MRS. CHERRY EASLEY SPEAKS ON YOUTH PROBLEMS

Problems of youth were discussed by Mrs. Cherry Easley Friday afternoon at the Woman's club November meeting. Her talk was divided into three parts—questions which young people are asking—how to learn, how to love and how to live. Homes, schools and churches are giving time and laying emphasis on the younger generation's problems, the speaker stated. She was introduced by Mrs. Sam Bundy, program chairman.

Mrs. W. Jesse Moye gave an account of Mrs. J. Blair Bick's talk at the Woman's club meeting in Greenville the last of October. Speaking of her trip abroad as a member of the Citizens' Food committee, Mrs. Bick said that the main subject of conversation among European women is peace.

Appointed to serve with Mrs. George Farr on the Book week committee were Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Mrs. M. W. Rollins and Mrs. Sam Bundy.

The clubwoman's hymn was used as the opening song; the collect closed the meeting.

Mrs. Farr and Mrs. H. D. Johnson, co-hostesses, in the home of the latter, served apple salad, brownies, sandwiches, crax and coffee.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. J. H. Harris, as guest speaker, at the Junior Woman's club gave the story of the United Nations, reading the preamble and aims of the organization as the introduction to her talk. She climaxed the review by quoting from the late President Roosevelt's last speech.

Miss Ruth Parker was welcomed as a new member by the vice president, Mrs. J. T. Nolen, who led the pledge in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. C. Garner.

The program chairman for the afternoon was Mrs. C. S. Edwards who also reported on an article appearing in the "North Carolina Clubwoman."

During the social hour the hostess, Mrs. James B. Heckaday, served refreshments. Pyracontha berries, yellow chrysanthemums and fruit were used in decoration of her home.

BOOK AND BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. R. T. Williams was hostess to the Book and Bridge club Friday afternoon in her home which was attractive with Thanksgiving decorations.

Coca colas were passed during play. Later sandwiches and coffee were served. Each plate bore a pumpkin shaped candle.

The high score prize was awarded Mrs. Irvin Morgan.

Special guests were Mrs. Sam Lewis, Mr. R. G. Copenhaver and Mrs. E. N. Petteway.

CONTRACT CLUB

Mrs. M. V. Horton was hostess to the Contract club Tuesday afternoon, using yellow chrysanthemums and potted plants in her flower decoration.

The club and guest high score prizes, aprons, went to Mrs. W. Leslie Smith and Mrs. Robert Lee Smith, respectively. Mrs. L. E. Walston won the low award, a kitchen memorandum. The hostess remembered Mrs. Bert Watkins with ash trays.

Chocolate cake, gelatine topped with cream, nuts and coffee were served after cards were laid aside.

The special guests were Mrs. Walston, Mrs. Robert Lee Smith, Mrs. G. M. Holden and Mrs. Watkins.

Circle-Redick Nuptial Vows Spoken Saturday

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday afternoon at 5:30 in the Methodist church at Walstonburg, Miss Juanita Redick of Raleigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wray V. Redick of Walstonburg, became the bride of Dr. Elbert W. Circle, son of W. A. Circle and the late Mrs. Circle of Springfield, Ohio. The Rev. Key W. Taylor was the officiating minister at the double ring ceremony.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Carlos H. Walston, pianist, and Miss Betay Fountain of Fountain, and Robert Mays of Hopewell, Va., soloists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Wray V. Redick, wore a period gown of ivory brocaded satin fashioned with a high neckline. A marquisette yoke emphasized the off shoulder bertha and the elongated torso bodice which dipped to a point in the front. The full length, fitted sleeves formed pointed caps at the wrist and the full skirt extended into a circular court train. A fingertip veil of French bridal illusion cascaded from a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses showered with white satin streamers knotted with Stephanotis.

Miss Imogene Redick, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Her period gown was made of dusty blue moire taffeta fashioned after the bride's gown with a high neckline, marquisette yoke, and an elongated torso bodice. The bouffant skirt formed a bustle in the back and extended into a short train. Her tiara of red roses matched her bouquet and formed a period fan. She carried a bouquet of red roses tied with red streamers.

W. A. Circle of Springfield, Ohio, was his son's best man. Groomsmen were James Redick, brother of the bride, and Bob Circle, nephew of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore an original gown of French plum crepe with a peplum embroidered in matching sequins, and a corsage of a lavender orchid.

Immediately following the wedding the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jenkins received at the door and introduced the guests to the receiving line, composed of the wedding party and out of town guests. Mrs. and Mrs. W. C. Redick received in the dining room. The bride's table, covered with a venetian lace cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white flowers flanked by burning tapers in crystal candelabras.

