MR. HAN PRAYED FOR RAIN TO STOP

From Burlington comes this interesting story:

"Does God answer prayers for concrete or are apparent answers to such prayers mere coincidences or remarkable coincidences?"

That question is the subject of much discussion here and on the streets of Burlington today as a result of such a 'coincidence' witnessed here on the second night of the New-Hampshire evangelistic campaign now in progress here. Evangelist Han was just concluding his sermon to a congregation of approximately 2,000 persons when a rather heavy shower of rain began to beat a lively tattoo on the roof of the immense glass tabernacle which is housing the campaign here.

"Lord, if consistent with thy will, stop the rain and give these folks an opportunity to get home," were the closing words of the evangelist's prayer of dismissal. By the time the crowd had reached the doors the rain had completely stopped.

"The incident is the topic of much discussion and many are recalling similar instances which they have witnessed and offering them in support of their claim that God answers such prayers. It is cited that Evangelist Han on two occasions in his campaign in Durham two years ago uttered such prayers, were granted the qualifying phrase, 'if it be thy will, and that in both instances the rain stopped immediately."

"The result of the discussions are almost invariably, indefinite—but the facts of the case are very definite. The evangelist prayed for the rain to stop. It stopped. One can draw his own conclusions."

DEATH CLAIMS AGED CONFEDERATE VETERAN

Friends here of A. B. Sasser, aged Confederate Veteran, will be grieved to hear of his death which occurred Wednesday afternoon about two p. m. in the hospital at the Old Soldiers' Home in Raleigh. Death came suddenly, possibly a lingering illness of about one year.

Mr. Sasser was nearly eighty-two years of age and for fifteen years he had been a great sufferer. He was born near Walters, Wayne county in June 1842 and was the son of Col. John Sasser and Miss Sasser. More than fifty years ago he married Mrs. Belle Whitley Sasser, a half-sister of Mr. A. J. Whitley, who lives near Henderson. Mrs. Sasser died two years ago last September. Soon after that time Mr. Sasser went to live at the Old Soldiers' Home where he remained until his death.

He and Mrs. Sasser moved to Johnston county from Wayne about 1874 and for twenty-five years lived in Southfield. For nearly twenty years Mrs. Sasser was a helpless invalid and during all those years her husband was her constant, devoted companion. In his efforts to make her comfortable, he was for many years a member of the Methodist church and was ever a devout Christian. He was always kind and considerate of others never failing anyone in an hour of need when he was able to render any assistance. In his youth he volunteered for service in the Confederate army and served his country during the hard-fought struggle of 1861-65.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 at Sanders Chapel and interment was made in the cemetery there by the side of his wife. The services were conducted with the pastor, Rev. J. A. Parker, assisted by Rev. W. J. Watson, of Four Oaks.

CLINIC FOR CLINIC NEXT WEEK

There will be a clinic at the Morning church in Greensboro Monday afternoon at 2 p. m. for white children. The clinic for colored children will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. The Dudley clinic for white children will be held at the schoolhouse there Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and for the colored Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

All children under six years are urged to be present. The clinic will be held under the auspices of the county health department.

MR. HESTER SPEAKS AT EXPOSITION

In its account of the annual Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce Show, the Smithfield Herald says: "G. C. Hester, of Goldsboro, was invited to a speech on the subject of 'The Needs of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce.' Mr. Hester stated that Dr. Branson of the State University, in his researches at Durham from his life had found that Denmark, one of the greatest agricultural countries of Europe, with almost a hundred per cent of its farmers having bank deposits, produced ninety per cent of the things bought and sold on their markets, while Eastern North Carolina, with a much higher value of natural resources produce less than ten per cent of the commodities bought and sold on the Goldsboro market. Mr. Hester declared that one of the chief purposes of this organization is to bring about diversification of crops, advertise North Carolina, and preach a more general exchange of products by merchant and farmer.

L. O. O. F. BOYS WIN FAST GAME

Methodist Orphanage Team Loss To Locals By The Score of 10 To 9

By G. GREEN

In one of the snappiest tilts of the early baseball season, the Orphan Home team, winners of the championship in the City League last year, downed the fast aggregation from the Methodist Orphanage, of Raleigh Thursday afternoon, the battle being through eleven innings of thrills and spectacular plays, and terminating in a 10-9 score.

A fairly large crowd witnessed the game which was devoid of wrangling and offered a clean brand of the national pastime as has been seen here in many years. The sidelines were a target for four batted balls which came near resulting disastrously for those hit by the sphere and it would be a wise move for the Orphan Home management to rope off the field during the progress of the games, that this menace might be removed.

Getting the range of Cole's offering, the locals grabbed two scores in the initial inning when Gallup captured an infield hit and rapped across the pan when Howell hit for two sacks, the latter scoring after Stamford had walked and Holmsomback had bobbled Johnson's stab. Two more were added in the third when Stamford singled, Folger walked and both scored on Clark's mis-throw.

The foreigners tied the score in the fourth when Bryan passed the first three men up and Williamson's timely two-bagger cleaned the bases, the latter also scoring on a wild throw. Raleigh captured five more runs in the fifth as a result of two passes and three clean hits. These were the only frames in which the visitors scored.

It was an uphill battle for the Home boys to overcome a 3-4 lead but the old determination which has won them game after game was evident after the fifth stanza. In the sixth, Bryan's single, Gallup's two-bagger and a bobble by Bass netted two runs and in the eighth, three more runs were made and the score tied when Wilson hit for a triple, Bryan hit to the Orphanage for a home run, Gallup hit for two sacks and scored on Howell's infield hit.

With the score 9-9 the locals went to the bat in the last bill of the eleventh determined to end the old ball game. Folger singled and pilfered second, Garafio hit for two home but Folger was nipped at the plate. Garafio advanced one on a balk and scored on Wilson's single which ended one of the best contests thus far this season.

Bryan twirled a pretty brand of ball and though erratic in two innings nevertheless was firm in the pinches and whiffed fourteen men.

Cole, who first occupied the mound for Raleigh, offered a better brand of heating than did his successor, Matthews, but both men gave an exhibition which kept the contest moving in a snappy manner.

The Orphan outfield were all over the lot, grabbing seven difficult chances, some of them of the shoe-string variety, in a peppy manner. Gallup and Bryan starred at the bat, the former getting three hits out of five times up and the latter capturing a circuit drive and a single out of the same number of trips to the plate.

Serum Sent By Plane Saves 8 Year Old Girl

Harting, Colo., April 17.—The use of an airplane yesterday to carry antitoxin serum from Denver saved the life of 8-year-old Alberta White, stricken with lockjaw, physicians declared today.

After the available supply of serum here had been exhausted, local physicians asked a Denver drug house to rush additional units, which they left the city in a commercial plane shortly after noon and arrived an hour and a half later. The child will recover.
