

62-year-old given jail for driving while drunk

A 62-year-old Raeford man was sent to prison to serve a 120-day sentence after being convicted in Hoke County District Court of driving while impaired (DWI) three times in one month.

Donnie Haithcock will get the alcohol treatment he needs while serving his sentence, said District Court Judge Warren Pate.

"Obviously, the man has a serious alcohol problem," said Pate last week after the sentencing.

Haithcock was arrested for DWI on March 3, March 29 and on March 31, according to court records.

On March 31, Haithcock was also charged with driving while his license was revoked, records say.

The man was sentenced to one year suspended for three years on special supervised probation and 120 days in jail, records say.

Haithcock was also ordered to pay a $500 fine, records say.

Pate ordered alcohol treatment for the man on a commitment form.

According to Judge Pate, the man will get no time off for good behavior from his sentence.

Haithcock will have to spend all 120 days in jail, he said.

A Maxton man was sentenced to two years in prison after being convicted of DWI for the third time in seven years, according to court records.

Vintress Brooks, 38, was arrested for the third time on February 16, records say.

The man was also charged with driving while his license was permanently revoked, records say.

Norman Smith Jr., a Raeford resident, was sentenced to six months suspended for one year on supervised probation and ordered to pay a $200 fine and $42 in restitution after being convicted of forgery, records say.

According to a warrant for Smith's arrest, the man forged Allen Simmon's name on the back of a check for $42.

The man was arrested in July of last year.

George Vatrice Beatty, of Raeford, was sentenced to 60 days in jail suspended for one year unsupervised probation and fined $100 for DWI, according to records.

Beatty, 38, was arrested on December 23 of last year, records say.

The man was also sentenced to perform 24 hours of community service.

Norman McFayden, a 40-year-old Raeford resident, was fined $25 for appearing drunk and disorderly in public on February 26, records say.

'Forget her not,' this Sunday

She won't 'burn your beans,' if you'll just perform the magic remedy. And that is to simply remember the mother of your children on Mother's Day.

Today, Mom often doubles in her capacity as bread-winner and home-maker. She's most certainly worthy of double honor. So make sure she receives it.

Greet her with, 'Mom, you're swell. I'm so appreciative. I thought you might like this small token of my thanks.' Then, present her with a meal out, a gift, or a card. She deserves every ounce of her Appreciation Day. Happy Mother's Day from your Pharmacy!
