

...County sets airport hearing

 County Commission Vice-Chairman Neill McPhatter asked if the ordinance would limit any expansion that may be planned in the future for the airport.
 "We can't enlarge the airport," Byrd said.
 Due to private property surrounding the facility and the Fort Bragg Reservation less than one mile from one end of the runway, there is no place for the airport enlargement, said Byrd.
 A public hearing was set for 9 a.m. on September 3 for the ordinance by the county.
 According to McFayden, members of the Raeford City Council may also have to set a public hearing date since the airport is jointly owned by the city and county.

Turkey signs OK'd

During the meeting, a motion was passed to have signs reading "Home of the N.C. Turkey Festival" placed on the same poles but under existing signs welcoming visitors to Hoke County.
 The signs will cost between $25 and $30, County Manger Cowan estimated.

Memorial tabled

Commissioners tabled a request for a contribution to a proposed war veteran's memorial to be placed on the lawn of the courthouse. The effort, being headed by Eagle Scout candidates Jay and Josh Pate, would require permission from the commissioners to place the monument, Cowan said.

 "I think we should get a plan and review it before it's begun," Balfour said.
 "I think we need to know a little bit more about it," Commissioner Wyatt Upchurch said.
 Currently, Art Gore, a former Hoke County resident, is planning a monument representing the concept of lasting peace for all the nations of the world.
 Gore needs guns from all the major powers in World War II for the monument.
 Persons interested in donating money or weapons, or helping to get the guns should contact the Pate brothers at 875-2429.

Other action

- Commissioners also:
- Heard a report from Raeford-Hoke Economic Developer John Howard on his efforts to upgrade the area's tax base and bring relief to taxpayers.
 - Changed their regular meeting date from September 2, Labor Day, to September 3.
 - Passed a resolution for the disposal of county property.
 - Held an executive session to discuss legal and personnel matters.
 - Discussed vehicle insurance renewal.

Balfour is re-elected to NC association post

Hoke County Commission Chairman John G. Balfour has been re-elected to a third two-year term on the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners at the 78th Annual Conference August 8-11.
 Balfour represents Association District 5, which includes the counties of Hoke, Scotland, Robeson and Bladen.
 Balfour also was named the state's Outstanding County Commissioner for 1985.

 The North Carolina Association of County Commissioners is the official voice of the state's 100 counties. It represents the interests and concerns of county government before the General Assembly and other state and national officials.
 The Association also provides educational programs and special services to help counties better serve local citizens.

 This is one of the trees left standing in an open section of the coming Burlington Park. Recently, grading of the land was finished and grass seeds were planted at the park.

Hoke man killed in weekend wreck

William Bullard, a Hoke County resident was killed last Saturday afternoon when his car struck a tree beside State Road 1225, according to reports from the North Carolina Highway Patrol.
 State Trooper Brenda O. Price reported that Bullard, 70, was dead on the scene of the wreck.
 The crash occurred at 5:10 p.m., Price said.
 According to a description of the wreck, the 1968 Buick, driven by Bullard, ran off the road on the left side, hit a bridge railing, returned to the road and left again to hit the tree, Price said.
 Bullard lived on Rt. 1, Aberdeen, reports say.
