

Democrats join Martin campaign

Republican Jim Martin has been endorsed by a group of Hoke County Democrats who said they will openly support and work for Martin's election as governor.

Announcement of the endorsement was made by Raeford City Councilman Bob M. Gentry and Raz Autry, former superintendent of schools for Raeford. Autry was county chairman for the Eddie Knox for Governor Committee.

Mary Lou Smith, Raleigh, statewide coordinator of Democrats for Jim Martin, said there were now Democratic booster committees in every county of the state.

"We are Democrats and proud to be Democrats," Gentry and Autry said in their announcement. "But there comes a time for a change and a clean sweep. Jim Martin represents what the times demand - honesty, integrity and leadership."

The Democratic supporters include Kevin Edwards, Linda Miller, Dickie Lippard, Johnny Smith, Henry David Smith, Eddie Ramsey and Jack Tucker, all of Raeford.

Impressed
Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Martin smiles as Democrats attending his July 24 Fayetteville rally raise their hands; Martin asked Republicans to applaud the Democrats, saying it took courage to reject party pressure.

Halloween's bite is tooth decay
Candies and sweets — Children love them. Halloween offers them. But tooth decay is on the way unless we ensure vital care for our children's teeth and gums. Teach your kids to brush at least once a day.
Limit the "bad guys," like candy, jelly, and sweet things. Good foods, like milk, and fruits, are excellent sources of nutrients for healthy teeth and gums. Good eating habits are as important as good dental habits.
Proper brushing, diet, and periodic check-ups make healthy, happy children. P.S. - Don't let the "sweets" from Halloween bite into your children's teeth!
