

Movies on tap for Friday at Hoke Library

By Elizabeth Burgess

Our Summer Reading Program is off to a wonderful start. We have had such delightful children to attend our reading programs and our story hours. Betsy McNeill has spent many hours planning for the programs and story hours, and it is evident that her hard work has not been in vain.

The library circulation is way up, and the interest in reading displayed by the young people is keen.

A reminder to parents, our Monday morning summer reading programs will not be held this coming Monday, July 2. We will continue our programs on Monday, July 9.

We had Doris Austin to entertain the children on June 18. She sang songs and really got all the children involved in the enjoyment of music. We appreciate Doris giving the library her time and talent.

Steve McNeill treated the children to the world of wood carving and got the children involved in doing some creating of their own. We thank Steve for being a gracious volunteer in our summer reading program.

On July 9, Robert Gatlin will be with us to give the children some interesting information on the history of Raeford and Hoke County. Robert has been with us before, and we certainly look forward to hearing him.

The library is offering movies every Friday night beginning June 30. These movies are being shown at different times, so please take note of the following schedule. We would love to have you join us on Friday nights. Bring the entire family for a free movie and lots of fun!

Camp offers youth view of technology

A special camp has been scheduled August 5-10 to give Hoke County young people, ages 12 to 19, an opportunity to learn more about electricity and new technology.

The camp will be held at Betsy-Jeff Penn 4-H Center near Reidsville.

Topics to be covered during the week include what computers can and cannot do, new cooking techniques, electric experiments, designing and wiring electric circuits, generating electricity, conserving energy, new energy sources, mysteries of lighting, backlighting, and fluorescent lighting.

Recreational activities include a magic show, dance, movie, swimming, canoeing, volleyball, archery and crafts.

A tour of the Chinqua-Penn Plantation is also scheduled, according to Alice Pettitt, 4-H Agent.

The cost of the camp is $75, which includes lodging, meals, insurance, transportation and other camp expenses.

The camp is sponsored by the Department of Biological and Agricultural Engineering and the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service at North Carolina State University in cooperation with Carolina Power and Light Co., Duke Power Co., Virginia Electric and Power Co., and Nantahala Power and Light Co.

Additional information and applications can be obtained by calling 875-2162.

Applications are due July 15.
