More Than Thousand Convicts Engage In Serious Prison Riots

Many Bullets Are Exchanged Between Guards and Militia and Rebellious Convicts

MANY ARE REPORTED AS WOUNDED IN SHOOTING

Five Guards Held As Prisoners Are Reported as Executed By Convicts

POLSON, Sall., Nov. 24—(AP)—The whiz of convict bullets through the prison grounds tonight marked a lull in a battle between 1400 rioting convicts and 300 state militia and peace officers in the most severe riot at the state prison in years.

The first pitched battle of the revolt was started this afternoon when more than 1,000 shots were exchanged between the armed prisoners and the besieging party. Many of the convicts have been wounded.

Tonight the tally in the law enforcement forces was two dead and three injured.

Under the joint command of army officers and the chief of police, a pitched battle between the convicts and the attacked force occurred this afternoon in an attempt to use tear bombs to wreck the revolt.

Guardmen and peace officers were deployed around the cell house at sheltered points and at a signal from the warden three policemen advanced to the cellhouse door and threw four tear bombs into the enclosure.

The convicts immediately opened fire and the shots were returned by the officers and then in a lull in the battle, five shots were fired within the cell house walls. These spelled martyrdom for five guards held prisoners.

FUNERAL FOR MISS ROBERTS

Miss Olive Distinctly Shocked By Tragic Automobile Accident

(From the News Bureau)

MT. OLIVE, Nov. 24—The body of Miss Hildegard Roberts, victim of automobile accident on the Snow-Hill Kinston highway Wednesday night, was buried here Thursday afternoon in Maple Grove cemetery. Interment followed funeral services held from the home two miles north of Mount Olive.

Rev. E. M. Snipes of the Methodist church conducted the service. He was assisted by Rev. M. C. Fussell, pastor Hill, and Rev. W. M. Baker, pastor of the Methodist church at Snow of the local Presbyterian church, both of whom paid tribute to the beautiful Christian character and womanly virtues of the deceased. Members of the choir of the Methodist church sang softly and sweetly, "Nearer My God to Thee," "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me," and "Abide With Me."

The body was borne to the grave by Mr. William Sedberry, Mr. Fred Sutton, Mr. Boyd Wilson, Mr. Raymond Flowers, Mr. William Ricks, Mr. Nelson Hicks and Mr. Oscar Hollingsworth, and the burial service was conducted with floral designs of exquisite beauty, among them being the especially lovely one from the Willing Workers Class of Snow Hill Methodist Sunday School, and another from the Friendly Bible Class of the local Methodist Sunday School.

Mount Olive has seldom been so shocked as by the tragic death of this beautiful and splendid young woman. She was the second daughter of Mr. S. J. Roberts, and had made her home in Mount Olive all her life. At the time of her death she was a member of the Snow Hill school faculty. She had been for several years a member of the Methodist church.

The bereaved family has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

SECOND DAY OF MEETING HERE

Dean E. D. Soper of Duke University Among Speakers Addressing Teachers

(BY C. N. HUNTER) FOR THE NEWS

Thursday morning added to the attendance of the Negro's Teacher's Association by many hundreds. They came in by rail and by automobile. The scene around the Dillard High School at ten o'clock was animated. The crowd of teachers and automobiles was great. The registration mounted up to nearly 2,000. That figure will be reached and passed.

The morning hours of the day was devoted to sectional meetings at the various churches and at the Dillard High School. The Elementary section was the most largely attended, and was held in the First Baptist Church. It was conducted by Mrs. Julia A. Williams, of the Raleigh Schools. The value of standard tests in Elementary schools; Administrative Measures for Meeting Pupil's Needs; The Platoon School in Operation, were the subjects presented and discussed.

