Attends institute
A Hoke County student, Mary M. Maxwell, Rt. 1, Shannon, attended the Institute for Future Agricultural Leaders (IFAL) June 23-28 at North Carolina State University. The Institute was designed to introduce high school seniors to career opportunities in agriculture and life science and to develop leadership skills. It was sponsored by the Agricultural Program at NCSU and the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation. Shown with Maxwell are Dr. Larry Jewell, (left) coordinator of the Agricultural Education Program, and W.B. Jenkins, president of the Farm Bureau Federation. Maxwell, daughter of James and Sarah Maxwell, was among 37 students from 31 counties attending the Institute.

Summer reading is magical

By Elizabeth Burgess
Hoke County Librarian

Seventy-five children and adults enjoyed watching children's librarian, Betsy McNeill, perform many magic tricks during the first session of the SUMMER READING PROGRAM last Tuesday.

We were delighted with the big turn out, and the audience was delighted and entertained with Betsy McNeill's splendid performance.

The children received book bags, a book on magic tricks and refreshments. We will have our second program on July 9 from 10 until 10:45 a.m.

The program will be CLAY AND FINGER PAINT. (Wear old clothes)

The Mother's Story Time follows the SUMMER READING PROGRAM at 11:00 on Tuesday mornings. The eleven o'clock story
