A little light news

Greg Hathaway came to a woman's club meeting last week to talk about Alzheimer's disease and how people can help each other.

Hathaway is President of the Duke Alzheimer's Chapter. He is helping with chapters in Fayetteville and Laurinburg. He works in Fayetteville as an artist/designer. He and his family live here in Raeford.

The major thrust of Alzheimer's volunteer groups is support for the caregivers. "Caregiver" is the term used to the family member or loved one who provides constant, daily attention for the victim of this disease. The unremitting demands on the energy and patience of caregivers makes life strained and exhausting. They need the support of understanding friends.

Alzheimer's now has no cure. There have been numerous "break throughs" in determining its causes and treatment. According to Hathaway, none have proven to be "the answer." There are many research projects in progress. Until answers are found, educating the public is an important goal for Alzheimer's volunteers.

If readers need more information about Alzheimer's or if an Alzheimer volunteer is needed to talk to a group, letters could be sent to Greg Hathaway, c/o The News-Journal, P.O. Box 550, Raeford.

The January Open Meeting of the Raeford Woman's Club was held January 8 at the First Baptist Church of Raeford. The four departments of the club were well represented for the covered-dish supper. Members of the Junior Woman's Club and the Chaminade Music Club were invited for supper.

Greg Hathaway, President of the Duke Chapter of Alzheimer's volunteers, was guest speaker. Learning about and contributing to Alzheimer's support is a major club project for this year. The N.C. Federation of Women's Clubs is the first organization to sponsor this work on a statewide basis.

Alzheimer's Disease is a brain disorder which causes loss of memory. The cause remains a mystery and there is no cure. The treatment and support of victims and helping their families are the volunteers' focus.

A donation was made to Hathaway's group by the Woman's Club. He explained that donated money is used locally to help with purchasing materials for distribution and specific local expenses. Any left is sent to the state chapter at Duke. The same policy is in effect there. Any remaining money is sent to national headquarters.

In a brief business session, the club members voted to give $100 to the Hoke High Band to help with their Inaugural Parade expenses. The women moved across the street to the Hoke Public Library for the concert of the N.C. Symphony's String Quartet. The Chaminade Music Club sponsored the concert and hosted a social hour after it.

In Memory

One cold January night 2 years ago this week — the Lord took from us, part of our dreams, wisdom, faith, and companionship — he took our mother, Flossie Collier to her new home.

Mom, not a day goes by that you are not in our every thought—a million tears has been shed thinking of the way it used to be. Someday we'll meet again but until then—we love you Mom, and your death has given us the courage to go on and face the world the way you taught us to.

Your loving Family

What not to do in bed . . .

You can read. You can rest. You can sleep. These are normal uses for bed. Or, you can make phone calls. You can eat breakfast. You can watch television, or listen to music.

You can exercise. You can snore. You can even eat crackers — provided you're alone.

And yes, you can snuggle. But don't ever light up a cigarette when you're in bed, because if you doze off just once, all your dreams can go up in smoke. Take care of yourself. You are important to us!
