Soc. Security meet Jan. 14

In January 1985 many Social Security beneficiaries in Raeford and Hoke County will receive Form SSA-1099 which is a Social Security benefit statements for benefits received during 1984. Jerry C. Kizzort, Social Security manager in Fayetteville, said recently.

Since this will be the first time anyone has received this kind of notice about Social Security benefits, many people may have questions about just what this means and how their taxes will be affected.

Of course, if a single person drawing benefits had less than $25,000 outside income or if a couple less than $32,000, then these people who receive the forms won't have to pay taxes on their Social Security benefits.

To answer questions about the taxation of Social Security benefits, Kizzort said, there will be a "town meeting" held, through the cooperation of the City of Raeford, on Monday January 14, in the Council Room, City Hall, on Main Street, from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

All interested members of the public are invited.
