs, according to the respective governments.

"We have taken this action in response to mounting requests of people all over this country who want to help millions of European families now confronted with a life-or-death battle for bread," Mr. French said. The flour will enable recipients in countries served by CARE to prepare in their own homes the bread that has all but vanished from the war-devastated lands, and the lard will fill an equally desperate need for fats.

Two other packages now offered by CARE are keyed to definite needs in Eire and Great Britain. They contain foods so severely scarce in both countries that most of the people have not tasted them for years. This is particularly true of fruit juices, and each of the special parcels designed for Eire and Britain includes two 18-ounce cans of this vital product. Other supplies of equal importance are included. Orders are now being taken for these packages at $10 each.

The remaining two of CARE'S nine steps in its expansion program may well be the answer to the dreams of countless housewives overseas, for one of these packages will bring to their fresh linens such as sheets and pillow cases and other household necessities, and the other, 2 1/2 pounds of knitting wool and needles with which they will be able to produce gloves, scarves, sweaters and other garments for protection against the winter's cold. They may be sent to friends, relatives and designated groups in all countries served by CARE (except Eire) at $10 each.

A storekeeper was greeted by a neighbor who consoled him on the loss of his merchandise during a fire. "Did you lose much?" asked the friend. "Not too much," came the laconic reply. "I'd just marked down my stock 25%."

State Fair Will Admit School Children Free

All North Carolina school children this year again will have the opportunity to visit the State Fair without charge. Dr. J. S. Dorton, manager of the fair, has announced.

The 1947 fair, scheduled for October 14-15, is expected to attract 250,000 visitors, Dr. Dorton said.

Friday, October 17, has been designated as Young North Carolinians' Day, and all school children will be admitted free at the main gates upon presentation of special school tickets which will be distributed throughout the State by local school superintendents.

Wake county school children will be admitted on school tickets on the opening day of the fair, Tuesday, October 14.

Premiums for winning exhibits have been raised this year to a total of nearly $25,000, a record high for the fair, and about $6,000 more than the total premiums offered last year. All prize money will be limited strictly to North Carolina producers. Premium books have been distributed.

Dr. Dorton said space reservations already on hand indicated a large number of industrial and commercial exhibits would be presented at the 1947 exposition.

A splendid entertainment program has been mapped for the fair. Dr. Dorton reported. Horse races sanctioned by the U. S. Trotting Association are scheduled for Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Jack Kochman's Calvacade of Thrills will present death-defying feats with stock cars Wednesday afternoon of fair week, and auto races are set for Saturday afternoon.

A spectacular revue and grandstand hippodrome acts, will be presented each night, and a dazzling fireworks display will end each evening's program. The grandstand entertainment will be staged by George Hamid, regarded by many as the world's leading outdoor showman. The hippodrome acts also will be presented each afternoon, interspersing the races and other features.

On the midway will be the World of Mirth shows, the same high-class carnival that has featured the fair for a number of years.

Judging in all departments will begin at 9 a. m. opening day. Vocational judging contests will start at 10 a. m., October 16, when students wearing caps of the Future Farmers of America will be admitted to the grounds without cost.

Workmen are laying a water main from the city limits near Meredith college to the fairgrounds, and improved water facilities will be available at the October fair. Heretofore, the fair has depended on deep wells for water.

The average size of the farm turkey flock has increased moderately in the South Atlantic States, but little in the South Central States. This area, however, has the largest number of farms raising turkeys.

To delay the first quarrel, newlyweds should be presented with a bag containing picture hooks, a small screwdriver, a few nails, some picture wire, a package of bandages, and a bottle of aspirin tablets.

Heavy Expenditure Seen in County For New Farm Homes Farm families in Pitt county will spend more than $2,500,000 for new housing in the next three to five years, according to a forecast released by the Tile Council of America. "As a result of high incomes during the last few years, farmers in every part of the nation are prepared to invest record amounts in new home construction and in general farm improvements," said F. B. Ortman, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee. Pointing out that the comforts and conveniences of urban living are now available to farm families, Ortman said that many new rural homes will incorporate such features as central heating, tiled bathrooms and modern kitchen facilities. Rapid electrification of rural areas in North Carolina is making possible the incorporation in new homes of many labor-saving devices and comfort-providing devices undreamed of a generation ago, according to Ortman. Rural Electrification Administration estimates disclose that more than 45 per cent of all farms in the state now receive central station electric service. Refrigerators, electric washing machines and deep freezing plants, as well as plumbing systems, will go into many new homes as a consequence. Before the war, the United Kingdom imported about two-fifths of the eggs consumed. About 60 per cent of the imports came from Denmark, the Netherlands, and Poland. We hold it to be self-evident that women adjust themselves to idleness better than men.
