quest to authorize spending up to $1,500 more to have a sewer line to the Raeford-Hoke Village shopping center built. Matthews said the cost would total $6,200 to $6,500, and that the city has $5,000 in its budget for the expense now.

The shopping center is under construction on a tract at Cole Avenue Extension and U.S. 401 south bypass.

Referring to last week's discovery of a sewer-line break, Matthews explained that a leak was reported at 10:15 a.m. July 25 by a private citizen and at first was believed to be in the Armory Park area. But Bill Sellars, city public works director, found the cause on East Prospect Avenue after "walking" the routes of the lines, which are underground.

A state technician also was called in, and when the break was discovered, necessary equipment, including some from Asheboro, was assembled Wednesday, and the repair work was started at 7:30 a.m. Thursday. The repair was completed some time later.

Matthews said the line appeared as though it had been sawed in two, but the cause of the break was believed caused by the accumulated effects of the pounding of the pavement above the line by traffic on the street over a period of time. The break occurred in a 24-inch pipe, Matthews said.

The council also adopted a motion to meet at 7:30 p.m. August 16 with the Hoke County commissioners to discuss matters concerning the city-county landfill operation. The meeting was requested by the county commissioners for "all parties concerned."

Since the next regular meeting of the council falls on Labor Day, the council adopted a motion postponing the regular session for September to September 13.

'Live On Broadway' At Upchurch

Student Musical, Dance Show This Week

On Thursday and Friday the Hoke County Youth Summer Theatre program will present an evening of music, song and dance in the Upchurch Junior High School auditorium.

The program begins each evening at 8:15. Admission is $1 per person. The program is entitled "Live On Broadway."

The Youth Summer Theatre program is sponsored jointly by the Hoke County Arts Council and the Hoke County Board of Education. Program coordinator is Mrs. Mary Archie McNeill, cultural arts coordinator for the Hoke County Schools. The professional staff members employed are Ann Dorsey, vocal specialist; Jeff Whicker, music director; and Pat Yates, production director.

Thirty Hoke County young people, rising Fifth through 12th graders, have participated in this month-long project. Every weekday they have come together in the Upchurch auditorium for extensive vocal and dance rehearsals. Students have prepared special costumes and sets for this presentation.

The first act of the program focuses on music from Broadway musicals of special interest to children. From the recent Broadway play and newly released film, "Annie," five production numbers have been chosen: "Maybe," "Hard Knock Life," "You're Never Fully Dressed Without A Smile," "I Don't Need Anything But You," and "Little Girls."

Also from the Broadway show and a later film, "Peter Pan," three production numbers have been chosen: "I Gotta Crow," "I Won't Grow Up," and the lovely lullaby, "Tender Shepherd."

From the Broadway show, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," two production numbers have been prepared: "The Glee Club Rehearsal" and "Happiness." From the popular Broadway musical and film, "The Sound of Music," the production number "So Long, Farewell" will be performed.

Two special numbers, "Triplets" and "If Momma Was Married" will be presented by three youngsters in special infant costumes. There are 30 special youngsters participating in the first act of the program. They are Van Bernhardt, Kerry Booker, Chris Clark, Charles Myers, Ron Parson, Holli Poole, Susan Ragsdale, Kelly Sessoms.

Casey Williams, and Mark Williamson. These are all rising Fifth through Eighth graders.

The second act of the program covers an extensive variety of music from Broadway. Production numbers will include country/Western, traditional ballads, "boogie woogie," jazz, and special dance selections.

The second act opens with the production number, "One," from the show, "A Chorus Line." The beautiful solo, "Summertime," from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," is performed by Tanya Bruton.

Two production numbers have been specially arranged by Jeff Whicker from the recently released film based on the Broadway play, "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas." They are the girls' chorus number of "Hard Candy Christmas" and the barbershop quartet number, "Good Old Girl," featuring soloist Terry Dooley.

The beautiful solo from the film "Mary Poppins," "Feed the Birds," is performed by Kelly Chalaire and mimed by Sally McLean. A production medley of "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" and "In the Mood" combines the special harmonies and dance steps of the 1950s.

An additional selection, "Easy Street," has been gleaned from the musical "Annie."

The mysterious, speakeasy number "Hernando's Hideaway" from the Broadway play and film, "The Pajama Game," is performed by a full cast ensemble.

Two numbers, "Fame" and "The Body Electric" are also presented by full ensemble.

A medley of three traditional love songs, "Once Upon A Time" from "All American," "If I Ever I Would Leave You" from "Camelot," and "Joanna" from "Sweeney Todd," are performed by Melody Williamson, Arnold Miller, and Ronnie Haynes, respectively.

Other young people, rising Ninth through 12th graders, participating in the program are Cynthia Gibson, Linda Glisson, Dorcas Hostetler, Adrienne Kemp, Randall Matthews, Kim McNeill, Anita Maria McRae, Elizabeth Ragsdale, Pandora Tew, Sampson Quick and Meri Christi Williamson.

This is a "First" for the Hoke County area students. If successful it may prove to be a cornerstone or incentive for further performance programs for Hoke County children.

The support of all area citizens is sincerely appreciated.

IN MUSICAL -- These high school students will be seen Thursday and Friday nights in the musical review "Live on Broadway," Act II, on the Upchurch Junior High School stage. They are shown here shortly after starting another rehearsal on a recent afternoon. The show starts at 8:15 each night. The high school actors include Terry Dooley, Ronnie Haynes, Dorcas Hostetler, Tanya Bruton, Elizabeth Ragsdale, Randall Matthews, Anita McRae, Sampson Quick, Kim McNeill, Arnold Miller, Sally McLean, Adrienne Kemp, Meri and Christie Williamson, Pandora Tew, Cynthia Gibson, and Linda Glisson.
