Joseph C. Grew Warns

Half-Effort Will Not Defeat Japan

By JOSEPH C. GREW

United States Ambassador to Japan until the outbreak of war, and author of "Report From Tokio."

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the National "RAY TEE" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In describing one of the big air battles over Guadalcanal a recent newspaper account tells of an American flyer who parachuted from his crippled plane to the waters of Lunga Bay. The Navy craft which picked him up next went to the rescue of a Japanese pilot seen struggling in the water nearby. As the rescue boat reached the Japanese flyer he suddenly pulled out his revolver, aimed it at the drenched American pilot and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode. Then the Japanese officer turned the gun on himself with suicidal intent. Again he pulled the trigger and again his revolver failed him. At this point an American sailor knocked him out with a boat hook and pulled him aboard the American craft a prisoner.

Almost daily one reads eye-witness stories such as this one, and all of them clearly demonstrate that war with our enemy in the Pacific cannot end in compromise.

For ten years I lived in Japan. The truth as I know it from close observation is this: Nothing less than the exertion of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of offense will bring our beloved country safely to the longed-for haven of victorious peace.

The Japanese are pawns of a senseless but mighty militarism—a warrior caste which is ruthless and cruel beyond comprehension.

JOSEPH C. GREW

Says It's Fight to Finish

From the flood of eye witness accounts of atrocity and bestiality one fact shines clear. We must utterly crush that machine and caste and system. If, however, we Americans think that collectively and individually we can continue to lead our normal lives, leaving the spirit of self-sacrifice to our soldiers and sailors, we shall unquestionably run the risk of a stalemate with Japan. I do not have the slightest doubt of our eventual victory. But I do not wish to see the period of our blood, sweat and tears indefinitely and unnecessarily prolonged. We must not fail to realize that we are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot be broken even by successive defeats and untold economic hardship, a people who gladly sacrifice their lives for their Emperor and their nation. We must also remember that Japan did not start this war without carefully laid military plans for victory over the United States and a peace dictated by their war lords at the White House.

This is a total war, the only answer to which is a total American victory. It is a war in which half measures of any kind mean incredible waste of material, energy and human life. In this sense a half-filled War Savings Stamp album is symbolic of a half effort. There are, I am told, roughly 100 million partially completed War Stamp albums now in circulation. These uncompleted Stamp albums are, in a measure, like a 100 million threats to a speedy and victorious peace. On the other hand, for every War Savings album completed and cashed in for a Bond, you the owner have helped some soldier or sailor take a forward step on the uphill road to total victory. U. S. State College Hints for Farm Homemakers

By RUTH CURRENT
N. C. State College

It's good housekeeping to keep your iron clean. It will last longer and you can do a better ironing job. Keep the iron dusted and the surface clean and smooth. Remove starch spots with a cloth wrung from soapsuds. If this doesn't work, try a mild scouring powder, or rub lightly with grade 00 steel wool. Wipe off with a damp cloth and then rub dry.

If your iron sticks as you work, rub it on a little salt sprinkled on paper, or smooth with paraffin or beeswax. Putting a pinch of salt in the starch helps to keep starched clothes from sticking to the iron. Once a month, wax the ironing surface while still warm with a small amount of paraffin or beeswax. Be sure to wipe off any excess wax.

When you put your iron away, remove the cord if it is detachable. In disconnecting a detachable cord, take the plug out of the wall outlet first, then remove the plug from the iron. Never pull on the cord to disconnect it . . . take hold of the plug. Strain on the cord may loosen wires from their connection.

Coil the cord loosely or hang where it will not bend sharply. Sharp bending may injure the wire.

When you put away an iron with a permanently attached cord, coil the iron before you coil the cord around the handle. Always avoid touching the cord with the hot iron or you may injure both cord covering and insulation.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE SEEKING TRAINEES

All men who are interested in receiving training in electric welding and getting good paying jobs after training has been completed are urged to contact the United States Employment Service, 120 Donaldson St., Fayetteville, N. C. The Employment Service has immediate openings for ten trainees on the first or second shift. Persons completing this training are placed by the Employment Service in Wilmington or Norfolk ship yards.

For further information contact the U. S. Employment Service representative, who is at the Hoke County Office Building each Thursday from 9:30 A. M. to 11:00 A. M.

IF YOUR NOSE "CLOSES UP" TONIGHT

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE

Here's mighty good news . . . If your nose "closes up" tonight and makes breathing difficult, put 3-purpose Vicks Vapo-nol up each nostril. Vapo-nol does 3 important things. (1) It shrinks swollen membranes, (2) soothes irritation, (3) relieves transient nasal congestion. It brings more comfort, makes breathing easier, thus prevents many colds developing if used in time. Follow directions in folder.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. What are good varieties of soybeans for North Carolina conditions?

