

Business Girls Win World's Laurels In Athletic Competition By Faithful Application To Strict Training Rules

World champion! This title belongs to three of these young women. Quite by accident they have won top honors for their sex in the realm of sport.

Hazel Kirk, Esther Behring and Clara Farley did not set out to become athletic record-breakers. They merely wanted to maintain their youth and develop their health. Consequently they participated in the athletic activities for women sponsored by the Prudential Insurance Company at Newark, N. J., where they are employed.

Miss Kirk is shown in the picture above; Miss Farley is the sixth from the left, and Miss Behring the third from the right in the picture below.

With hundreds of other girls they were guided in indoor and outdoor sports by George H. Vreeland, chairman of the Athletic Committee of the company's Athletic Association. As a result of this health program for home office employees of the Prudential, Miss Kirk is twice a champion. She is the present holder of the Amateur Athletic Union national championship for the sixty yard hurdle outdoors and the holder of the world's record for the seventy-five yard outdoor hurdle and the sixty yard indoor hurdle. Miss Behring loses a basketball with such exactness that she exceeded the long distance world record in the basketball throwing event indoors. And at shot-putting Miss Behring is a leader. She won the weight-throwing event for women at the Amateur Athletic Union meet in Pittsburgh. Miss Farley won the championship for women in the discus throw in the same competition.

Mr. Vreeland says that the Prudential has encouraged field and track athletics among its 2275 home office women to the end that they are better workers and in better physical condition. No girls are allowed to enter competition unless they are in the proverbial "pink" of physical condition. Mr. Vreeland says that their outdoor and indoor participation in sports gives them a keener zest for their tasks, that they train as faithfully, or even more so, than the average man athlete, retraining constantly from dainties and foods which do not contribute to their progress in track and field sports.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Hickman Ray of Durham is in the city the guest of Mrs. C. D. Grove. Mrs. Ray will be pleasantly remembered by a host of friends, she having made Goldsboro her home until a short time ago.

Stokes May Be Faced By Everleigh Sisters

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Missie and Ada Everleigh, who fifteen years ago conducted the underworld resort known as the Everleigh club, may be surprised witnesses in the trial of W. E. D. Stokes, New York millionaire, and others charged with conspiracy to defame Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, of Denver. They once stated that Mrs. Stokes was not the red-haired girl known as Helen Underwood in their resort. The sisters have a winter home in Nice, France, and another home in New York city. Eight jurors have been chosen for the trial.

Noted Missionary Speaks at St. Paul's

Rev. Thos. E. Reeve of Belgium-Congo, Africa, will speak at St. Paul Church Sunday morning at 11 a. m.

On "The Human Animals of Central Africa", and at 7:30 p. m. on "Souls in Black". At 3:30 p. m. he will speak to the Epworth League, the Scouts, and the general public on "Hunting Big Game in Africa." Rev. Reeve is a man of wide travel and experience, having spent many years in Africa and in other continents. He is the author of the most interesting and popular Mission Study book "In Wembo-Nyama's Land." It is seldom that we are privileged to have such a personage to visit our city. The public is cordially invited to all of these services.

Ellen Terry Honored At Hands King George

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Ellen Terry, "grandmother of the English stage," in Buckingham palace today was personally invested by the king with the insignia as dame, grand cross, Order of the British Empire. The king received the aged actress personally before the general investiture and assisted her from her wheeled chair. She was taken to the queen's apartment where she had a chat with the queen about the old days on the stage.

The king at the general investiture conferred honors on Dame Millicent Fawcett, Sir James Frazer, author of the "Golden Bough," and Sir Ernest Rutherford, the famous scientist and conferred the accolade on 24 new knights.

Own 5-Year Old Brandy and Can't Dispose of It

UNIONTOWN, PA., Feb. 12.—The Misses Sarah J. Hellen and Margaret Hellen well known in Uniontown society, have five barrels of five-year-old apple brandy that they do not know what to do with. The young women wish to dispose of it legally and discreetly. The brandy upon the death of William H. Hellen, former hotel proprietor, who died shortly after the prohibition amendment became a law, was left with the real of the estate to his wife, Mrs. Grace E. Hellen. At her death several months ago the liquor was willed to the two daughters.

Under the law an asset of an estate may not be destroyed and the Eighteenth Amendment prohibits the sale of liquor. There are willing buyers and lusty throats here, but the young women do not regard this an enough to establish eligibility.

Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 100:

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS.
The best way to solve a cross-word puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in the puzzle extending cross-wise or downward from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of spaces available will quickly occur to you in some instances, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.

CAUGHT!
Caught you, Lady Winter,
Last night caught you dear,
Flirting with a moonbeam,
Dreaming spring was near.
Caught you, Lady Winter,
Down behind the hill,
Dancing with a phantom flower,
They call the daffodil.
Caught you, Lady Winter,
Furbishing your clothes!
Reckon you expected
To flirt with Captain Rose?
Dust he is, and dreaming,
The sooner you're wiser,
Caught you tempting springtime,
To wander from the skies!
Guess you heard the blizzard,
But guess you didn't care!
Underneath the tempest
Sleeps for you the fair,
The ever fragrant,
The gentle and the sweet,
Sir Violet, who maybe now
You're going at last to meet!

A Birthday Party
On Wednesday evening February the eleventh, Miss Addie Lee entertained quite a few of her friends in honor of her eighteenth birthday. The color scheme was carried out in red and white in the living room and dining room. A beautiful birthday cake with the eighteen candles formed the center piece on the dining table.
Some of the interesting features of the evening was a guessing game the prize was won by Miss Victoria Bartlett. Then Miss Leon Best entertained the guests with several solos accomplished by Mr. W. J. Lee on the guitar.
Miss Lee received many beautiful presents.
The refreshment served were cake, ice cream, candy and all kinds of fruits.
At eleven o'clock the guest departed declaring Miss Lee a charming hostess.

Misses Rachel Hunt and Gladys Harris Entertain.
Misses Rachel Hunt and Gladys Harris delightfully entertained the M. G. W. Philanthra Class of the First Baptist church at a Valentine party on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Harris on North John street. The home was beautifully decorated the color scheme being red and white. Many interesting games were enjoyed by the guests, after which they were ushered into the dining room, the table was a scene of loveliness with an attractive Valentine centerpiece and favors for each guest. They were served a delicious course of cream and cake, nuts and mint.
