Here are suggestions that can be used by parents and other adults to help prevent child abductions:

Do teach your child how to use the telephone. Make sure your child knows your telephone number (including area code) and is able to call the police in case of

Do fingerprint your child and keep prints for identification pur-

Do choose a secret code word with your child which can be used in an emergency. Tell your child never to go with anyone who does not know the code word.

Do teach your child who is a stranger. Make sure your child knows not to get involved with a stranger in any way.

Do encourage your neighbors to participate in a neighborhood child safety program. In Mecklenburg County the PTA Council and the Girl Scout Council jointly sponsor a "Safety Haven" program that designates safe homes for children when they are in trouble or frightened.

Do make sure the school notifies you immediately if your child does not report to school.

Do watch your child closely at all times and ask your neighbors to do the same.

Do Not leave your child alone in the car, yard, store or other public place. Know where your child is at

Do Not put your child's name on his or her clothes or books. The name tag puts an abductor on a first name basis with your child and undermines the cautions you have given him or her about talking with strangers.

Do Not allow your child to talk on the telephone with a caller who is a stranger. Such conversation could give a would-be-abductor valuable information.

Tobacco supports face reductions in future

Since the inception of the No Net Cost Tobacco Program in 1982, Stabilization has received $171.6 million covering the 1982-1984 crops.

The fund was established by Congress to ensure that Commodity Credit Corporation would sustain no net losses from the price support program carried out by Stabilization.

A 3-cent assessment was established for the 1982 crop, from which $29.5 million was collected. Because of a larger than expected quantity of loan receipts in 1982, the assessment was increased to 7 cents for the 1983 crop. Not only growers were assessed in 1983 but also owners of flue-cured allotments who leased and transferred their quota. The 1983 contributions amounted to $83 million. The 1984 assessment re-mained at 7 cents; however, because of a change in the law, only active growers contributed to the fund. The 1984 contributions amounted to $59.1 million.

As required by the No Net Cost legislation, Stabilization's Board of Directors is required to recom-mend to the Secretary of Agriculture the assessment for the 1985 crop.

The annual assessment is not only for the 1985 crop potential losses, but also for any losses on the 1982, 1983 and 1984 crops which come under the provisions of the No Net Cost legislation.

Stocks of the No Net Cost crops exceed 540 million pounds with a excess of $1.2 billion.

In view of these conditions, the Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Board of Directors has recommended an assessment of 25 cents per pound; however, if any reduction in the price support level is made the assessment would be reduced penny for penny down to 10 cents per pound.

The Board also approved a resolution advising growers that a substantial rollback in price sup-port be considered. In view of this possibility and the recommendation of a 25 cents per pound assess-ment, growers should consider these when negotiating rental agreements for the 1985 crop.

A contributing factor to this problem is that there is a worldwide surplus of tobacco due to global economic conditions, high taxes, and unfavorable publicity based on health issues which has weakened the demand for cigarettes.

This year 1985 will be a crucial point in the history of U.S. agriculture. As Congress and the Administration prepare to develop the 1985 farm bill and a new federal budget, it is anticipated that changes will take place in all