At one o'clock a sumptuous luncheon was served by the Domestic Science class of the Dillard High School, after which the teachers were given a trip to the State Hospital.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon general session was held in the auditorium of the Dillard High School. The first address was that of President David D. Jones, of Bennett College, Greensboro. He was followed by Dr. J. H. Dillard, agent of the Slater and the Jones funds. Fifty-two years ago, I think, I attended a meeting of this Association at the A. and T. College in Greensboro. There was not more than fifty teachers present. But it was a great meeting.

Dr. Dillard, "Characteristics of Education" was his subject. "How was it that Abraham Lincoln was better educated than seventy-five percent of our college graduates? I asked of a gentleman sometime ago, and he asked, 'was he?' The first characteristic of an educated person is Accuracy. Accurate in what he says and accurate in what he does. An educated man knows that there are no short cuts to development, achievement, accomplishment," said he. He urged teachers to keep to the straight line, and pursue steadily the solution of life's problems. "An educated man is one who can discriminate between what is good and what is bad, what is true and what is false," said he. The whole address abounded in sound common sense, sensibly and forcefully presented. Musical selections interspersed the program. The teachers are highly pleased with the manner of their entertainment in Goldsboro, and all of them are long in their praise of Goldsboro and its people. White and colored have been generous, unstinted in their courtesies, and the teachers fully appreciate the favors shown them.

An attractive feature of this meeting of the Association, is the splendid (Continued on Page Two)

Expect to Spend More Than $800,000,000 For Labor and Materials in 1928

DETROIT, Nov. 24—(AP)—Henry Ford's new car which officials of the Ford Motor company say will be responsible for the expenditure of nearly $800,000,000 for labor and materials during 1928 will be given its first public showing in the United States, Canada, and England on Friday, December 2, Ford announced today.

Coincident with the announcement of the showing of the new car, which will be known as the Model A, came a review of world business conditions from Henry Ford in which he explained his suspension of activities since early last summer, while remaking the Ford plants again in preparation for the new model "My outlook for the coming year is based on ample evidence of continued and increasing material prosperity," Ford said.

"National wealth is increasing. Individuals have more money. Taxes are on the decrease and governmental economy has made for better business in all lines. People buy when they have money. They become cautious in their expenditures only when money becomes scarce. Money is not scarce today, nor will it become so next year, in my opinion."

MAN IS GIVEN LIMIT OF LAW

Stanly County Man Found Guilty of Assault On a Female By Jury

ALBEMARLE, Nov. 24—Jasper Whitley, 21-year-old Stanly County man who went on trial here for his life Tuesday morning, charged with a criminal assault upon the thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cannup, was found guilty of an assault upon a female here this afternoon.

Judge Roy L. Deal, jurist presiding, stated to the jury that he did not mean to criticize them, but declared that he was very much surprised at their verdict, as he did not see how they could have failed to give the defendant the limit of the law, which would have meant Whitley's life in the electric chair. Judge Deal gave the defendant the limit, having sentenced him to the State Prison from fourteen to fifteen years.

KENAN STADIUM IS PRESENTED

Governor McLean in Accepting Gift on Behalf of State Praises Donor

CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 24—(AP)—Governor A. W. McLean today is accepting on behalf of the state of North Carolina and the University of North Carolina, praised William Stand Kenan, Jr., its donor, as "an epitome of the best of this state and institution."

"In his qualities of mind and heart," declared the governor, "he sets a standard for the emulation of the youth."

The stadium, formally dedicated at the Carolina-Virginia football game today, was erected by Mr. Kenan at a cost of $300,000. It has a seating capacity of 35,000 persons, but not large enough to seat the crowds today.

"There is no greater occasion of happy pride," said the governor, "to state and university than one like this when a distinguished son of North Carolina and its university thus honors the land of his youth and cherishes his alma mater with so graceful and acknowledgement of his love and gratitude."

"The university finds justification of its traditions, services, purposes and ideals in the lives of its alumni. That they love it, are grateful to it and sustain it with their counsel and material aid is most heartening. And the state, observing this interchange of mutual benefits between the university and its alumni strengthened by the institution and the sons it sends forth, is confirmed in the faith that led it to found and maintain a university."

