...Around Town continued

be a wonderful thing for Hoke County if everyone was as interested in who will serve our state as Bill McFadyen.

We don't have many rights. Voting is one of them, so use it when you can.

Several weeks ago an item was in this column about the peach orchard of Raz Autry. Now Raz has had this orchard for several years and he always would tell me he was going to bring me some peaches. It seems that just about the time the peaches were getting ripe something would appear in the newspaper that would cause Raz to not bring me any peaches.

Recently while playing golf he said for me not to buy any peaches this year because he would have plenty and would bring me some.

Of course I smartly replied, "I hope we don't get mad this year!"

Last Friday night, after going out for a shrimp plate at a local restaurant, we returned home to find a bag of peaches on the side steps. There was a note written on the bag and it was as follows:

"I brought this to Mary Alice before you made me mad. Raz."

Thanks Raz for the peaches and I will say that since both of us are now in retirement, you may have to bring another bag. I won't make you mad.

Last week I mentioned about feeling old when a classmate's granddaughter graduated. Once again this is brought to mind when I found a note on my desk about a teacher retiring after 30 years.
Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Thawick

McKeithan of the 71st community of Cumberland County retired this year after 30 years of teaching in Montgomery and Cumberland Counties.

Maybe many readers of this column didn't remember Lib Thawick, but she was in high school (8th grade) the year I graduated. Her father, the Rev. Floyd Thawick, was the pastor of the Raeford Methodist Church during the early 30's.

Join the club Mary Lib. There is nothing like it - retirement.

It seems that US 401 has come to the surface again concerning either four-lanes or a passing lane between Raeford and Fayetteville. It would be good to see it come to the surface sometime other than election years.

...City taxes hiked

mercial garbage collection business, some business owners who purchased containers were given free service.

No contract existed and the agreement has expired, Phillips said.

By adding the new charges, the city is expected to receive about $6,740 in revenue.

Rebuilding year

The coming fiscal year will be a rebuilding year for the city, Phillips said, noting that funds have been allocated to rebuild the municipal capital reserve account.

The account will be built to about $310,000 and interest earned on the money has also been budgeted as revenue, the city manager said.

Raeford's new budget also includes these items:

*A $37,500 appropriation to be used at the airport as matching funds for the construction of a terminal.

*The purchase of a new police car for $10,000. The vehicle will be used as a replacement for a car which has more than 80,000 miles on it.

*The purchase of a pickup truck for the water department. The truck is expected to cost $9,000 and replace a 1961 model.

*The purchase of a chain saw and other equipment for the fire department.

*Funds in the capital reserve account for the future purchase of a fire truck, a street sweeper, a backhoe, a generator, an air blower and for downtown revitalization.

*A budget of an additional $85,150 for the airport, which included $75,000 for the purchase of land.

*A contribution of $2,000 to the Hoke County Library for the purchase of a microfilm reader printer.

Council members also voted to give the Hoke County Children's Center $1,000 out of the current budget to go towards the purchase of a van.

The number of households in the United States will increase an average of 1.6 to 1.7 million a year during the 1980s, according to the U.S. Census Bureau projections.
