

DWI nets one year in jail

A Hope Mills man, Michael Ray McIntyre, was sentenced to one year in prison after he was convicted in Hoke County District Court of driving while impaired (DWI) and having no drivers license.

The 37-year-old McIntyre was arrested for the crime on April 6, according to a citation issued the nan.

Sentencing for the man was heavy because he was recently convicted in a DWI case in Cumberland County and has a third case still pending in Hoke County, records say.

In other court action, a 28-year-old Red Springs man, Larry Jacobs, was sentenced to 90 days in the Hoke County Jail after being convicted of assaulting a woman.

Jacobs was found guilty of firing a shotgun at Doris Carter on April 14, according to warrants for his arrest.

A Raeford man, Charles Edward Hadon, was sentenced to two years suspended for three years on special supervised probation, a $500 fine and 12 weekends in jail after being convicted of driving while his license was revoked.

The 32-year-old Hadon was arrested on February 16, records show.

According to records from the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles, Hadon has been convicted of 26 traffic offenses.

Thurman Tubery Davis, a Red Springs resident, was sentenced to one year suspended for three years on supervised probation, 20 days in jail and fined $400 after his second conviction of DWI, records say.

Davis, 65, was arrested on March 30, records say.

Levon Sanders, a Raeford resident, was convicted of a second DWI offense and sentenced to one year suspended for two years on supervised probation, seven days in jail and a $300 fine, records say.

The 25-year-old Sanders was arrested on June 15.

William Junior Jones, a Fayetteville man, was sentenced to 90 days in jail suspended for one year on unsupervised probation and fined $150 after being convicted of DWI on March 28, according to records.

Linton Hardy Jr., a 23-year-old Norfolk, Va. resident, was sentenced to 60 days in jail suspended for one year on unsupervised probation and fined $100 after being convicted of DWI on June 15, records show.

Thressa McLean, a Fayetteville resident, was given a three year suspended sentence after being convicted of driving while her license was revoked, records show.

The 45-year-old woman was fined $200.

Road block

Hoke County Rescue Squad Commander Ronnie Ellis, (right) surveys the damage done when a large oak tree fell across all of Highway 211 last Thursday. The tree took power lines to the ground along with any other wiring on neighboring poles. The afternoon the tree fell was sunny with no breeze. Ellis speculated that the tree had been either hit by lightning or damaged by high winds that swept the county two weeks ago.
