Now Is Time To Order Fertilizer

Assistant Agriculture Commissioner D. S. Coltrane recently advised North Carolina farmers to place orders as soon as possible for the fertilizer they will need next spring.

"Every farmer who has a dry place in which fertilizer can be stored should put in his order now and have it shipped as soon as convenient," said Coltrane.

He declared that fertilizer manufacturers have about the same amount of materials this season as last year, but they are still handicapped by labor shortages and transportation difficulties.

If the anticipated heavy demand for fertilizer is to be met by planting time, there must be an orderly movement of fertilizer from the factory to the farm, according to Coltrane.

"The farmer who orders his fertilizer early and gets it under his own roof will not only be helping himself, he will be helping some farmer who lacks storage space," said Coltrane.

Start at No. 1, and enclose each number in turn. When your drawing is done, you'll see the name of the person who has a personal stake in business-managed electric light and power service.

Carolina POWER & LIGHT Company

Draw your own conclusions

It's A FACT. Almost everybody has a personal stake in America's self-supporting, tax-paying electric companies.

There are millions of people on the stockholder lists of these companies — housewives, farmers, nurses, teachers, mechanics. You may be one of these many direct owners.

But even if you're not — if you have a savings account or life insurance policy — you are included among the indirect owners of this industry.

Your savings bank and insurance company put your deposits and premiums to work. A lot of your money goes into electric light and power securities. That's because years of dependable service and good business management on the part of the electric companies have made their securities a sound investment.

Next time you hear anybody talking about the owners of the electric industry — remember, they're talking about you!
