Freeze obtains Peace honors

Lorayna Michelle (Mikki) Preeze of Raeford was among the approximately 170 young women graduated from Peace College during the 112th Commencement May 12. She received the Associate of Arts degree.

Miss Freeze is the daughter of Mrs. Oleta K. Lopez of 161 Ruby Street in Raeford and Mack L. Freeze of New Bern.

At Peace, she was an office assistant in the academic dean's office, a resident assistant; chairman of the North Carolina Student Legislature; and key prepresen-tative for the Rufus Edminsten campaign office.

Graduation exercises were held on the front lawn of the campus in front of historic Main Hall. According to tradition, graduates wore long white dresses and carried red roses

Marilyn Butler of Bladenboro, a graduating sophomore, gave the commmencement address. She was chosen for that honor by her classmates

Peace President S. David Frazier conferred degrees during the ceremony. Academic Dean Helen C. Staples presented the candidates for graduation.

James K. Dorsett, Jr., chairman of the Peace Board of Trustees, presented each graduate with a specially inscribed Bible. Peace graduates have received Bibles at each commencement since the Presbyterian college opened in

Also participating in commencement exercises were the Rev. George Thomas, Peace chaplain, and the Peace College Choir and Chamber Singers, both under the direction of James S. Smith.

Other graduation activities included a Friday evening bac-calaureate sermon by Dr. T. Hartley Hall IV, president of Earnest receives Wake Forest JD degree Evelyn Sharon Earnest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Weathersbee of Rt. 2, Raeford, was among about 1,000 students J.D. degree. She was president of the Black Law Student Association who received degrees during com-mencement exercises at Wake and a member of the Women-in-Forest University May 21. Earnest graduated from the School of Law and received the Law Society.

in Raleigh.

ceremony.

She did her undergraduate study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and receiv-ed the B.A. degree. Three students receive degrees

North Carolina State University conferred more than 3,800 degrees May 12 during its 95th commence ment, setting a new annual record for number of degrees awarded.

Acting on behalf of the faculty and trustees, NCSU Chancellor Bruce R. Poulton awarded some 2,800 baccalaureate, 720 master's, 260 doctoral and 20 professional degrees before a crowd of more than 10,000 parents and friends atceremonies in Reynolds Coliseum. These candidates for degrees from Hoke County were among the graduates:

Raeford

BACHELORS -- Robert Matheson Jordan, business management, son of Dr. and Mrs. R.M. Jordan, Fulton St.; Marshall M. Newton, agronomy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.B Newton, Rt. 4. Red Springs

BACHELORS-Julia Lee Gibson, chemical engineering, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Gibson, Rt. 1.

For the first time since 1975 the university awarded an honorary degree, the Doctor of Humane etters, which was granted to Dr. Theodore W. Schultz, an emertius economics professor at the University of Chicago. Schultz, who won the 1979

Nobel Memorial Prize in Economic Science, is recognized for his contributions to the economic development of poor nations.

Honored as valedictorian was Richard Glynn Cooper of Salemburg, a chemistry major who achieved a perfect 4.0 grade average for his four years' work at the university.

Kyle Corbin, a computer science major from Raleigh, was recogniz-ed as salutatorian. He achieved a 3.992 grade point average. Dr. Abraham Holtzman, NCSU professor of political science and public administration, gave the principal address, "Political public administration of the principal address, "Political principal address, Dangerous Illusions.

In his speech, Holtzman said two stereotypes--that politicians are evil and that government is a problem rather than a solution-cause people to be uninvolved in the democratic process.

Holtzman told the graduates that they should be willing to look at politicians and government as positive and constructive elements" and then they "should be willing to participate in the democratic process and to use government in a constructive way."

Seventeen newly-elected members of the NCSU Academy of Outstanding Teachers were announced. Selected from this group by student leaders to represent the academy at commencement and receive monetary awards were Dr. Leon Freedman, professor of chemistry, and Dr. Gary N. Mock, associate professor of textile chemistry. Since NCSU holds only one commencement a year, degrees earned by those who completed requirements since last May were of-ficially awarded May 12.

Bundy receives BS

Two hundred sixty-seven Wingate College students were awarded baccalaureate degrees at the college's commencement ceremonies held outdoors on Saturday, May 5, including one Raeford resident. James Michael Bundy, of Rt. 2 Raeford, was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree.

The commencement speaker was the Rev. Dr. Duke McCall, president of the Baptist World Alliance and former president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

Mikki Freeze

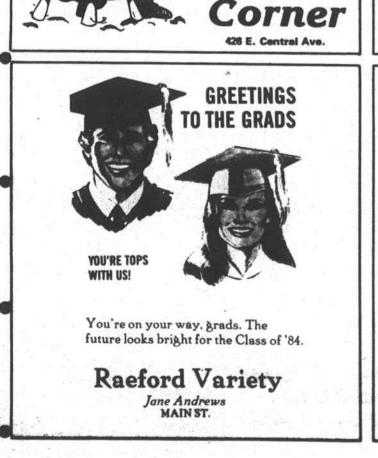

Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va. The traditional religious service for graduates took place at First Presbyterian Church

A communion service was held on campus prior to graduation and a luncheon for graduation and their families followed the Clerk of Court Hoke County BEST * WISHES to the Graduates! Our best wishes for success! Keep up the fine work ---the sky's the limit. Set new goals and keep going! Four-O-One Gulf Service HWY. 401 SOUTH Billy & Don Norton