Students Break Through Guard And Spread Coats For Ruth To Walk Upon

Welcome Sounds From Land, Sea and Air As Dixie Girl Goes Ashore

PRESIDENT OF PORTUGAL EXTENDS HIS GREETINGS

Messages of Greeting From All Parts of World Are Showered Upon Her

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 25—(AP)—A welcome which sounded from land and sea and air greeted Ruth Elder as her co-pilot Georgia Haldeman when the American fleet arrived here this evening aboard the steamer Lima, from the Azores after their bold Atlantic flight and their rescue from the ocean.

Airplanes circled over the fliers, harbor craft swarmed about the steamer whistles shrieked greetings and the vast throng of people at the docks and in the city streets shouted joyfully a welcome to the old world.

Mr. Elder was met by the American minister to Portugal and the staff of the American Legation.

The American girl appeared very happy and touched by her welcome. Scores of messages from all parts of the world, awaiting her arrival, were showered upon her.

Breaking through the police guard a group of students rushed forward and spread their coats on the ground, carpeting the way for the pretty little heroine.

This brought cheers from the admiring crowds and it was with difficulty that the pair were rescued and hurried off to receive the president's greetings.

W. H. BARWICK DEAD AT AGE 69

Prominent Seven Springs Section Resident Buried Yesterday Afternoon

William Henry Barwick, 69, died late Sunday night at his home four miles south of Seven Springs on the edge of the Wayne county line. Mr. Barwick has been in excellent health until about three weeks ago when he developed kidney trouble and grew steadily worse though all possible efforts on his behalf were made.

Rev. Wesley Price of Bailey's Chapel Baptist church, conducted funeral services from the home of the deceased at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The esteem in which Mr. Barwick was held by his community was attested by the large crowd which gathered to pay homage at the funeral. Interment was made in the family burying ground near the home.

Mr. Barwick was one of the largest land owners in the county, about 500 acres of land. Most of the property was made by Mr. Barwick. All of his life was spent in the section where he died Sunday night. He was a member of Bailey's Chapel Baptist church. Realizing that the end was not far away, Mr. Barwick, after his illness set in, arranged that his farms should be divided according to his wishes.

Furniture Mfg. Sales Increase 125 Per Cent

Sales of the Wayne Furniture Company have increased 125 per cent since Nick Prillman took charge of the company about a year ago, a statement issued yesterday shows. Shipments of manufactured goods in the September past approached within $10,000 shipments made during September, October and November of last year. A year ago the payroll of the company was about $1,500 a year. With the increased output and expanding of market covered, the weekly payroll is now $3,000. Dining room suites are the specialty of the company.

OFFICER OF RED CROSS COMING

Griesemer Directed Raising Funds For Mississippi Valley Relief

The Red Cross official, Douglas Griesemer, who directed the national appeal for flood relief funds in the Mississippi river valley disaster of the past spring and summer will be in Goldsboro Friday to take part in the conference of delegates of 53 chapters of the Red Cross in this section. The meeting is in preparation for the eleventh annual Roll Call of the humanitarian organization.

As director of public information and roll call the Red Cross, Mr. Griesemer had charge of the campaign for relief funds during the Mississippi Valley Flood. Lining up chapters throughout the nation and welding them into a great money raising organization, he supervised the collection of $17,000,000 relief fund, the greatest ever raised in this country for a disaster. Unlike many organizations, the Red Cross has no paid collectors. The fund was raised entirely by volunteer workers under the direction of chapter officials, who in turn, were advised and directed by Mr. Griesemer of National Headquarters in Washington.

Douglas Griesemer first joined the American Red Cross staff at National Headquarters in 1918. At that time he resigned his position as political writer and legislative correspondent with the New York Evening Mail, following ten years of newspaper work, to direct the publicity for the second Red Cross Roll Call—the Christmas Roll Call of the final war year. In January 1919, he returned to New York to enter the publicity and advertising business. He came back to the Red Cross in May, 1922, as Assistant to the Chairman. He continued in that position until September 1923, when he was appointed Director of the Roll Call and head of the Public Information Service.

Miss Weil Explains Purposes of Meeting

CHAPEL HILL, Oct. 25—(AP)—Better methods of producing, marketing and distributing commodities and the use of more intelligence in the consumption of foods as means of reducing the cost of living were advocated by speaker, here today who addressed the conference on living costs.

DEFENDANTS NOW DIFFER

Fall and Sinclair at Outs Over What Testimony Should Be Admitted Record

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—A difference of opinion between the defendants, Albert Fall and Harry Sinclair, developed today as the government continued to unfold to a jury in the Supreme court the story upon which it based an indictment for criminal conspiracy in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Breaking into the proceedings for a second time within less than a week, Fall almost shouted that he had no objection to the presentation of certain technical testimony by the government to which counsel of Sinclair had offered a vigorous protest and argument before Judge Sildan.

