Miss Helen Smith Entertains
 Miss Helen Smith delightfully entertained a number of her young friends at her home on East Ash St. from 8 to 11 last night. A number of enjoyable games were played, after which dancing was indulged in by the young folks, about a dozen of whom enjoyed Miss Smith's hospitality. Delicious refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, fruit and soft drinks were served to the guests.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church met in its assembly room Monday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. with a very large attendance. Circle No. 4 with Mrs. J. D. Daniel, leader, had charge of the program, the subject of which was, "The Child and the Future of the South," Mrs. Daniel and her co-workers presented a very interesting and helpful program upon this timely subject.

It was indeed a great pleasure to have present Dr. L. W. Corbet, who spoke so inspiringly of the child in regard to its physical development and care, this affecting its welfare perhaps more than any other consideration everyone present felt benefited by Dr. Corbet's information and were especially uplifted spiritually.

After the program, a short business session was held, the secretary of each circle making her report. Much interest was shown by these reports, and there was evidence of splendid work being done by each circle.

The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. G. A. Norwood.
 Recording Secretary—Mrs. S. P. Teague.
 Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. E. H. Fournelle.
 Treasurer—Mrs. E. H. Bain.
 Publicity Chairman—Mrs. Andrew Smith.
 Personal Service Chairman—Mrs. W. C. Suggs.

"HOT WATER" AT OPERA HOUSE

FOR BENEFIT MASONIC HOME
 Harold Lloyd never takes a drink, but in "Hot Water" his newest comedy, showing at the Opera House on November 30 and December 1 for benefit of the Masonic Home, he is called upon to appear under the influence of liquor for nearly two thousand feet of film, and that he does it naturally in a tribute to his ever growing art.

The noted comedian is probably one of the cleanest living men appearing before the camera. Although he doesn't proclaim the fact in public, he never has been addicted either to drinking or smoking, to which might be attributed the unusual vitality which characterizes the man. Lloyd has played drunk before in pictures, notably in "High and Dry," but in "Hot Water" he portrays the part to perfection.

While lacking in the story values of others of his pictures being built purely for laughs, "Hot Water" gives Lloyd great opportunity for acting.

and he handles every situation in finished style. As the "redoubtable" who is driven to die straight by a nagging mother-in-law, Lloyd has one of those pleasing roles which have made him so extremely popular with motion picture followers. In construction, "Hot Water" follows more along the lines of "A Sailor Made Man" than any of his latest successes. It has just enough plot to hold together the continuity and to permit building up of laughs.

In "Hot Water" with Lloyd are Jobyna Ralston, who is rapidly establishing herself as one of the screen's greatest prospects; Josephine Crowell, who dedicates herself "The Meanest Woman in Pictures"; Charles Stevenson, built to order for his roles as the lazy brother-in-law, and Micker McBan, as the mischievous little brother of Jobyna.

ONE SIGN YOU SHOULD BELIEVE IN

The "R" with the crossed tail—that "R" is probably the oldest sign in the world. Two thousand years ago it signified herbs offered by the Greeks to their great god, Jove or Jupiter. Then it came to mean a recipe, and later to signify only the recipe for medicine. That sign upon a prescription blank means that a doctor has ordered certain drugs to be mixed for use as medicine for some ailment which he has diagnosed. It also means, when it is seen in connection with our name, that the medicine is the very best of its kind that can be prepared.
