

BAD REASON FOR QUITTING

Old Plumber May Have Been Wrong in Judgment Concerning "Samson" of His Son.

The best story observed in gold for some time is told by Joe Vila in the Sun about young Robert Plumber. Young Vila is considerably bigger and stronger than his father ever was, he is quick with his hands and with his head, he knows the science of the game. But it seems he can't stand up and take it. Mr. Vila continues:

Two years ago Old Vila introduced Young Vila to a party of friends at the former champion's New Jersey home. The father put on the gloves with his son and the latter surprised the visitors with a dazzling exhibition of science.

"He's very clever, ain't he?" remarked Old Vila during a short rest. "Well, now I'll show you something!"

Resuming the tilt, Old Vila suddenly looked his right to Young Vila, who with terrific force, Young Vila, swinging, pulled off his gloves and threw them on the floor, as he walked hurriedly out of the barn.

"He can box well," said the ancient Cornishman, "but he can't take a punch. He ain't game!"

"I stopped because I didn't want to lose my temper," explained the kid at the dinner table. "I didn't care to slug the old gent!"—New York Times.

LIGHT ON ANCIENT HISTORY

Discoveries Made in Old Tombs in Syria Show Important Fact Not Hitherto Known.

Two tombs about 4,000 years old have been discovered at Byblos, Syria, by the excavations being carried on under the direction of General Gouraud, the French high commissioner, according to the Paris correspondent to The London Times.

The age is established by the discovery in one of them of a harp; a curved sword with a gold handle; a seal of gold on which is engraved the Egyptian scarab; a gold scarab; a ring bearing the name of Pharaoh Amenemhat of the twelfth dynasty. This is stated to be the oldest inscription discovered in Syria, and proves that commercial relations between Syria, Greece and Egypt were already active 2,000 years before our era. The first recorded mention of Syria by Egypt was made by Thutmose I (Eighteenth century B. C.)

Class of the United States. One report equals 10,000 rubles. This new stamp of 22,500 rubles is therefore worth 2 1/4 kopecks (old style); that is, a few cents.

It is to be added that this stamp is colored pink and purple and represents a hat cleaning a woman, with banner bearing humanitarian inscriptions.

Popularity of Rubber Heels. Sixty per cent of the shoes manufactured in the United States today are said to be equipped with rubber heels. Shoes for men are more often equipped with rubber heels than shoes for women. It is estimated that 75 per cent of the rubber heels manufactured are for men. The United States census of manufacturers of 1920, covering production during 1919, showed that 275,897,500 pairs of leather boots and shoes were manufactured by 1,439 establishments. This was exclusive of slippers and flaps and other footwear not of leather. During the same period the production of rubber heels reached 180,000,000 pairs, and 9,777,000 pairs of rubbers and composition fiber soles were manufactured.

Ask Law to Protect American Names.

At the nineteenth annual meeting and reunion of the Rhode Society for Genealogical Research, held in this city, resolutions were passed asking that a national act be passed by congress making it unlawful for any person to assume the family surname of any one of colonial, revolutionary or historical fame. It was also voted that for the protection of such names and to avoid confusion, mistakes or fraud, the organization seek to prevent foreigners from taking any colonial or American names which have been made prominent—Boston Globe.

WEEDS GROW RARE IN VERMONTING THE STATE

(Continued from Page Four.) In crime and immortality that the higher grade defectives present know without equivocation that segregation is not the final answer. Once born, such unfortunate must be segregated, of course, if society is to protect its life. But in honesty and humanitarianism, can you look at the congenital idiot, lower than the lowest animal, lying in his own filth on the floor and believe that such a monster should ever have seen the light of day? Can you stand beside the bed of a woman who for the forty years of her life has never spoken an intelligible word, who has never taken and never will take a step, whose twisted limbs have writhed night and day for four decades, whose face is horrible in its deformity, and then, say, sincerely that this terrible travesty on humanity should ever have been brought by birth to such a hopeless doom? And, more serious still, can you bear of the pervasions, the gross immorality, the manifold crimes of the defective delinquent and that for a moment question the fact that without his birth society would have fared far better and would have now a surer hope?

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE
Under and by virtue of the power and authority contained in a certain mortgage deed executed on the 20th day of December, 1919, to S. E. Rackley, by Craven Taylor, which mortgage deed is duly recorded in the office of the register of Deeds of Wayne county in Book 149, Page 169 there having been default in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, the undersigned will sell to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in Goldsboro, N. C. on Tuesday January 16th, 1922 at 12:00 o'clock A. M. a certain tract or parcel of land situated in Wayne county and described in said mortgage deed as follows to-wit:
Beginning at a stake on the run of Stony Creek, the Ham corner, and runs thence with the Ham line South 53 West 54 poles to an iron stake, G. C. Rackley's corner, thence his line South 1 East 125 poles to a stake thence South 40 1-2 East 25 poles to the road, thence along the road to Stony Creek, thence up the run of Stony Creek to the beginning, containing 50 1-2 acres, more or less, and being the lands sold and conveyed to said Craven Taylor by the said S. E. Rackley brick and building material now located on the premises above described.
Dated this the 13th day of December, 1922.
S. E. RACKLEY, Mortgagee.

You Wives!

Are you really doing all you should to see that hubby keeps his savings account growing as it should? Men are so apt to kind of forget these things that it's really up to the women to keep them at it.

And women know, even better than the men (who are improvident creatures at best) the absolute necessity for thrift. Dependable for Two Generations.
