Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Lee Avery, Jr.

Carriage ride leads to altar

On Sunday, May 5, Karen Hinson became the bride of Ashley Lee Avery, Jr. in an outdoor ceremony at Calloway Lake near Raeford. The Rev. Alton Burros conducted the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hinson. A graduate of Hoke High, she is employed by Faberge of Raeford.

The groom is employed by Campbell Soup Company of Maxton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Lee Avery of Clinton. He graduated from Clinton High School.

A Victorian setting had been created on the lakeside for the wedding. Pink and blue hydrangeas and large Boston ferns were used. An altar area had two large wedding baskets with arrangements of larkspur, dusty rose gladiolas, alstroemeria, and carnations and blue delphinium. The bride's register was in an area with white rattan furniture, ferns and hydrangeas.

Kathy Barker provided music for the ceremony. "There is Love" and "O Perfect Love" were among the selections.

The couple arrived at the setting in a horse drawn surrey with fringe on top. It was decorated with garlands of lilac and gypsophila.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Victorian gown of satin and lace. Schiffli embroidery enhanced the bodice and the train. She wore a hat with a chapel veil and blusher.

Diane Hinson of Raeford was made of honor: Jo West of Dunn was matron of honor. They wore tea length dresses of daphne rose organdy with Victorian necklines. They wore matching ribbon and gypsophila in their hair.

The bridesmaids carried lace umbrellas with arrangements of white and dusty rose roses, lavender larkspur and gypsophila. Bridesmaids were Catherine Avery of Clinton, Brenda Kellis of Raeford, Marie Autry of Dunn, Carol Butler of Shannon, Myra Jones of Charlotte, Sharon Harden and Pam Carter of Raeford. Their dresses were cloudy lavender and like those of the honor attendants.

Best man was Johnny Avery, brother of the groom. Ushers were Bobby Lowery of Lumber Bridge, Danny West of Dunn, Willie Jacobs, Brian Hinson, Harold Kellis, and Ronnie Haynes of Raeford, Raymond Rodriguez and Larry Autry of Fayetteville. The men wore Journee cut-away coats in gray pinstripes with double-breasted vests, wing collar shirts and ascots.

Miss Mandie Taylor was flower girl. She carried an open lace parasol. Daniel West, ring bearer, carried a Bible.

The mother of the bride and the mother of the groom wore silk corsages of white roses. Grandmothers wore blush pink silk roses. The mother of the bride wore an appliqued gray chiffon dress with a jacket. The groom's mother wore a plum dress accented with a belt.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, lavender larkspur, and pink azaleas. As she departed, she carried a parasol.

RECEPTION

A reception followed at the Hoke Civic Center. It was hosted by the bride's parents.

An arrangement of dusty pink carnations, blue delphinium and wax flowers centered the table. A fountain was used for the punch. Ham sandwiches, lady fingers, chocolate mints, chicken salad tarts, and cucumber sandwiches were served.

The wedding cake was four tiers with two smaller cakes connected by staircases with miniature bridesmaids and ushers. On top of the cake were miniature bride and groom. The bride on the cake carried a lace parasol like the new Mrs. Avery.

After a wedding trip to Wrightsville Beach, the Averys will live on Route 5, Raeford.
