The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Motley are honoring them with a 50th wedding anniversary party. It is to be held in the Hoke Civic Center on Saturday, June eighth from three until five.

Friends are invited to come to congratulate them.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Howell had guests this weekend who came to be with them for the baptism of their infant daughter, Sarah-Ann Hamlet Howell. Visiting in Raeford were Miss Becky Howell of Ellerbe, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hamlet of Asheboro, Mrs. Mary Boling of Randleman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fortune, Christopher and Courtney of Lexington, John Nowell of Winston-Salem, Tina Alexander of Lumberton.

On Tuesday Mrs. Marguerite

Thomas was recognized in a ceremony at McKinnon Center of N.C. State University in Raleigh. The scholarship she established to honor the memory of Crawford L. Thomas goes yearly to State students who are working on degrees in agriculture or in agriculture-related fields.

Mrs. Iris T. Davis of Wilmington and Mr. and Mrs. Crawford L. Thomas Jr. of Raeford attended the luncheon festivities with Mrs. Thomas.

Justin A. Walters celebrated his first birthday on May 22. Justin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan C. Walters and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Archie L. Walters of Raeford.

David McDonald, son of William and Grace McDonald, has been named a United States Achievement Academy Award winner, David was nominated for this honor by his government teacher, Sarah McCallum.

He is a student at Hoke County High School.

His grandmother is Susan Owens of St. Pauls.

Jay Pate, son of Dayna T. Elliott and Warren Pate, has been saying that he wanted to be an astronaut since he was in kindergarten. In the most recent issue of Life Magazine, he appears in a photograph in an article about Space Camp in Huntsville, Alabama.

Jay went to Space Camp last summer. He has been encouraged in this interest by a teacher/friend from Greensboro.

Wedding planned

The engagement of Miss Susan Ruth Newton to Laymond Bratcher is announced by her grandmother, Mary L. Roberson. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bratcher. The couple and their families are all of Raeford.

The wedding is planned for June 29 at Piney Grove Baptist Church.

Parties honor Miss Wood

On Sunday, May 26, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge English hosted a dinner honoring Miss Beth Wood and Stuart Walters. The honorees' wedding is planned for June 22.

Miss Wood was given a corsage of yellow daisies when she arrived. Guests served themselves and were invited to the sunporch where small tables were set. Each table was centered with yellow daisies, miniature yellow mums and babies' breath.

A platter in their chosen china was a gift to the couple from the hosts.

Miss Wood's piano pupils and their mothers surprised the bride-elect on May 28 with a lingerie shower and spaghetti supper.

The girls, Claire Cheetwood, Heather Ogden, Holly Odgen, Elizabeth Parks, Melissa Parks and Kelly Rosenlund, all of Fayetteville, presented the honoree with a dainty red silk corsage.

Gifts were opened by Miss Wood, then a spaghetti supper was served by the students' mothers.

Attending the Fayetteville party was an out-of-town guest, Mrs. Wilton Wood, mother of the bride-elect.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Taylor announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Ann, to Michael Foster McBryde. He is the son of Mrs. Calvin Foster McBryde, Jr. and the late Mr. McBryde.

The wedding is planned for June 29 at the Living Faith Ministries Church.

Grads receive financial gifts

Ginny Ellis, Mark Black, and Ronnie Haynes received checks for $200 when the Raeford United Methodist Church honored its Hoke High graduates on Sunday, June 2.

The presentation of the checks was made by Mrs. Pearl S. Cole, in whose name a loan fund was established 20 years ago.

Mrs. Cole announced that those responsible for administering the fund had decided to make three gifts from the fund this year.

In presenting the money, she said "after leading a Christian Life, I believe the most important thing you can do is get an education." These three students are all planning to continue their educations beyond Hoke High.

In the same ceremony, the Rev. Arthur Winstead recognized the graduates and they were given books from the United Methodist Women by the president, Mrs. Bertie Haire.