Decorated ice cream and bridal cakes were served by Mesdames W. A. Marlowe and R. A. Fountain, Jr., assisted by Mrs. J. C. Redick. Mrs. L. F. Smith directed the guests to the bridal registry, presided over by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gardner. Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Taylor presided in the gift room. Goodbyes were said to Miss Lillian Corbett and Carl McKel.

Following the reception the bridal couple left for a trip to unannounced points. For traveling, the bride wore a forest green gaberdine suit trimmed with gold and amber, and brown cobra accessories. She wore a lavender orchid.

Mrs. Circle, a graduate of Brevard college and King's Business School, has been employed in the Raleigh office of the Carolina Coach Company for a number of years. Dr. Circle, a graduate of The Ohio School of Chiropraxy in Cleveland, Ohio, served as a pilot in the Army Air Corps for several years and is now practicing in his home town, Springfield, where he and Mrs. Circle will be at home.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Cobb of Greenville, Glenn Cobb of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. R. G. Barrett and Mrs. T. T. Moore visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sugg in Snow Hill Sunday.

MISS MARTHA JEFFERSON HONORED BY LOVELY SOCIAL EVENT HERE

Among the largest and loveliest of early winter social events here was the bridge party, of Thursday evening, when Mrs. J. Boderick Harris and Mrs. David T. Harris were joint hostesses as a pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Martha Harden Jefferson, of Fountain, bride-elect of Robert Pittman Pierce, whose wedding will be solemnized tonight at eight-thirty o'clock in the Fountain Presbyterian Church.

The Country Club, with its open fires, mantel and doorway decorations of white chrysanthemums, ivy and white candles, and twenty-four tables, beautifully appointed for a dessert course and centered with lighted tapers in crystal holders, was a scene of loveliness. The honoree assisted the hostesses in receiving and her place at the refreshment table was marked by a corsage as was that of Miss Juanita Redick, of Walstonburg, bride-elect, also.

Bridal ices, snowballs, floral mints and pistachio nuts further emphasized the traditional nuptial colors of white and green.

In the progressive games of contract bridge, Mrs. Robert D. Rouse won the high score prize, Mrs. Allen Moore Harris, second, and Mrs. J. L. Peale, of Fountain, the third award. Mrs. George W. Jefferson, Sr., of Fountain, mother of the honor guest, won the rook prize.

The honoree received gifts of silver and crystal from the hostesses, who also remembered Miss Redick with crystal and china in her chosen patterns.

LITERARY CLUB

Time Current Affairs Test was used in place of the regular program at the meeting of the Literary club on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. H. Harris conducted this test and general discussion was entered into.

Miss Elizabeth Davis, president, presided at the meeting and opened with reading an article on Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Cherry Easley entertained the club in the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden with Mrs. Holden acting as hostess. Yellow chrysanthemums were used in decorating.

A salad plate with sandwiches, pickles and crackers was served.

TROOP 4

Members of Troop 4 of the Girl Scouts heard reports about Christmas in foreign lands given by Norma Spencer, Ann Pollard and Ann Murphy, Tuesday afternoon.

Ann Morgan presided over the business session in the absence of Faye Mewborn.

Sadie May Bailey and Camille Simpson served cookies and suckers.

SUPPER CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Ryon entertained the Supper club and additional guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Petteway, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Edison Moore, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lang, Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Gledhill, Mr. and Mrs. Lath Morris and their houseguest, Miss Nancy Greene of Brenham, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Monk and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Weiser of Columbus, Ohio, at the Country club Saturday night.

A barbeque supper was served after which dancing was enjoyed.

Carrying out an autumn theme, the tables were covered with brown paper and were centered with orange berries. The mantles held yellow candles and autumn leaves.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Tommy Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith, celebrated his first birthday at a party given by his mother Wednesday afternoon.

The dining table was covered with a white cloth and the centerpiece was the birthday cake bearing a lighted candle placed on a hostess tray. Individual cakes iced in white with pink and green decorations were placed around the cake.

Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served to the children. Fudge royal tarts, individual cakes, nuts and coffee were passed to the mothers.

Snapshots were made and as favors the girls received dolls and the boys were given cars.

Guests included Dail Harris, Nancy Winstead, Mary Harper Freeman, Judy Joyner, Linda Carr, Michael Bjgg, Daryl Allen, Cheryl Nichols, Sue Styers, Judy Ann Joyner and Ernie Petteway.

Mama Skunk to Baby Skunk: "Do you feel well, dear? You smell faint."
