

WYOMING FIVE WON OVER NORTH DAKOTA

Fast Basketball Game Staged on Court of Y. M. C. A. Building No. 108.

In a game featured by fast and clean playing, the 164th North Dakota Infantry went down to defeat last Wednesday at the hands of Wyoming ammunition train 116th., on the Y. M. C. A. court at building No. 108.

The game was hard fought all the way, North Dakota leading by a few points until the last five minutes of play. Then the Wyoming boys showed to hit their stride, and succeeded in scoring 29 points to their opponents 25.

At half time, the score was: North Dakota, 14; Wyoming, 8, and it began to look rather dubious for the Wyoming contingent, but with the entrance of "Captain" Lynch in the beginning of second half, they took a big brace and managed to barely nose out their rivals.

The passing of North Dakota team was very good, but some easy shots were missed, which counted heavily against them. While the passing of the Wyoming boys was not up to standard, their eyes for the basket stood them in good stead, most of their shots rolling good. They have fine possibilities as a team, but need to improve their eyes for the basket before they will be able to hit their best stride.

The individual features of the game were furnished by Eckels and Crook of the losing team, and Hutson and Lynch of the winners.

The line-up and summary:
 Wyoming position N. Dakota
 Hutson Left Forward . . . Eckels
 Crook Left Forward . . . Howard
 Hemmant Right Forward . . . Jones
 Hershinger Center Jones
 Hershinger, Lynch, (Capt.) . . . Haefl
 Hines, Bruce Right Guard
 Hines, Bruce Left Guard

Field goals: Hutson 5, Eckels 8, Dawson 3, Howard 2, Jones 1, Hershinger, Hemmant, 1.
 Foul goals: Bruce 1, Eckels 4. On North Dakota 7.
 Referee: Taylor. Umpire: Coe. Timers: Jenkins and Adams. Scorers: Ashborn and Barnum. Time: 15 and 20 minute halves.
 A return game has been arranged for Saturday, November 10, and at that time the North Dakota boys feel they will wipe out the first defeat, making necessary a third game play-off.

EVERY SOLDIER SHOULD ENGAGE IN ATHLETICS

What can you do in the athletic line? Can you play basketball, football, baseball or any other game? If so, here's your big chance to get into the game.

Leagues and tournaments are being organized by the Y. M. C. A. physical directors and good teams to keep in condition.

Grounds and equipment are furnished by the "Y" and you are asked to furnish the "man."

Get into some game, play and play hard to keep in good condition and Uncle Sam will have a good soldier.

Ask the athletic director of your regiment to help you decide which game you should take up.

An enormous amount of athletic equipment is passed out each day by the Y. M. C. A. building secretaries to the men in the various army units.

The fellows make good use of this material, and it is an exceptional case when articles borrowed are not returned. Almost always the borrower returns the articles the same day taken.

Hurby and Soccer footballs, basketballs, volley balls, indoor baseballs, medicine balls, playground balls, quoits and all the equipment are in stock and it is the desire of every secretary on the "Y" staff that the men make good use of these articles. Let us know if you play ball, the "Y" has the stuff to play with. Go use it.

INTERESTING GAME BY TEAMS OF 39TH

In a well played game the baseball team of Company L, 39th Infantry, won over Company M, of the same regiment, on last Sunday afternoon. While the score does not indicate the best of games, still there was excitement from start to finish. The Company L sluggers pelt over the winning run in the last inning. The game ended 10 to 3.

The feature of the game was the terrific hitting of both teams. It might be said that the L company demonstrated a little more of the "pounding ability" than did the M company outfit. When it comes to individual honors, Hershinger of the out-of-the-ordinary slugging for the L company, while Bell gathered the honors for the M company.

PHYSICAL DIRECTORS EAGER TO MEET MEN

Soldiers Urged to Get in Touch With Athletic Leaders at Their Buildings.

The regular army men just coming to Camp Greene should make a special trip to their own brigade "Y" and get acquainted with the physical director.

These men, one in each building, are especially trained for this kind of work. They know their business, also just how to impart their knowledge to others.

Each man has one objective, and that is to serve the fellows in camp as far as possible in an athletic and friendly way.

The physical director would like to know each regimental athletic director, every man in the many companies who is or has been interested in athletic or gymnastic work, and would also like to make the acquaintance of former association "gym" leaders. These points of contact will help greatly in the organization of an interesting athletic program for the men.

The physical directors of the various "Y" are as follows:
 "Y" No. 104, serving 47th Infantry, Carroll L. Bryant.
 "Y" No. 105, serving 5th and the 7th Infantry, Geo. H. Aylsworth.

"Y" No. 106, serving 50th, 39th and 58th Infantry, Walter S. Williams.
 "Y" No. 107, serving North Dakota troops 163 and 164 N. Y. Inf.,—38th regular Inf. and Cantonia Bakers, Robert S. Goulet.

"Y" No. 108, serving Wyoming troops, 2nd Reg. N. G. ammunition and supply trains, 2 Reg. and 30th Infantry, George Taylor.

Each man is a "good fellow"—knows his story, and is ready to help every man to be a better man physically and morally.

Now then, this is your invitation;—go shake hands with him.

ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT AT Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

The spirit of Christian fraternity and co-operation existing between the various religious organizations represented in army camps was evidenced at Camp Greene yesterday when Catholic services were held at three of the camp Y. M. C. A. buildings.

