Winning season
These members of the Midget Football League Steelers are enjoying a winning season. The Steelers under the direction of Coach Bill Clark have compiled a 3-1-1 record for the season. Members of the team, along with other players, will be selected to play on the Hoke County All-Star team which will take on either Scotland or Richmond counties in a Lee County state championship game on November 8.

JV team takes win over W. Robeson

Joining their older comrades, the Hoke High Junior Varsity Bucks found themselves in the winner's column last week after defeating the West Robeson J.V.'s 20-6.

In fact, the young team scored a touchdown on their first possession of the game, according to coaches.

The play that got the game off to a great start was a 60 yard pass play from Bobby Little to Darcie Cunningham.

That beginning score of 6-0 remained intact until there were only two minutes remaining in the game.

With so little time left, Eric McLaughlin crossed the goal line on a four yard run and scored.

Adell Baldwin ran the two point conversion to put the Bucks up 14-0.

On the following kick-off, the West Robeson Rams scored making it a 14-6 ballgame.

With over a minute left on the clock, the Bucks fumbled and West Robeson recovered on the 40-yard-line.

The Rams then went to the air to try and pull the game out but Darcie Cunningham intercepted a pass on the 50 and ran it in for another touchdown.

With the extra point failing, the score remained, 20-6, Hoke.

In Ninth Grade football action last Thursday, the Hoke County team lost to the Scotland County Blue team 26-6.

Two Hoke High students have made it to the All Conference Track team after the Southeastern 4A Cross Country Track Meet last week.

Hoke runners Don Wood and Gwen Locklear finished in the top ten runners thereby sealing themselves places on the team.

Overall in the conference meet, the Hoke Men's track team did quite well.

They finished third in meet being beaten only by Scotland County and Pinecrest.

Don Wood turned in a third place finish in individual competition.

Other teams at the meet with men's teams were Lumberton, Reid Ross, West Robeson, Terry Sanford and E.E. Smith.

Along with Hoke, Terry Sanford, Lumberton, Pinecrest, and Scotland brought women's teams.

The men's and women's teams will be in competition at the regionals for the State Cross Country Meet on Friday November 2.

No losses
George Rockholt's Vikings have not lost a game during this year's Midget season. The only blemish on the team's record came Saturday when they tied the Steelers. Some of these players will also be chosen to play with the county all-stars.

Ethics key to hunting future

Approximately 130,000 sportsmen will hunt on North Carolina game lands this fall.

In a sense, these hunters belong to the state's biggest sporting club, because admission to over two million acres of public hunting areas can be had for the price of a game land use permit and the appropriate hunting license.

About half of the game lands enrolled in the program are owned by government agencies -- including the Wildlife Commission, U.S. Forest Service, N.C. Forest Service and others.

The remainder, however, are owned by corporate or individual landowners who offer widespread opportunities for public hunting by enrolling their lands in this program.

Some of these areas, however, could be lost to public use if they are abused.

"By and large, there are relatively few problems with this program," said George Smith, supervisor of the game lands program for the N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission.

"However, landowner participation in the game lands program is strictly voluntary, and its future depends on the behavior of the sportsmen who use these areas. In recent years, some game lands have been withdrawn from the program because of such thoughtless abuse as littering, vandalism, abuse of roads and other property, and violations of game laws. Sportsmen should be aware of these problems, and work with the Wildlife Commission to prevent this abuse."

Damage to roads from four-wheel drive vehicles is the most common complaint from cooperator agents.

Littering is another common problem. This tends to occur in small areas where people are concentrated, such as around special deer hunters' campgrounds on large game lands. However, the careless hunter who idly tosses away a sardine can after lunch also contributes to this problem.

Jones graduates as armor crewman

Army National Guard Pvt. Michael D. Jones, son of Vardell and Bonnie Jones of Rural Route 2, Red Springs, has graduated as an armor crewman at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The training was conducted under the one station unit training (OSUT) program, which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

During the course, students received training in the duties of a tank crewman, including firing the tank's armament and small weapons.

He is a 1984 graduate of West Robeson Senior High School Maxton.
