

Billy Monroe appointed Red Springs postmaster

William (Billy) Monroe has been appointed the new Postmaster at Red Springs, effective Saturday, September 8, Sectional Center Manager/Postmaster Peter A. Bernard said.

Monroe, 46, is a native of Hoke County and has served as the Superintendent of Postal Operations at the Raeford Post Office for the past seven years.

Monroe began his postal career out of high school in 1958 as a Carrier at the Raeford Post Office. He has served in numerous Officer-in-Charge assignments and details. He has taken numerous postal related training courses through the Postal Employees Development Center and has a two-year degree in Postal Technology from Fayetteville Technical Institute.

Monroe has one daughter and is active in the Raeford Lions Club and Jaycees.

Postmaster selections are made on the basis of merit from a list of qualified candidates submitted to the Sectional Center Manager by a Review Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulford McMillan recently attended his old Army division reunion in Kentucky. Fulford said that approximately 1100 veterans, wives and children were in attendance.

It is always good to talk to anyone about a reunion, because most times it has been a happy occasion and you hear about the good old days and how the people have changed in looks.

Can't wait until November for the old Btry. "F" reunion.

They were in good spirits and both said that retirement was just what they needed. It was good talking to them and I agree that retirement is fine.

Last week I received the following letter and it is being run in this column without the knowledge of the writer of the letter. Hope she doesn't mind.

Greetings,
In the spring I wrote to you asking that you become involved with a reactivated Hoke County Historical Association.

This week I have learned that interested, caring people are needed to help preserve the UCB/Bank of Raeford Building. This fine structure, built in 1911, is now empty. United Carolina Bank would give this building to a bona fide non-profit organization if they could find uses for it. No such organization has asked for the building. An offer has been received to buy it, however, there is a question that the use may not be in the best interest of the community.

I'm hoping the members of the Hoke Historical Association can find ways to maintain the integrity of this lovely old building. There are folks who want to get to work at once. I am asking that you come to a meeting Thursday evening (Sept. 6) at 8 p.m. in the History Room of the Hoke Library.

Bring your good ideas. We will think and talk. See you then.

Sincerely,
Kay Thomas

I think that Kay has come up with a project that a Historical Association could make work. If you are interested in Hoke history, be at this meeting. Now if you are in the group that has made an offer for the building, I believe that most folks would like to hear your side of the question.

So be at the meeting if you are pro or con.

Earl Capps featured in national magazine

Earl Capps of Raeford was recently featured in Putt-Putt World magazine for the contribution he has made to the game.

The national publication noted that the 48-year-old Capps is responsible for the construction of over 200 Putt-Putt Golf Courses across the United States.

"Earl builds the type of quality golf course that you can play the National Championships on 20 years later," National Putt-Putt Franchise Director Bobby Owens said of Capps in the article.

"I can spot an Earl Capps built course in a second; he's that good," Southern Gold Distributors Inc. President Larry Lloyd is quoted as saying.

Joe Dupree and his wife, Helen, now of Raleigh, stopped by the house last Thursday afternoon. The Judge had been in Fayetteville and had visited in Raeford before stopping. Helen went by the school to renew old acquaintances.

Show them how grand they are Sept. 9.
