Unpaved streets in Raeford will be paved in the next few weeks, following action taken Thursday by members of the City Council.

Of the four bids submitted, the council accepted and approved the lowest given by Lee Paving Company out of Sanford.

Lee's bid was for $43,686.74, City Manager Tom Phillips said.

The city had estimated it would cost around $60,000 for the paving, Phillips said.

Funding to pay for the paving comes from Raeford's share of state Powell Bill Funds, said Phillips.

Each year, the state gives cities a certain amount of money out of Powell Bill Funds to be used only on city streets, said the manager.

This year, Raeford received $72,683.26, according to recent release from the North Carolina Department of Transportation (DOT).

The paving is to be done in November "before it gets too cold," Bill Sellers, Raeford City Engineer said.

In addition to money spent on paving, $1,000 is to be taken out of the funds to hire an outside inspector to be with the work crew the entire time they are working, said Phillips.

The bid given was very low, according to Phillips.

"The contractor might try to economize somewhere," he said.

The inspector will be on hand to make sure the contractor does not skimp on specifications, said Phillips adding that he does not expect any misdealings as Lee Paving is a very reputable firm.

Phillips has already been in contact with the inspector.

With the low bid, the city will have about $27,996.52 left in their share of Powell Bill Funds.

According to the manager, these funds will be used in other areas of street maintenance.

"We will use some of it for patching and curb and gutter work," he said.

Other amounts of the money will be used for street sweeping operations, said Phillips.

Although the city's new street sweeper was not purchased with the funds, some operations costs will be paid for with them, he said.

Other uses for the money will be to purchase stop signs and other appropriate signs for the city.

No street identification signs will be bought with Powell Bill Funds, added the manager.

New around here
State Trooper Benjamin Burr, of Laurinburg will be the new Highway Patrolman in Hoke County bringing the total to four now working here regularly. Burr, who has worked as a sheriff's deputy in Scotland and Richmond counties, is originally from Rockingham. Burr, 28, is planning to move to Hoke County and live in the South Hoke area with his wife Judy and three children. He is a recent graduate of patrolman's school and began duty in the area this week.

...McCain worker busted for drugs

Love's jacket, reports say.

According to the report, filed by Hoke County Detective Ed Harris, Lowe received information of the attempt to smuggle in the drugs from an unnamed source.

Lowe would not comment on the arrest other than to say that the incident did happen at her facility.

When Love was confronted with the accusations, he consented to the search, said the report.

The marijuana was reportedly turned over to Detective Harris upon his arrival on the scene.

According to the report, Love made a statement attesting to the fact that he was bringing in marijuana to sell.

After Harris arrived, Love made no comments, reports say.

When asked to sign his wavier of rights forms, Love said that he was not signing anything without his lawyer, reports say.

...Turkey plant will help Hoke Co.

Faison, the partnership has selected Norbest, Inc. of Salt Lake City, Utah as the marketing agent for products from the plant.

Norbest has over 55 years of experience in marketing turkeys, turkey products and food production world-wide.

Planning and design for the 200,000 square foot processing plant, which will be one of the largest such facilities in the world, will be under the direction of Hughes, Shillington and Dixon, consulting engineers out of Merriam, Kansas.

Construction on the facility will begin late this year and is scheduled to be finished in mid 1986, the two officials said.

Goldsboro Milling Company is involved in turkey hatchery and breeder operations through its Sleepy Creek Division and produces some 100 million pounds of live turkeys per year.

Carroll's Foods, Inc. produces about 100 million pounds of live turkeys annually and also markets about 200,000 head of butcher hogs per year from its sow operation.

Raeford man arrested at break-in

By Ed Miller

A Raeford man was arrested last week after he was caught attempting to break into a coin operated machine.

Vincent Ross, 19, was caught trying to break in a Pepsi Cola machine behind McDonald Tire Company, according to Raeford Police Chief Leonard Wiggins.

Ross was arrested and charged with attempted breaking and entering, said Wiggins.

In other crime, last Sunday morning proved to be bad time to attend church for two families in the county.

The family of Selester Bridges went to church and found that their home had been broken into and ransacked while they were away, sheriff's reports say.

Reported missing from the home was a stereo and a radio valued at $35, reports say.

In an unrelated incident the same day, the home of Willie C. Bridges was also broken into.

Taken in that theft was a semi-automatic shot gun, a 12 gauge single barrel shot gun, a 410 gauge shot gun, two bayonets and a pellet rifle.

The total value of the take was about $400, reports say.

Christine Package and Grocery reported a break-in that netted an undetermined amount of cash.

According to reports, someone punched a hole in the wall of the Bowmore grocery and lifted a bar off the door to gain entry.

Money was taken from a cash box, a cash drawer, video games and the pool tables, say reports.

The break-in reportedly happened last Monday.

Richard Holland reported to sheriff's deputies that someone had stolen his chainsaw.
