THE FUTURE

Farmers of North Carolina are wondering about the future. They are wondering what, how, where, why, who and when. They are asking:

"WHAT can we do to secure the future and prevent another depression?" Obviously, the answer to a secure future lies in a healthy economy. And a healthy national economy is based on agriculture. If there were no food to eat or fibre to clothe us, all the wealth of industry, finance and labor would amount to nothing. To secure the future of America, we must secure the future of agriculture.

"HOW can we safeguard agriculture, our basic industry?" The farmer will continue to produce enough to feed the nation and the world if he is guaranteed fair prices. He has demonstrated that. All he wants is an equal chance to share the boundless opportunity which is the heritage of every American.

"WHERE are we, failing to give the farmer an even break?" Farm incomes, facilities for education, public health, and home conveniences are below the national standard. Rural America produces more than its share of leaders, despite unequal opportunities. The biggest market for industrial goods is rural America.

"WHY haven't farmers been able to gain equality?" Because farmers, unlike most other big national groups, have never been able to unite completely to speak for themselves. Regional differences between farming areas have always hindered the cause of a totally organized agriculture.

"WHO can help the farmers get together and work for their best interests?" Several farm organizations are already trying to do this job. Sixty per cent of the nation's united farmers belong to the Farm Bureau. It is the strongest group now serving as a medium for expression of farmer-opinion. Action characterizes the history of the Farm Bureau. Like any other truly democratic group, the Farm Bureau must have many members in order to express accurately what farmers are thinking.

"WHEN can we help the Farm Bureau, which is working for us?" Right now during the North Carolina Farm Bureau campaign for 100,000 members. By supporting this drive, North Carolinians will be helping to protect our future, whether we are farmers or business-men, producers or consumers, rural or city dwellers.

THANKS "GIVING" TIME

The Thanksgiving season approaches with a reminder that the more than 800 boys and girls at Oxford Orphanage present that many opportunities to benevolent men and women desirous of making wise and loving contributions in behalf of needy children.

For 75 years the Orphanage has continuously been in the business of caring for, educating and training orphaned children. The records of the 6,000 boys and girls trained at the orphanage are impressive.

While the orphanage is wholly owned and operated by the Grand Lodge of Masons, no child is barred from its benefits because of non-Masonic lineage. Scarcely 20 per cent of the children in the orphanage today have Masonic lineage. The question is never, who was the father or mother, but what is the need of the child? That is the deciding factor, always.

Special emphasis in this year being laid on the needs for more and larger gifts at Thanksgiving. In its long list of expense requirements the orphanage has many "musts." The instruction "must" provide shelter, clothing, food, recreation, health, books, school supplies, health programs, athletic equipment, staff of trained workers, vocational training in several departments, laundry, repair and upkeep of grounds, building and equipment, experienced case work for the big family of children. All these "musts" and many others have risen spontaneously in cost and this must be adequately balanced or the children will suffer from neglect.

The orphanages of the state are adding fervor to their appeals this season. This is a matter of logic and figures. There is no way out of it. They have got to find the money.

Now, as you read this, is a fine time to make a donation.

HEBER W. WORTHINGTON

Heber William Worthington, 45, of Stantonburg died in a Kinston hospital early Tuesday morning following several weeks' illness. Funeral services were held from the Farmville Funeral Home at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Z. B. T. Cox, Christian minister of Farmville. Interment was in Hollywood cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, the former Athleen McLawhorn; six daughters, Mrs. E. R. Dixon, Farmville, Mrs. Archie Whitley, Wilson, Mary, Durham, Heber Gray, Charlotte, Janice and Margie of the home; two sons, Ben and John of the home; three grandchildren; his father, W. E. Worthington of Ayden; three brothers, Ray of Hookerton, Dixie of Snow Hill and Edgar of Ayden; six sisters, Mrs. Frank Edwards of Grifton, Mrs. Earle Hemby of Bell Arthur, Mrs. Dave Allen of Farmville, Mrs. Ed. Shirley of Ayden, Mrs. Alonza Harrow of Snow Hill and Mrs. Harvey Stone of Ayden.

GERMANY'S NEED FOR BIBLES

(Gilbert Darlington in the Bible Society Record)

In spite of everything that has been done and will be done in 1947, 5,363,000 Bibles and 1,787,112 Testaments are urgently needed in Germany now.

It is true that there are other shortages in Germany now. There is a great shortage of coal and water and food and many other things, but others are talking steps to remedy these shortages.

It is the clear responsibility of our churches and Christian people to see that a crushed and conquered Germany has a real chance, through sincere repentance, to find the path of enduring peace. The United States is helping Germany in material ways; the United States must also help Germany in spiritual ways. Those who believe that it is more blessed to give than to receive must themselves set an example that all the world can follow.

Let it not be said of a victorious America that, at the peak of her power and influence as a member of the United Nations, she did not know the things that belong unto her own peace. Only on the firm foundation of the Word of God can mankind hope to build a civilization based on justice and good will.

BIRD CLUB

Chandler Cox read an article about the chipping sparrow Saturday morning at the Bird Club. This sparrow is one of the best known and most loved of door-yard birds. Its confidence in the friendliness of man seems to be no less than that of the robin and bluebird. It is five and one-half inches long, with upper parts being gray, rust, and black, streaked. Under parts are gray. The bill is small. The wings are long and pointed and the tail is shorter than the wing and deeply forked.

The forehead is black divided by a center streak of white; a broad stripe of white or very pale gray over eye is margined below by a conspicuous streak of white. Winter adults have the colors duller, the markings less sharply contrasted, the gray less
