PEARALL URGES FARMERS TO PLANT MORE COTTON

Thomas J. Pearsall, Nash county farmer and legislator, told the Nash-Edgecombe unit of the Carolinas Ginners Association Monday, he deplored the old saying that "farmers are the only people who can go broke every year and still stay in business." He urged the planting of more cotton.

Pearsall emphasized the need for giving careful attention to production plans for 1948 in view of the approximate 20 to 25 per cent reduction in fine-cured tobacco acreage facing Southern growers. He advised the group to consider planting more cotton and grain crops and the raising of more hogs.

EDDIE MCKENZIE vs. MARY TYSON MCKENZIE
The defendant, Mary Tyson McKenzie, will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of Pitt County, North Carolina, to secure for the plaintiff an absolute divorce from the defendant; and the said defendant will further take notice that she is required to appear at the office of the clerk of Superior Court of said County in the Courthouse at Greenville, North Carolina, within 30 days after the 18th day of October, 1947, and answer or demur to the complaint in said action, or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

"We farmers have been rather short-sighted," he said, "to put all our eggs in the tobacco basket. We must turn to more diversified farming to maintain our present standard of living."

Last year, Pearsall told the farmers and ginners, the average farmer in Nash and Edgecombe counties received about $600 per acre for his tobacco crop, but this year the figure will probably be about $480 per acre. He pointed out that the expected acreage quota for 1948 will return only $384 per acre on tobacco.

"We must plan now to resort to other cash crops," he said. "One thing we might think about is turning some of the acreage which will be idled by the tobacco quota reduction into cotton production to supplement the loss of cash that will result from the reduced tobacco acreage. If we do plant this extra acreage to cotton, we will be insuring our future, for it is possible that we will have cotton acreage control in 1949 and our wisdom in planting more cotton will give us a better history, which is the basis of such quota allotments."

Fred P. Johnson, Raleigh, vice-president of the Carolinas Ginners Association, and J. Henry Vaughn, Elm City, head of the Nash-Edgecombe unit, also spoke briefly.
