NC Natural Gas earnings rise

Earning of $2.89 per share for fiscal 1984 were reported recently by North Carolina Natural Gas Corporation. Net income amounted to $4,941,000. This compares with last year's restated net income of $2,786,000, or a $1.63 per share. The 1984 earnings were adjusted by $591,000 after taxes, or $.35 per share to reflect a write-down of the company's investment in exploration activities. According to Frank Barragan Jr., Company President, this year's higher earnings can be attributed to a general rate increase in December of 1983, a significant increase in sales volume to high priority customers, the improved economy and colder than normal weather. At one time or another, beavers have probably changed almost every watershed on North America. For example, a 1960 excavation down to bedrock revealed the area now called Boston Common was created by busy beavers.
