BASEBALL POPULAR AT REMOUNT STATION

The baseball team at the remount station, which has been organized recently, is showing all the symptoms of a good team. Already they have taken in two other teams here in camp.

Last Saturday they won their first game from the Fourth trench mortar by the score of 13 to 11. Cowgill was "throwing 'em over" for the remount team, and displayed the fact that he can come across with the stuff when needed. Sewzick on first, an old-timer at the game, showed that he is by no means a "has been." Captain Jones' handling of the team was of the first order, and his playing showed the boys that he was not only to lead but to set an example of real playing as well.

The rest of the players all contributed fully to the game, and though it was their first game together that fact was by no means evident. On Sunday Battery E, Thirteenth regiment was taken in camp. The game was very close and well played, the final score being 2 to 8. Ford was on the mound for the remount, and pitched gilt edge ball. The feature of the game was a double play pulled off by the remount boys, Spencer to Cowgill to Sewzick. The players on the remount team are: Sewzick, Masters, Ford, Cowgill, Breslin, Busaney, Stine, Cabell and Captain Jones. All those wishing games will please call Camp Greene 16 and ask for Jones.

INTERESTING THINGS AT 105.

Rabbi George Solomon, one of the chaplains at Camp Wadsworth, a prominent Jewish leader, will speak at 105 next Thursday night at 8:15. Men of all creeds are cordially invited to be present.

"Stunt night" at 105 on Tuesday night will be quite an interesting occasion. The program will be varied, including boxing, wrestling and music. A blackboard artist will draw cartoons. Physical Director Herfeld is getting down to brass tacks on his new job, and will soon have things going with a vim. All men near 105 having special ability in any line of entertainment are urged to confer with him promptly.

A series of addresses is being given at 105 on successive Monday nights on the general theme of "America in the War." The first was given by Mr. Darby, the building secretary, his subject being "Our Moral Aims." An outline of these addresses will appear in the columns later.

MATCHLESS FOOTWEAR VALU FOR OFFICERS

Herman's Officers' Shoe

Is a high-class, finely finished, handsome, comfortable shoe that will add the touch of completeness to the officer's new uniform, and that will "stand up" in wear, and prove a bigger money's worth of satisfaction than any other shoe on earth.

This Officers' Shoe is built on an English last. It has a full double sole of best oak leather. The turned welt-uppers are unlined. The plain soft toe has a leather lining and no box. The backstay is outside.

Comfort, durability and good style "stick out" all over this shoe. We make a complete line of Army Shoes at fair prices, and take pains to keep our line in a class by itself as to excellence of fit and finish. Catalog free.

REMOUNT STATION HAS "LARGE EVENING"

The Camp Greene re-mount station put itself on the map in athletics on Thursday night of the past week, when a highly successful athletic and stunt night program was staged on an open air platform that was recently erected by the soldiers stationed there. The program was arranged by W. J. McCreery, Y. M. C. A. secretary, who was recently stationed there, with the enthusiastic co-operation of the officers and men whom he served.

Mr. Jesse Gray, assistant social secretary of the Y. M. C. A., led off with a witty speech on "Do Married Men Make the Best Husbands." After that he gave a number of songs and monologues that were greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Gray was followed by a boxing bout. Messrs. A. R. Jones and Fenton Ford sparred for two rounds. These two men were evenly matched, and after two fast rounds there was no decision. This was followed by another two round boxing bout. The principals being C. H. Saunders and C. J. Dadeley. Though the former was the lighter of the two he displayed much skill, and was given a decision in the second round.

A wrestling bout was next on the program. Private Andrew Atzal and Sergeant Michalik were the principals. The first fall was gained by Michalik in 45 seconds, and a second in five minutes. Another bout between Privates William Tara and Curtis Cowgill aroused much interest. The first fall was credited to the former in one minute. A second fall went to Cowgill in one minute and a half. The decision was finally gained by Cowgill in a third fall that took nine minutes.

The final numbers on the program and the ones that provoked the most laughter were two blind-fold boxing matches. The first was between Private W. J. Mahoney and Corporal W. H. Crook. The second was between Privates Willis and Sergio.

