

... City seeking CD funds

Both revisions involved the repayment of funds," Green said. "I think we can take care of that in this application," he added.

Last year over 200 municipalities and counties applied for the approximately $28 million in funds that were up for grabs in the state. Only about 40 projects were funded last year.

In further business, councilmen voted to spend $48,000 on new equipment for a city sewage pump station.

Four new pumps, motors and a control board will be purchased with the approved funds to replace old machinery presently at the station.

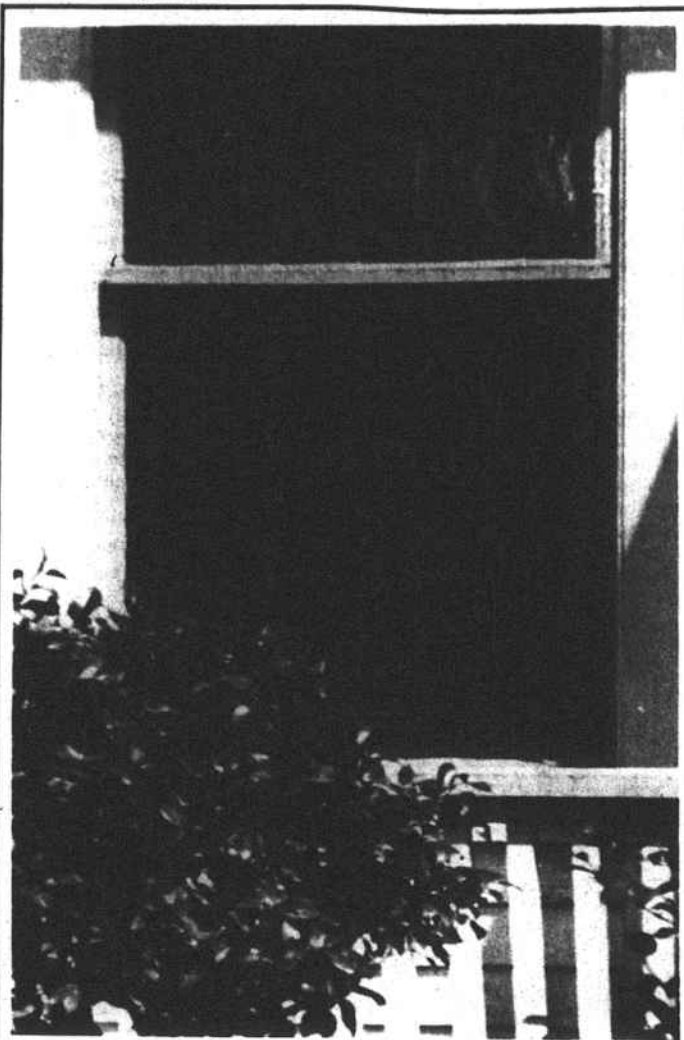

"I think we need to spend the money. From what I understand, if we lose one of those pumps we could be in serious trouble," Councilman Joe Upchurch said.

Councilmen also approved a $1,000 contribution to the Hoke Heritage Hobnob festival that is slated for May 4 and 5 in Raeford.

Ellis receives mall promotion

Barry Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ellis of Raeford, was promoted to manager of the Manalapan Mall in Manalapan, New Jersey.

He was previously an assistant manager with the Chesterfield Mall in St. Louis, Missouri.

Lonely observer

This lonely Red Springs pup positioned himself at a window to watch as hundreds of area residents, police, rescue squad members and National Guardsmen try to piece back together the remains of the town that was devastated in last Wednesday's storm.

Water highlights 4-H meeting

Water, wildlife and upcoming events were the topics covered during a March 20 meeting of the Hillcrest Junior 4-H Club.

Members were reminded of these upcoming 4-H events:

•4-H Fashion Revue on April 25 at the 4-H Office.

•4-H Junior Activity Day in Snow Hill on April 14.

The program "Water - You Can't Live Without It" was presented by president Leah Hendrix. Members closed their eyes and took an imaginary trip on a raft down a river and then imagined themselves sitting in a small boat in the middle of a lake. Everyone was given an opportunity to express their reaction to these sensory trips.

A slide show by the National Wildlife Federation was shown. It gave information and showed scenes of water resources and uses.

The 4-H'ers did a puzzle "Water Word Scramble".

Winners, Michelle and Cheryl Burns, received colorful posters of wildlife in a water habitat. All 4-H members and guests received wildlife stickers.

Ronda Tatum and Leah Hendrix gave a skit promoting a 4-H Health Fair for Hoke County, which will be held later in the spring.

All Hoke County 4-H Clubs will be contributing to this event in an effort to make all citizens of our county aware of how to be healthier.

Christy Robinette, recreation chairman, led the group in a game, "If you love me, you'll give me a smile". A demonstration of "Break Dancing" was also held.

Video dedication slated for Library Monday

The Hoke County Bicentennial Committee will dedicate new video equipment to the Hoke Public Library next Monday night.

The equipment will be used primarily for video taping historical events. The festivities will begin at 7:30 p.m.

In addition to the dedication ceremony, Robert Gatlin, Luke McNeill and Ruth McEachern will be presenting a tape on Hoke County historical sites. A recently video taped copy of the City of Raeford's film which was made during the 1930's will also be shown. McEachern will share a book review on the Gilchrist family and the Mill Prong House during the dedication.

A reception will follow the ceremony. The public is invited to attend.
