COLD AND HUNGER STALK NEW ENGLAND HILLS

Most Terrible Flood In Section's History Took Over 1 Hundred Lives

Montpelier Is Safe, Though 30 Miles About City Are Under Water

28 DEAD, MANY HOMELESS IN TOWN OF WATERBURY

17 Highway Commission Workers Drown When Trapped in House in Flood Path

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Cold and hunger stalked the hills of New England tonight in the wake of the most disastrous floods of this section's history. Substantial reduction in the apparent loss of life furnished the one bright spot in late reports today.

Although 30 square miles in and near the city had completely inundated only one known death had resulted.

Through army sources it was reported tonight that 28 persons are dead and many homeless in Waterbury, Vt., northwest of Montpelier.

With the known dead in the five-mile stretch of the Winooski Valley placed at 28 today, indications were that the loss of life in this section and points immediately above would greatly exceed this number.

Seventeen of eighteen employees of the highway department trapped in a four-hour in the path of the flood lost their lives.

Word also reached here tonight that two unidentified men had been drowned today while clearing away debris from the Boston and Maine railway track at West Lebanon.

The death toll in Barre, Vt., had reached 25 and might mount higher should a disaster tonight to the Republic from the stricken city. Principal streets were under 5.5 feet of water. A woman and three children were drowned when the boat in which they were having their home captured.

HOME GARAGE IS DESTROYED

Efficient Work by Firemen Prevents Flames Destroying Residences

Damage estimated at several hundred dollars was done by fire which destroyed a garage at the home of Will Smith at Beach and Daisy street about 8 o'clock last evening.

The flames spread to the residence of Mr. Smith and threatened to kindle the home of Charles Jernigan but prompt and efficient work on the part of the firemen prevented serious damage. The rear part of the Smith residence caught from the garage but was extinguished.

The fire occurred about 8 o'clock and the flames shooting high into the sky lit that part of Goldsboro with a lurid glare that brought several hundred people. The origin of the flames was not known.

Though comparatively slight, the blaze was the most costly which Goldsboro has experienced in several weeks.

FAMOUS CLOWN KILLS HIMSELF

Marceline Took Place in Front of Mirror and Fired Pistol

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Marceline, the clown at whose grotesque life untold thousands have hushed today committed suicide by sending a pistol bullet through his brain.

Flowing out of an open trunk were several costumes in which he had delighted audiences with his poses as though he had taken a last farewell of the tokens of his life he died and in which he had found fame and fortune. The body was found by a bellboy, the pistol still clutched in the hand.

From the position of the body it was evidenced that the famous clown had faced a mirror to watch himself in his last grim gesture.

STATE MEETING FOR CHARLOTTE

Goldsboro People Urged to Attend Parent Teacher Conference

The convention of North Carolina Parents and Teachers to be held in Charlotte Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week will be attended by at least one and probably more delegates from the Goldsboro schools.

Mrs. Lionel Well, President of the High School P. T. A., announced at the meeting held at the High School on Thursday evening, her intention of going, and urged that others attend. Since that time several are known to be planning to go.

The keynote of the convention will be "The Adolescent Child," a subject in which all parents are bound to be interested. At the convention experts who are nationally known will discuss the adolescent from the physical, mental and emotional sides, and other vital phases of the pre-school child.

The speakers are Dr. Frank Howard Richardson, Dr. Ernest R. Groves, and Nowell Edsel, on the adolescent boy and girl, and Dr. Myers Hunter on the pre-school child.

Dr. Edsel's address on "Boy and Girl Relationships" will be made at the night sessions of the first day of the convention. Dr. Edsel is with the American Association of Social Hygiene, of New York City.

Mrs. Charles E. Ross, field secretary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will address the convention Wednesday morning on School of Instruction and Wednesday afternoon Dr. Ernest R. Groves will speak on The University of North Carolina and Pre-Parental Training.

Following this Dr. Harold D. Myers, also of the university, will speak on The University of N. C. and Parental Education.

Wednesday night Dr. Groves will talk on The Intellectual Growth of the Adolescent Boy and Girl and Dr. Frank Howard Richardson will make an address on Physical Development and Care of the Adolescent.

Thursday afternoon Dr. M. Hunter, of Charlotte will speak on Health Habits and Pre-School Child. The selection and installation of officers will bring the convention to a close.

It is hoped that delegates from every P. T. A. of the city will avail themselves of this wonderful opportunity to hear experts on this vital subject.

THREATEN LIFE OF INDIAN SPRINGS TOWNSHIP MAN

Given Ten Days to Get Out of Section By Night Riding

"We are going to get you," this was the warning of a miserably scrawled letter found by Jim Mazingo, Indian Springs farmer, when he rushed from his home at the dawn hour yesterday morning, summoned by a deafening roar. The letter was signed "The Cluck Gang" and was almost illegible in its scrawl.

