

BIG REVIVAL

This is revival week. No! We regret that we could not engage the services of our friend Billy Sunday, but we will have the revival all the same. There seems to have come a lull in the activities of the Jewish welfare board as the great number of troops left camp and immediately after the Passover celebration. However, the outlook seems much brighter at present.

The revival will start off with a sweeping publicity campaign. Thousands of announcements and programs of the activities have been printed and will be distributed freely. See that you get yours. Placards will be posted on all Y. M. C. A. huts, in the K. of C. building, etc. They will read as follows:

Review of the Week.

Last Saturday night the weekly smoker took place in the club room. Although the attendance was unusually poor for various reasons, the men had as good a time for all that. Smokes were freely distributed and before long one might have thought that the house was on fire. The program opened with a short talk by Mr. Nabow who, though a town resident, is taking commendable interest in the activities for the men. He was followed by an address by Mr. Konowitz who outlined the activities for the men and gave them, especially those who were newly arrivals, a glad welcome. "We are always at your command," he said, "and if you need any advice, help or friendship, we will be at your service." Private

GAME BETWEEN THIRD GAS CO. AND THIRD REGIMENT

The game between the Third Gas company and Second company of Third regiment ended with a score of 3-2, the former team having the long end. It was a good game from start to finish. The Second company scored first. Richards, their pitcher, scored in the second inning on a wild pitch. Both sides went without a further score until the last half of the sixth, when Londeree, the first man up, knocked between left and center for a home run. Wardell, next up, rapped one over rightfield for four sacks, making the score 2-1. The score stayed this way until the last half of the eighth. The battery for the Third company was Roberts and Faus; while Richards and Christ acted for the other team. Anyone wishing to get a game with the Third company see E. M. Wardell or Captain Grinnell.

skills then entertained the men with some individual and chorus singing, both characterized by lots of "pep" and enthusiasm. Mr. Konowitz taught the men a French song named "Alluetta" and advised the men to make good use of it in France. Pvt. Klein entertained the men with some impersonations and monologues. His minstrel features were particularly good especially his impersonation of Al Jolson. Pvt. Gordon then sang some comical ditties in which all the men joined in. Cocoa and cake were served and the evening was called the end.

On Sunday night the men spent a similarly enjoyable evening. Plenty of talent—and good talent at that were not lacking.

Wednesday night was another big night. The weekly dance was held at the town club room at 409 West Seventh street and proved a great success. Both the town and the men came with flying colors. The affair did not fall below the high standard set by the predecessors.

Jewish Welfare Building.

Plans and specifications are at Washington for the erection of a Jewish welfare building. When completed it will cost $75,000. It will contain a meeting and lecture hall seating about four hundred, and a club-room adjoining. As many of the comforts of homes will be supplied. The building will be two stories high and very impressive, because of its unique, yet simple construction. The site has not as yet been chosen but it will no doubt be in the vicinity of the post-office.

Contributions.

Contributions for this column will be more than welcome. This is also true of personals. Send all communications to the Jewish welfare board, "Y" 105, before Friday at noon.

PUBLIC DRINKING CUPS.

We have recently noticed in various parts of the camp tin cups suspended from hydrants or faucets. These are apparently placed there for the convenience of those who desire to drink water. The public drinking cup, for these are nothing else, is a very dangerous thing. Examinations of these cups made at various laboratories throughout the United States show that they are not only covered with the scales from the lips of the previous drinkers, but also contain many germs which cause disease.

One instance we know of something like forty cases of measles which were spread in this way. It is probable that not a few persons have contracted syphilis by drinking from cups which had previously been used by a syphilitic. There are thousands in the history of most cases of syphilis when the disease is largely manifested by small ulcers in the mouth. Should such a person drink from a cup, he would leave upon it the organism which causes syphilis and the next one to use the cup, should he have a slight abrasion on his lips, such as a cold-sore, would be very apt to contract syphilis.

Every man in the army is provided with a cup and he should take particular pains to keep it clean and who no other unless he is certain that it has been cleaned since it was last used.

Each female fly lays 120 eggs at a time. Her family at the end of the summer amounts to several millions. A swat NOW means a MILLION less flies during the summer.

A flies bowels move about once a minute. Each movement contains thousand of germs. If a fly rests on a particle of food for five minutes it will swarm with germs; many of them may cause serious sickness. Keep flies off your food.

LOYALTY.

A squad of fifty soldiers
Faced sturdy Captain French;
He said: "It's twenty volunteers
I want to raid that trench."

"The job is fraught with danger,
But one thing we must try
To rout the Hun, destroy his base,
For it means live or die."

He turned his back, he loved them all;
His eyes filled with tears,
And said "Advance one pace, my boys,
You twenty volunteers!"

"My God!" he cried when faced about,
And looked down at their feet,
"Is there not one among you all
Who dare that Hun to meet?"

Up spoke a young lieutenant,
As he scanned that tear-stained face,
"Why, Captain, when you gave the word,
We all advanced one pace."
