Langholz-Wood marry on August 3

Miss Martha Lynne Wood was married to Steven John Langholz on August 3 in Boone. The Rev. Jim Russell officiated at the ceremony in the Perkinsville Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Robert M. Wood of Raeford and Louise B. May of Raleigh. She is a graduate of Millbrook High School and she is now attending Appalachian State University.

The groom is the son of Doris E. Langholz of Boone. He is a graduate of Watauga High School and he is now a student at Appalachian State University.

Three brass candelabra were trimmed with fern, pink and white pom-poms and carnations. The candelabra arched above a bank of ferns and palms. Arrangements of red roses with pom-poms and carnations were used on the piano and on the organ.

Organist Kathy Johnson, pianist Kandy West-Taylor, and vocalist Ken Springs provided wedding music. Miss Johnson also sang, performing "A Time of Joy" and "We've Only Just Begun" with Mr. Springs. He sang "Security."

Escorted by her father, Robert M. Wood, the bride wore a gown with lace overlay, short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Her hat was covered with illusion. She carried a nosegay of pink and white roses.

Honor attendant was Diana C. Brawley of Charlotte. She wore a tea length gown of pink taffeta. She carried a chamberstick with a lighted candle decorated with roses, greenery and ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Dorene Miller, Karen Cornette, and Naomi Joselson, all of Boone. They wore dresses like the honor attendant and carried lighted candles.

Best man was Tim Danner of Concord. Ushers were Brian Wood, the bride's brother of Raeford, Jim Furman of Boone, and Allen McCurry of Charlotte. The men wore gray tuxedos with pale pink ties and cummerbunds.

The bride's register was kept by Debbie Sessions.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception following the ceremony. Preparations for the party in the church fellowship hall were made by Miss Penny Hickman of Elkin. The bride's aunt Briggs Burnette of Raeford and Tense Eldridge of Dunn, cut the wedding cake. Pouring punch were Lib Wood of Raeford, the bride's aunt, and Alice Kiley of Fayetteville.

The Olde Homestead Restaurant was the setting for a rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's mother, Doris E. Langholz, on the evening before the wedding.

After a wedding trip to Williamsburg and Virginia Beach, the couple will live in Boone.