Mr. Mazingo reported to Sheriff W. D. Grant that an attempt was made to dynamite his barn and that when he went to investigate the explosion he found the "Cluck Gang" letter. It was wrapped around a light wood splinter and tied with a string.

The attempt to dynamite barn was unsuccessful. Though, judging from the detonation, a sufficient quantity of dynamite had been used but force of the charge had not been confined sufficiently to accomplish the purpose for which it was intended and there was practically no damage done.

There was no stock in the barn at the time the gas, said in the letter to have numbered 25, made its trip, but there was about three hundred bundles of fodder.

The illegible scrawl left as a warning contents that Mr. Mazingo has been causing trouble in the community.

The farmer, who resides in Indian Springs not far from Arrington's bridge, told Sheriff W. D. Grant that he believed he knew who was back of the night riding attempt. Sheriff Grant has placed all the forces of the sheriff's office at the disposal of Mr. Mazingo in an effort to bring the guilty parties to justice and to prevent further demonstrations.

The letter found by Mr. Mazingo is as follows:

"We are giving you a little warning this time, just 25 this time. Next time we are coming 50.

Cluck Gang.

"You are caused trouble in the neighborhood (neighborhood) if you don't be gone we are going to get you, you better be gone in 10 days. If you don't we are going to get you.

Cluck Gang.

Twenty churches of the Free Will Baptist faith in Johnston, Wayne, and Sampson county make up the group. Plans to raise $5,000 for the endowment fund of Eureka College, Ayden were adopted at the Smithfield meeting.

The next annual conference will convene with Casey's Chapel church the first Sunday in November 1928.

Tuesday Night At 7 Is Hour

Distinguished Educator Will Talk to Workers Prior to Campaign

An address by W. L. Poteat, President Emeritus of Wake Forest college will feature the Annual Community Chest workers dinner to be held in the Goldsboro Hotel at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. Over two hundred will gather at this time to perfect plans for launching the 1927 drive for $25,000 to take care of the nine welfare organizations of the city.

Dr. Poteat resigned the presidency of Wake Forest last June, entered administration which lasted for twenty odd years. During this time Dr. Poteat, through his writings and his address, had made probably North Carolina's most best known educator. Principally through his leadership the name Wake Forest has become known nationally. Dr. Poteat's most recent volume "Can A Man Be a Christian Today" has created wide comment.

The book is a compilation of the notable lectures delivered at the University of North Carolina in 1925. Dr. Poteat was admitted to Wake Forest at the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass., and at the Zoological Institute of the University of Halle, Germany. His scientific degrees from several universities and colleges. He returned to Wake Forest to head the Department of Zoology and head of the Department of Botany.

Chest leaders feel that Goldsboro is indeed fortunate to secure a distinguished speaker to open their campaign for the support of welfare agencies. In addition to his address there will be short talks by a few prominent local people.

Campaign details are rapidly being covered away by President W. L. Taylor and his staff, and it is expected that at the end of Tuesday evening's meeting everything will be in readiness for Wednesday's appeal.

Tom O'Berry has been named as campaign chairman. The city will be organized into districts, for canvassing teams. L. M. Rose will lead the soliciting in the business district; F. A. Griffin will have charge of the industrial district; while Mrs. J. N. Johnson will head the women's division. George K. Freeman has been placed at the head of the Initial Gifts committee.

As in the two previous years, the city will be divided into four districts by Walnut and Center streets, and the names of all people living in those districts will be provided for the canvassers.

Over 10,000 letters and folders outlining the activities of the nine welfare agencies composing the Chest during the last year as well as giving the objective of the drive have been mailed to the citizens of the city.

Chairman O'Berry is now engaged in lining up his canvassing teams and has called on as many as will volunteer. He believes that the success of the campaign in a great measure depends on a large and enthusiastic group of workers.

And believing that enough will respond, he is confident of "going over the top" with the drive. He has given three reasons for his confidence. First, the education and practicality of the organization; second, the willingness and pleasure with which men and women give up their time to solicit contributions; and, third, the whole-hearted manner in which citizens of Goldsboro have always responded to the call of charity.

Women and men workers on whom the campaign committee are depending are listed below.

Men Workers Z. T. Irwin, L. A. Hasty, Geo. S. Dewey, G. C. Royal, Jr., H. B. Jenkins, Dr. David Ross, T. B. Henderson, T. M. Biss, J. T. Jermain, Royal Spence, A. A. Joseph, W. E.
