Turlington students watch as Fayetteville State University potter Syed Yunus demonstrates his craft at the school last Thursday.

Turlington celebrates art month

March has been designated as "Youth Art Month" and Turlington School is celebrating.

Banners are up. Teachers are wearing buttons. Guest artists are sharing talents. Signs are posted.

These are only a few ways in which the young artists in our community are being honored.

On March 7, a guest artist from Fayetteville State University shared his talents with several students in Mrs. Bessie Magby's and Ms. Hope Williams classes.

Syed Yunus, a very talented potter, originally from India, demonstrated the making of pottery on the potters wheel.

Yunus also displayed some of his work (for the school) in the library.

On March 1, several Art Club members displayed projects they had begun in February.

Their talents and efforts are now on display at the Food Lion Store in the Raeford-Hoke Village and at Barbee Pharmacy on Campus Avenue next to Drs. Jordan and Zota.

According to art instructor, Hope Williams, other activities are also being planned at Turlington in celebration of the young artists of our schools.

It is, indeed, a month of celebrating.

Introducing Reward.™

Selective Herbicide

It leaves sicklepod defenseless.

Reward reduces the waxy "armor" on sicklepod leaves so later postemergence sprays can attack more effectively.

Reward knocks back early sicklepod and forces later-emerging sicklepod to grow up in the shade of your soybeans' canopy.

You can hardly find a tougher-to-control weed in your soybeans than sicklepod (or coffeeweed). But sicklepod has two defense mechanisms that new Reward helps you crack.

First, sicklepod has a tough waxy coating that is almost impossible to penetrate by most postemergence herbicides. Reward, applied preplant, reduces these foliar waxes. So your postemergence sprays can stick and adsorb better and knock out sicklepod more effectively.

Second, sicklepod grows fast in full sun but grows poorly in the shade. Reward knocks back first flush sicklepod to give your beans a head start. Later emerging sicklepod never has a chance, because by that time your soybeans have started to canopy.

If sicklepod is one of your biggest problems in soybeans, knock it defenseless with new Reward. See your dealer for all the details now. Stauffer Chemical Company, Agricultural Chemical Division, Westport, CT 06881.
