DEATHS

HASKELL FLANAGAN. Great sorrow was occasioned here yesterday morning by the announcement that Mr. Haskell Flanagan, manager of the local plant of the Texas Oil Company, had died at 4:45 a. m. in the Fennell Infirmary at Rock Hill, S. C., following an operation for appendicitis performed only a few hours before by Dr. Fennell. Few of his friends here knew that he was ill. On Sunday, the 15th, he went to the home of his parents at Bowling Green, suffering from an attack of appendicitis. His physicians found that his condition was not favorable for an operation and he was removed to the Fennell Infirmary where, it was hoped, he would be in condition within a few days to undergo an operation. All the indications were that he was improving and the physicians decided to operate. However, they found his appendix in such condition that they realized at once that he could not live. Young Flanagan revived from the anaesthetic and talked for some time with his mother before lapsing into final unconsciousness. He gave his ring to his mother and enquired if the operation had been successful. Deceased would have been 25 years old in September. For several months past he had been manager of the Texas Oil Company's local plant, with which he held a position for some time prior to being made manager. He was for a year or more prior to going with the Texas Company with H. M. VanSleen, the jeweler. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Flanagan, of Bowling Green, who survive together with two brothers, Speight and Deaver Flanagan, and four sisters, Misses Ida, Pearl, Ellen and Eunice Flanagan. Funeral services were held at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at Bowling Green Presbyterian church, of which he had been a member since boyhood. A large congregation of friends and relatives was present to pay a last tribute of respect to his memory. Rev. A. A. McLean, his pastor, officiated. Interment was in the cemetery at that place. Quite a good many friends from Gastonia attended the funeral. Mr. Flanagan was a young man of many sterling qualities and was held in very high regard by all who knew him. He lived an exemplary Christian life and was faithful in the discharge of all his duties. His death brings

Who Is the Best Dressed Woman In This City?

A difficult question to answer. But this we know—whoever she is, she wears OUR SHOES—without these she could not possibly hold the honor.

To be smartly dressed, you must be smartly shod—and to be smartly shod, you must wear a pair of our PUMPS or SHOES.

This is your invitation to drop in and try on a pair of the NEW ONES.

great sorrow to his family, to whom the sympathy of a host of friends goes out at this time.

DR. HERMAN BOAZ. Gastonia friends will be pained to learn of the death in Alabama on Friday, the 13th, of Dr. Herman Boaz, a former resident of this city. Dr. Boaz' death was sudden and resulted from an attack of heart failure superinduced by overexertion while helping to extricate his automobile from a mudhole. Dr. Boaz left Gastonia several years ago to make his home in Atlanta. He is remembered by many Gastonians who will regret to know of his death.

In Business for Self. Mr. E. T. James, who has for the past several months been salesman for the Page-Detroit and Dodge cars, for which Mr. W. H. Wray is local agent, has severed his connection with that agency and is now in business for himself. He has the local agency for the Chalmers and Dort cars and has headquarters at the Gastonia Garage. Mr. James is an experienced salesman and has been unusually successful in his line of business since coming to Gastonia a year and a half ago.

Sheriff W. N. Davis gives notice to automobile owners that the county license must be paid by August 15th. The special act for Gaston county went into effect on July first, but on account of not being able to secure the number plates in time, the Sheriff was authorized by the county commissioners to postpone the enforcement of the law until August 15th. Numbers may be secured from the Sheriff or any of his deputies.

Gaffney, S. C., Ledger: Miss Gladys Jenkins, of Gaston county, was a week-end visitor to Gaffney. Miss Iola Petty and Miss Lois Neely, of Bowling Green, were house guests last week of Mrs. E. J. Sitton on West Frederick street. Already more than thirty applications have been received for the position of secretary of the Gastonia Chamber of Commerce. These were the result of a small advertisement inserted for two or three days in several leading Southern newspapers.