Rev. E. H. Hanken, S. J., chaplain of the Forty-seventh Infantry, celebrated mass at Building 104 at 8 o'clock in the morning, and Rev. Gerald Treacy, S. J., chaplain of the Thirty-ninth Infantry, celebrated mass at Building 105 at the same hour, while Rev. P. J. Sheeran, chaplain of the Fifty-eighth Infantry, at Building 106, said mass at 8:30 o'clock and conducted general services there at 9:30 o'clock.

Three masses were celebrated at the Knights of Columbus building by Rev. William J. Stephenson, C. S. V., Catholic chaplain for the camp, at 8:30; by Rev. J. J. Casey, chaplain of the Fifty-ninth at 9:30 and Rev. M. J. Meehan, chaplain of the Sixtieth Infantry, at 9:30 o'clock. At each of these masses the chaplains dwelt at length upon the necessity of a spirit of self-sacrifice and obedience.

"E" COMPANY, 39TH, WINS BASEBALL GAME

In what might be termed an exciting affair, the strong baseball team of Company E, of the 39th Infantry, won over the Company C team, of the same regiment, on last Saturday afternoon. The game was close and errorless throughout. The score was 5 to 5.

Each team had one bad inning. For E company, the bad luck came in the first frame. For C company, the storm came in the second. Neither team did any more scoring until the ninth, when the E company outfit managed to put their sixth, and what proved to be the winning, run across.

In the way of features, we would not fail to mention the work of the batteries of both teams. Especially would we mention the hurling of the E company pitcher, Comorovsky, who only allowed five safeties, and forced 14 of his opponents to take three "healthies" and then retire to the bench.

The E company aggregation are desirous of arranging games with any of the other teams in the camp or with any team in the city of Charlotte. In making inquiries, write or see Sergeant V. M. Jenkins, of E company, 39th Infantry.

SUNDAY EVENING SERVICE AT BUILDING NO. 108

A very practical and helpful address was delivered Sunday evening, November 4th, by Rev. John W. Day the religious work director at building No. 105. The subject of Mr. Day's address was "Loyalty." Mr. Day urged the soldiers to be loyal to their friends, themselves and to their God. Many of the soldiers remained after the service to thank Mr. Day for his helpful talk.

"SQUADS RIGHTINGS" FROM C CO., 39TH

Company C now has a glass club, composed of the following men: Corporals Radtke and Krimer and Privates Sager, Gerstner and Auerbach. This bunch rendered some real live ones on the way from Syracuse down here. It is expected that they will do likewise while at Camp Greene.

If anyone loses a liver saw, the only thing to do is to immediately go and find Private Downie. It is rumored that this chap goes from kitchen to kitchen in search of such articles. How about it Downie?

"Happy" Auerbach is the company, if not the regiment, "fat man." There is something to this big company C specimen, no matter what direction you go—there will be man for about ten feet each way. So any of the other companies dare contest this statement?

Private Dave Hayduck certainly missed his calling when he joined the army, according to what his friends over in "C" have to say along this line. What it takes to use that crayon and brush, "Dave" seems to have it. Give him a stage and you've got a show already going. Can he entertain? Oh, Boy!

No mascot for Company "C." Private Katz fills the place like a professional.

For some reason the fellows want to know what size shoes Private Barbour wears. Some gunboats, those leather moccasins of his. Don't worry though, old man, so long as there is a thirty-nine there will be bull herda. Be brave.

AN OFFICER'S APPRECIATION.

An officer to Physical Director Goulette:
 "I want to tell you that I never had much use for the Y. M. C. A. before coming into camp. Since arriving here, your men have been kind to us in every way and have made us feel at home. That is the thing, the home touch, and we appreciate it. I just wrote to 'Dad' and told him that if he had any money to give away, to subscribe to the army Y. M. C. A. campaign fund."

COMPANY H, 39TH INFANTRY.

Sergeant Holland and Private Barnes were very busy last week locating apartments in the city of Charlotte. Their newly acquired better halves are to arrive soon.

According to what the other companies have to say, Company H is always on the job when it comes to making noise. This reputation was lost, however, one afternoon last week when "H" was asked to sing in the concert. The best that spectators could make out there were about six "n" in the company shouting forth the yellow strands of music. The "H" fellows say though that they will show up the other companies in the regiment yet.

When it comes to the mail call, there is one squad down in "H" that is always on the job when it comes to getting the sealed paper. And they get the funniest mail too—at times.

The fellows are about to get things fixed up now so that they can live at home. The next question is "Where do we go from here?"

The boys are enjoying, very much, the singing they are having in the afternoons. It won't be long until they will be good enough to sing in Berlin to make music for the Kaiser.

COMPANY F, THIRTY-NINTH.

We all like Camp Greene. Every man on the training squad is working hard these days in order to get in form to meet G Company on Saturday. We have great hopes too.

Mascot Bain will carry the ball to the field as well as attend to the water pails during the contest, that is, if Private Mann, doesn't beat him to the job.

Private Homer Bain says that he is going to "man out of the dope" and start soldiering again like he did down on the border with the old Thirtieth. Some surprise if he does.

A STORY.

One of the boys in a national guard company when writing to his mother incidentally mentioned that he had been doing kitchen police duty. In due time the mother wrote back as all fond mothers do.

She wrote: "I am awfully glad that you are getting along so well, John, and are advancing so rapidly. But now that you are on kitchen police, don't be too hard on the boys. Just remember you were a private yourself once."
