SCC Announces Changes In Health Care Programs

Southern Pines -- Dr. Raymond A. Stone, president of Sandhills Community College, and Dr. H.G. Beard, dean of instruction, have announced the reorganization of health-care programs and changes in the faculty beginning July 1 of this year.

Dr. Charles A. Speas Phillips, who has been chairman of the department of health occupations education at Sandhills, has resigned due to pressure of his extensive private practice. His resignation was accepted with regret by college officials who credit Dr. Phillips with constructive advances in the number and quality of curriculums in health education.

Effective July 1, two distinct departments will materialize. The Department of Nursing will include the two-year associate degree program, and the one-year program in practical nurse education. The Department of Allied Health Education will include the two-year associate degree programs in medical laboratory technology, respiratory therapy technology, and radiologic technology, and the one-year program in operating room technology.

The department heads will be Virginia C. Brockway, chairman of the Department of Nursing, and D. Paul Boswell, acting chairman of the Department of Allied Health Education until Jan. 1, 1978 when Judith A. Davis returns to the faculty as chairman from graduate study at the University of Florida.

Miss Brockway joins the Sandhills faculty from Clemson University, Greenville. A native of Michigan, she had pre-medical work at Western Michigan University, and earned an R.N. at Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, South Bend, Ind. She holds a bachelor of science degree in nursing from the University of Iowa, and a master's in nursing education from UNC - Chapel Hill. She is a member of several professional state and national organizations.

Boswell, a member of the Sandhills faculty for two years, is a native North Carolinian. He holds a bachelor of science degree in biology from High Point College, had graduate study in microbiology and physiology at the Medical College of Georgia, and holds a master's in medical technology from the Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

Dr. Beard commented that the new organization in health studies reflects the rapidly expanding student enrollment and the allied health programs.

Electrocution may occur from low voltage in the home, mostly if the hands or body are wet, or while standing on a wet floor or touching a metal object such as a faucet or pipe while contacting the electricity. Bath rooms are most dangerous. One should not operate electrical equipment - radios, heaters, dryers, etc. - while in the bathtub or shower. Electrocution victims may suffer heart failure as well as breathing failure.