"The university takes pride in her long record of service to the members of Mr. Kenan's family. She has won continuity and strength through the power she has gathered from them—statesmen, soldiers, business men, educators, wise counselors and benefactors. The traditions of their lives and services both in the paternal and maternal lines is woven into the very life of the institution. The University feels privileged to honor them, for in doing so she lends strength to her own cause."

"William Stand Kenan, junior, son of an alumnus of the university, son of a daughter of Chapel Hill, is in himself an epitome of the best of this state and institution. In his qualities of mind and heart he sets a standard for the emulation of the youth."

"In his rise to success as a builder, financier, engineer and captain of industry in the nation he typifies the brain, energy and constructive genius of the greater commonwealth we are building. Bringing forward the character and traditions of a great family he has enlarged and magnified them. In his actions the generosity and magnanimity of his spirit are manifest and in none so beautifully as in this gift so modestly tendered."

"This stadium makes possible the culmination of an athletic program long under way at Carolina and (Continued from page 1)

Virginia Made Great Come-Back In Fourth Quarter and Scored Twice

SAPP AND YOUNG SCORE CAROLINA'S TOUCHDOWNS

Crum, Goldsboro Boy, Stars As State Steam Rollers South Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 24—(AP)—The University of North Carolina for the first time in five years defeated the University of Virginia in football today 14 to 13. Virginia made a strong bid to win in the final period but failed to score a point after a touchdown spelled defeat.

The passing attack was the factor that gave the Tar Heels victory. Line plays were fruitless when Virginia presented a stone wall defense and neither team could make the passing game effective as it might have been. Sapp, Carolina end, picked up a forward pass from Ward in the first quarter and rushed through a broken field 35 yards for a touchdown.

Young later grabbed a pass from Ward and ran 20 yards across the goal.

Virginia furnished the most spectacular line play when Ward, the first Virginia touchdown. Then Crum, Goldsboro boy, picked up a forward pass from Ward in the first quarter and rushed through a broken field 35 yards for a touchdown.

A record crowd of 25,000 witnessed the game in the new Kenan Memorial Stadium which received its dedication today and was accepted on behalf of the State and the University by Governor McLean.

Ward, Carolina half back, who was a power on the offense, and whose work was largely responsible for the Tar Heel victory was expelled from the game in the fourth period along with Taylor, Virginia center, after the two had engaged in a personal encounter.

DAVIDSON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Sam Buie, Duke University quarterback rose to the height of his career today to tear a Davidson line to threads and pilot the Blue Devils to a 48 to 7 victory over the Wildcats. Scoring two touchdowns himself and being largely responsible for the other scores the Blue Devils quarter was seemingly unstoppable and raced through the Presbyterians at will.

The Wildcats only score came in the second period when Dick Geay, circled the ends for 16 to 12 yard gains to place the ball on the 32 yard line where a pass to McGeachy went over for a touchdown.

The Blue Devils took the offense from the opening kickoff, scoring in the first five minutes.

ASHEVILLE, Nov. 24—(AP)—Led by the dashing Phoney Smith, the Mercer university Bears today unleashed an offensive attack that could not be stopped and defeated Wake Forest 34 to 0. Mercer scored twice in the second period and three times in the fourth.

For Wake Forest Al Lenton, center played a great game on the defense, while it was left for Johnny Cox to shine on the offense.

Smith was the outstanding player with Wright, running a close second. Mercer scored twice in the second period, after a see-saw of air in the first who was intercepted pass gave Mercer the ball and a forward pass. Smith to Wright was good or a touch down.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 24—(AP)—North Carolina state lived up to its name here today and handed South Carolina a 21 to 0 defeat, tasting revenge for a loss to the Gamecocks last year while at the same time keeping its record in the Southern conference clean.