A. Agronomist A. D. Stuart says results from last year's variety tests indicated that Wood's Yellow, Tokio, Arksoy, and Herman are still among the best obtainable. However, a new variety from Tennessee—Ogden—has been outstanding. It is high-yielding, low growing, branching, green-seeded, and partially non-shattering. It is similar to the Tokio variety in being able to set a good crop of seed under adverse conditions.

Picture Circular Issued On Gardens

A new publication showing in pictures the step-by-step procedure in preparing and growing a garden has just been issued by the Extension Service of N. C. State College.

Prepared by Lewis P. Watson, the publication is designed to impress the gardener with the importance of proper preparation of the seed bed, the correct placement of fertilizing materials, the proper handling of seed and plants, and the necessity of good care in cultivating the plants during the growing period.

A free copy of this booklet may be obtained by writing to the Agricultural Editor, State College, Raleigh, and asking for Extension Circular No. 261, "A Garden Guide."

The illustrated guide shows how a garden should be handled from the time the ground is broken to the time the vegetables are harvested. The methods described, according to Watson, are those which have been tried and found satisfactory under normal conditions.

Forty-seven of the step-by-step pictures are contained in the 20-page circular, which has an attractive cover page of tomatoes in colors.

Growers To Combat White Peach Scale

The growing invasion of the white peach scale, which has made substantial gains in North Carolina orchards since 1940, will be met with a "secret weapon" this year, reports Dr. Clyde F. Smith, entomologist of N. C. State College.

Not serious many years, the peach scale made noticeable gains in the Sandhills in 1940, moved into new territory and new orchards in 1941, and made additional advances last year.

Dr. Smith said the "secret weapon" farmers can use against this unwelcome invader is two applications of a 4 per cent oil emulsion. The two sprays should be applied before the buds begin to swell on the trees. They should be spaced about two weeks apart.

The State College specialist suggested that growers go through their orchards and spray the infested trees first. Then two or three weeks later, the entire orchard should be sprayed with the oil emulsion.

If the sprays are applied thoroughly, they will control the white peach scale as well as another enemy, the San Jose scale. Two sprays are absolutely necessary for satisfactory control, Dr. Smith said.

PRIORITY

An order giving essential war food and fiber crops first priority on the Nation's limited supply of chemical fertilizers has been issued by War Food Administrator Wichard.

"It Takes Both"

It takes both . . . a Punch and Judy to stage a pantomime show and two hands to pull the strings behind the scenes. It takes both . . . War Bonds and Taxes to finance the staggering cost of this global war. Buy War Bonds and more War Bonds every payday as you pay your Victory Tax. U. S. Treasury Department

NOTICE OF SALE OF LAND

WHEREAS, on the 16th day of May, 1934, Flora Jane McLaughlin executed and delivered unto W. O. McGibony, trustee for The Federal Land Bank of Columbia, a certain deed of trust which is recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Hoke County, North Carolina, in Book 22, at Page 29; and

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured as therein provided, and the trustee has been requested by the owner and holder thereof to exercise the power of sale therein contained:

NOW, THEREFORE, under and by virtue of the authority conferred by the said deed of trust the undersigned Trustee will on the 26th day of February, 1943, at the court house door of Hoke County, North Carolina, at twelve o'clock noon offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate:

All that certain tract or parcel of land containing ninety one and forty one-hundredths (91.40) acres and known as the A. A. Graham place and now owned by Mrs. Flora Jane McLaughlin, about five miles South of Raeford, on both sides of State Highway No. 70, in Antioch Township Hoke County, N. C., bounded on the North by lands of J. A. Hodgkin and Mrs. S. A. Parnell; on the East by Mrs. Morgan and Miss Maggie Leach (sisters); on the South by the said Hodgkin; and on the West by said Hodgkin.

Said property is more particularly described by metes and bounds, in accordance with a plat made by J. H. Blue, Surveyor, February, 1934, G. B. Rowland, Agt. Atty. for Trustee and in the deed of trust above mentioned, to which reference is made. This property is being sold subject to 1943 taxes.

A deposit of 10% of any bid not exceeding $500 and 5% of any bid in excess thereof will be required. If said deposit is not made at the close of the bidding, the property will be resold at two o'clock P. M. of the same day.

This the 22nd day of January, 1943.

W. O. McGIBONY, Trustee.

Wives Wanted!

... To Furnish Homes That Will Please Their Husbands

And we have just the furniture and furnishings they need—while the total cost will be much less than you think.

Right now, when you can no longer spend money for automobiles, tires, and gallivanting around, it is a good time to buy those home furnishings you have been putting off all these years. It will make your home more comfortable, more liveable, at a time when you spend more time at home.

If you pay cash, your savings will be greater, which means you will have that much more to put into War Savings Bonds and Stamps.