SECRETARIES' SCHOOL COMES TO A CLOSE

between the English and German ideas.

In Dr. Laprade's closing lecture he dealt with the subject of democracy. He accepted Lincoln's Gettysburg definition as an adequate one, and held that up as the ideal. He dwelt particularly on the vital subject of the old antagonism between the capitalist and laboring classes, and told his hearers that after the war we are going to have an economic and social crisis that will demand the closest study and sympathy on the part of all thinking men. He warned his hearers of the fate which will befall the church if the new and pressing questions are not interpreted in the light of Christianity.

During this week a number of lectures on the Bible have featured the programs. Rev. W. T. Thompson, Jr., religious work director of the camp, delivered a series on the "Meaning of the Cross," which were masterful. T. Mangum, camp social secretary, gave a most helpful and interesting lecture on St. Paul's address to the Athenians.

Dr. Grogan, dean of the school, gave a number of lectures on the war work methods of the Y. M. C. A. These were followed by talks delivered by the various departmental heads, explaining the work and methods of their departments.

During the progress of the school there were a number of lectures from a distance, including Dr. H. E. Rondthaler, president of Salem College; Dr. C. A. Morse, consulting general secretary of the International Y. M. C. A.; Dr. A. M. Traywick, Southern field secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Dr. Laprade.

The school for secretaries, which has been conducted for the past two weeks by the Army Y. M. C. A. at Camp Greene, came to a close Friday. During this time the men in the service of the Y. M. C. A. have had the opportunity to hear many able lecturers, and have been acquainted with many phases of the work that they were not familiar with before. In speaking of the success of the undertaking, Dr. J. O. Grogan, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., expressed himself as highly pleased with it.

The lectures of Dr. W. T. Laprade, professor of history at Trinity college, were a feature of the session. Dr. Laprade's theme for the course of lectures was the historical background of the war. In his two closing lectures on Thursday and Friday of this week he reached the high-water mark of interest and instruction. The first lecture had to do with the subject of "The History of Human Liberty." He traced the development of this human achievement from brute creation until the present day, treating every step that man has made in the upward climb in a most interesting way. A most striking comparison was made

SONG SERVICE POPULAR ENTERTAINMENT WITH MEN

Miss Myrtle Padgett and Miss Johnnie Jabson, pianist and soloist respectively, an orchestra of Motor Mechanics and a quartet of singings from various organizations in the neighborhood of Y. M. C. A. building 104 contributed to a song service held Monday evening, April 29, in Building 194, under the direction of D. Ward Millam, camp music director.

Several solos of unusual merit were rendered by Miss Jamison which were appreciated to a marked degree. So highly appreciated were Miss Padgett's efforts that her audience almost refused to allow her to cease playing.

The following men comprised the orchestra: A. A. Copeland, piano; H. D. Lord and G. W. Sutton, mandolins, and C. S. Brown, violin. Their program consisted largely of popular airs.

The singing of popular war songs together with standard martial music of the nation by the entire audience under the direction of the camp music director was one of the most popular features of the evening and the familiarity with the words and music of nearly every popular piece of the day manifested by the audience was remarkable.

Y. M. C. A. DEFEATS MEDICAL SUPPLY.

In a game of baseball that was replete with interest and featured by a number of "good plays," the Y. M. C. A. secretaries outplayed a team representing the medical supply depot of the base hospital on Friday afternoon. The score was 3 to 1 in favor of the secretaries. The medical supply team gave a good account of itself, in spite of the fact that it was only recently organized and had not had time to practice much together.

The features of the game were the all round playing and batting of Thompson, shortstop on the "Y." team; the good fielding of the medical; a long and difficult catch in left field by McCreery, of the "Y."; and the playing of Rupp on third for the Y. M. C. A. Beshlow pitched good ball for the hospital team, as did Aylisworth for the other.

FIFTEENTH VS. NINETEENTH.

In a hard fought game, in which the honors were even up until the last inning, Fifteenth company, Third motor mechanics, defeated a team representing the Nineteenth company one afternoon the past week. The batteries were Gauthier and Ranney for the Fifteenth, McKeeney and Ranney for the Nineteenth. As usual, there was a good crowd of spectators, and a number of enthusiastic fans.