This time Fall did not rise from his chair as he did last week when he appealed to the court to admit testimony which he regarded as vital to his defense. After he had stated that he had no objection, the former Interior Secretary glanced over toward the jury while his counsel, William Leahy, made this statement to the court:

"We want the record to show that we do not object to any questions relating to this lease."

Much of the evidence offered today by the government was of cumulative character, going directly into important elements of the case, including the failure of Fall to submit legal questions connected with the leasing transactions to the leasing officers of the government, the purchase by Sinclair of outstanding claims to land in Teapot Dome by other oil companies, and the personal handling of decisions on legal and other points of the lease of the Wyoming reserve.

M'GRUDER GETS HIS DEMOTION

Admiral Offended Secretary By Writing Article "The Navy And Economy"

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25—(AP)—Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, whose recent magazine article on "The Navy and Economy" caused a stir in naval circles, has been detached from duty as commandant of the Fourth Naval District.

Admiral Magruder said the order came as a distinct shock to him. Although he had been aware that his magazine article had not met with the approval of naval officials, he stated he had hoped the matter would be straightened out. The Admiral said he would insist on a thorough investigation of the affair.

A telegram notifying him that he had been detached from duty and ordering him to report to the Secretary of Navy at Washington about November 5, was received by Admiral Magruder tonight from Secretary of the Navy Wilbur.

Additional $10,000 Masonic Loan Fund

RALEIGH, Oct. 25—(AP)—Appointment of the $10,000 additional Masonic loan fund for 1927 today was announced by the Fraternal committee. Since establishment of this loan five years ago there has been set aside by the Masons a total of $45,000 to be loaned to war by college students.

EARLY SCHOOL HISTORY TOLD

Superintendent Bowman of Mt. Olive Schools Pleases Rotary Club

Following the action of the Kiwanis club on Monday evening, members of the Rotary club last night in regular session pledged themselves to aid in the Community Chest canvass on November 9. This business attended to, the club opened its eyes with surprise at facts given by Superintendent Bowman of the Mt. Olive schools reviewed the historical background of education in Wayne County.

The first school for Wayne county was begun at Waynesboro, in 1791, Mr. Bowman related. In 1810 was chartered the Waynesboro Academy of which Rev. James A. Craig was principal. The first "free" school was started in 1813, Mr. Bowman told the Rotarians.

In the long list of distinguished school men who taught here prior to the Civil War, Mr. Bowman said teachers who held Master's and in cases doctor's degrees served the section. Many of them had been trained in the best European universities, he declared.

Goldsboro city schools were chartered in 1880 and the first year citizens of Goldsboro paid the expenses by public subscription after it had been found that an act under which the schools were established was unconstitutional. Mr. Bowman related. This Mt. Olive school man said that no city in North Carolina had had connected with the direction of its schools a line of men comparable to those who had directed Goldsboro schools. He named McEffer, Alderman, Brooks, Joyner and others.

In the short time at his disposal, Mr. Bowman was compelled to give himself up to touching the large points of the school history. The club enjoyed the talk so much that there was a general expression of desire that Mr. Bowman discuss the topic at more detail later.

The members had pledged themselves to aid in the chest canvass at the solicitation of Thomas O'Berry, campaign director. "The Rotary and Kiwanis club can put the appeal over before 2 o'clock of November 9 if every man in the two clubs will come out and work for the appeal," Mr. O'Berry said.

Sees Need Revival Spirit of Tolerance

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 25—(AP)—A national need for a general revival of tolerance—a belief in something beyond ourselves and faith in the destiny of life—was sounded by President M. A. Taylor, of Chicago at the general convention of American bankers here today.

DR. JOHNSON AGAIN SPEAKS

Paints Covetousness as One of Most Deadly of Sins of Modern World

Dr. Walter N. Johnson, who is speaking each evening this week at the First Baptist church, spoke last night on the subject "The One Great Hindrance."

Dr. Johnson's subject followed closely in thought the subject, "The Big Business of the Kingdom" which was the Monday evening topic. His address last night was a diagnosis of the condition which results in the failure of Christian, to adequately finance the program of Jesus.

"The (satanic) life of human ownership in these degenerate times is the symptom of the proper diagnosis of failure," Dr. Johnson stated. "Our debts are not the cause—they are the symptoms only of an unhealthy state."

Tampering with a thermometer will not cause fever. We must get to the cause of fever to be cured," he said.

Dr. Johnson declared that covetousness is the most deceptive of all sins, it camouflages under the cloak of respectability, calling itself such names as provident and business shrewdness. The speaker likened the effect of covetousness to the condition of a man who, freezing to death in a snow storm, tries to get up because he is so sleepy and all the while death is wily creeping over him.

DUKE COUSINS TO GET MONEY

195 Relatives of Late Power Magnate Will Receive Two Million Legacy

RALEIGH, Oct. 25—(AP)—From among the 718 claimants of kinship with the late James Buchanan Duke and the right to share in his bequest of $2,000,000 left by him to be divided among descendants of the sisters and brothers of his father and mother, the executors of the power magnate's will have approved the claims of 195, it was learned here today.

