Local students make E. Carolina honors

Five County residents were among students earning academic honors at East Carolina University during the fall.

A total of 2,676 ECU students earned places in the university's official honors list for the semester.

Most elite of the honors is all A's. Those making the Dean's List have earned a B plus average with no grade below C.

The Honor Roll includes students with a B average and no grade below C.

Rated superior

The Hoke High Beauty Shop Singers were rated superior during last weekends eastern district festival held in Wilmington. The members of the group are (first row): Sheila Leak, Jeanette Bratcher, Kelly Chalalre, Tanya Bruton and Lisa Potts, (Second Row) Amy Black, Quy Tillman and Sharon Kershaw.

Barbershop singers

Hoke High groups garner top ratings

The Beautyshop and Barbershop Singers of Hoke County High School performed in the North Carolina Eastern District Small Vocal Ensemble Festival at U.N.C. Wilmington, on Saturday, February 9.

Both groups received a rating of "Superior" under the direction of Anne Dorsey, their choral director. (not pictured)

The festival was sponsored by the North Carolina Music Educators Association.

Lee Gillis chosen for honor at UGA

Harold Leon (Lee) Gillis Jr., a Ph.D. candidate in counseling psychology, is one among four students in the College of Education at the University of Georgia to be selected for recognition in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

As outstanding achievers in both scholarship and leadership activities on The University of Georgia campus, these students have received national recognition for their efforts.

Lee maintains a 3.87 grade point average in his graduate course work and he has held a research assistantship in developmental studies from 1982 - 1985. He is a member of the College of Education Council University of Georgia, the Wilderness Adventure Association, the UGA representative to the American Psychological Association Division 17 and the former president of the Counseling Psychology Association.

Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gillis of Raeford.

Myers is selected for US Who's Who

Raeford resident Carla Myers, a Peace College sophomore, has been selected to membership in "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges."

Carla is one of 10 Peace College students selected by the faculty and administration of Peace to be in "Who's Who." Her biography will be in the 1984 edition of "Who's Who," among those of a select group from about 1,300 educational institutions in all 50 states and several foreign countries.

Carla is the daughter of Ms. Kay B. Myers of 304 S. Bethel Rd. in Raeford and Mr. C. Stuart Myers of Altavista, Va.

The criteria for membership in the 50-year-old honor directory are scholarship, participation in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship, service to the college and potential for future achievement.

At Peace, Carla is Chairperson of the Resident Assistants, a member of the Peace Student Government Association, an editor on the school newspaper staff, and is in the Future Business Women's Club. She is also a member of Phi Theta Kappa, national academic honorary; and recipient of an Honors Scholarship.

Looking over books

Each South Hoke second grader was then given a chance to choose a book donated by the Hoke County Board of Education, the Raeford Women's Club and the RIF organization. Here the students look over their RIF books.

South Hoke celebrates Reading Is Fundamental

Reading Is Fundamental was celebrated at South Hoke School on Wednesday afternoon in the school library.

All second graders gathered in the library to see a skit presented by Mrs. Frances Davis' class entitled, The Snowy Day

The students especially enjoyed the scene with the "snowball fight."

After the skit, a drawing was held to select a South Hoke winner for the RIF project, "In Celebration of Reading." To be eligible for the drawing, the student had to read a total of 2 1/2 hours during a two-week period.

A national winner will be drawn on April 2 in Washington, D.C.

The national winner will receive many gifts including a two-day expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., spending money, books, gift certificates for parents, school, public library, and a wardrobe of clothing.

Nikki Stephens from Mrs. Raye's room was selected as the South Hoke entry.

All students who were eligible for the drawing received a bumper sticker, a balloon, a puzzle, and a certificate.