The legacy divided into 167 portions of $1,576.04 will be distributed among them.

Twenty three claimants will share the legacy as first cousins of Duke while 122 will share as second cousins.

Twenty one states and three continents are represented in the distribution. Several cousins live in Brazil, one in Canada and another in the Philippines. The majority of them live in North Carolina.

Most City Businesses Close This Afternoon To Keep Goldsboro Day

Man Freed, Woman Held Having Whiskey

Jim McLean and Annie McLean were yesterday tried before Judge Bland in County Court on a charge of transporting whiskey. The man was found not guilty. The woman was found guilty and taxed with the costs and sentence withheld pending good behavior for 12 months. The Fair spirit interfered with the court and a number of cases were continued until next Monday.

DISCIPLES TO HOLD MEETING

Wayne County Members of Faith Interested in Plans for Jubilee Convention

Members of the Disciples church in Wayne county are making preparations to attend the jubilee state convention of the church to be held in Kinston, November 8-10.

At least 1,000 Disciples of Christ will attend the convention from the host church, the Gordon Street Church of Christ, have been gathering for weeks for the largest gathering in the history of the Disciples in North Carolina. The present organization of the church was perfected 50 years ago. First congregations in the State were founded many years before the Civil war, however, at Pantego, Kinston and other points in the eastern part of the State.

The Gordon Street church is the largest owned by the Disciples in this region. Its members will entertain the delegates on the "Harvard plan." They will be provided free lodgings and breakfasts. Their other meals they will secure as they wish, in hotels, restaurants and elsewhere.

Many national leaders of the Disciples will attend the three days sessions, as well as practically all of the ministers in North Carolina and hundreds of leading laymen. Greetings are expected to be tendered to the gathering by the conventions in other Southern states, most of which will have been held by the time the Tar Heel church folk meet here.

Notable speakers will include Dr. Abram E. Corey, of Kinston, who for a year headed the 1,500,000 Disciples in America, and other countries as speakers at the general convention. Interesting figures will include the Rev. Curis Howard, venerable circuit rider who has ministered to many rural congregations in this section during the past 50 odd years. He has married and buried thousands in the eastern counties. Most of the members of the faculty of Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, will attend the sessions. The college is maintained by the Disciples of the Carolinas and in their principal seat of learning. A movement to enlarge and endow it was launched some months ago and several hundred thousand dollars raised.

Today is Officially Designated As "Goldsboro Day" By Fair Directors

WINNERS OF PRIZES IN PARADE NAMED

Every Department Reports Greatly Increased Entry List for First Day

Ten thousand people having milled through the grounds yesterday to inspect the greatest Wayne County Fair of his history, the annual event will be continued today with Goldsboro having the spotlight. This is Goldsboro day and from 1 o'clock this afternoon until 5 there will be hardly a corporation's guard in the city. More than 100 of the offices, stores, banks, and manufacturing companies have agreed to close in observance of "Goldsboro" day.

"Without doubt the Fair got a better start than ever before," said Secretary Walter Denmark, who estimated that 10,000 people came to and out of the gates during the hours after the exposition was on.

With twenty of Wayne's latest of the fair as marshals to direct its windings through the business streets of the city, the big parade got started at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Under the direction of Edwin Joseph and Dr. Henderson-Irwin and with the marshals doing more than necessary-looking pretty the parade headed by the Odd Fellows Home Band passed between lines of spectators running in the thousands.

Judges had a hard time deciding who was who in the parade but finally named the following as winners: First Commercial Prize Plant—S. & L. Tire Co.—$25.

Second Commercial Prize Plant—The Mavis Co.—$15.
Best Decorated Automobile—Mrs. John Stapey—$35.
Second Best Decorated Automobile—Mrs. Graham Hood—$15.
City Park Plant—$15.
Street Cleaning Department—$10.
High School Foot Ball—Senior Class—$25.
High School Manual Training—$15.
Civic Organization Band—Girl Scouts—$15.
Pikeville High School—$15.

And new records were established in every department of the fair, in the farm crops and horticultural department there were upwards of 300 entries.

And as for the stock entered, Director Williams, in charge of this feature was hard put to it to find room for all that came. Entries for the swine prizes alone numbered 202. Of cattle there was beyond 100, and Dr. Edwards had driven in his flock of sheep and the famous "Barn" speck "Billy," which has more barn than any other Billy in these United States so says Sheriff Bob.

$30,000 Fire Visits Town of Staley, N. C.

STALEY, N. C., Oct. 25—(AP)—Fire late this afternoon destroyed property valued at between $25,000 and $30,000 and for a time threatened the larger part of the town. A chair factory, a lumber mill, rolling mill and a section house were burned completely.

The blaze started in what was known as the chemical room of the chair factory. An explosion ignited it, it is believed, from a lighted cigarette or matches thrown by small boys who were in the room.
