Highland games

Flora Macdonald's Fancy is among the dances performed in the Highland Dance Competition held during the Flora Macdonald Highland Games, October 5 and 6 in Red Springs.

Highland Games start Oct. 5

When the Scottish Highlanders came to America they brought with them their athletic and dancing customs. And whether you're of Scottish heritage or no you can enjoy competitions that have been passed down through the years at the annual Flora Macdonald Highland Games being held on Saturday and Sunday, October 5 and 6.

The games are again being held on the Humphrey farm located four miles outside of Red Springs just off Highway 71 in Shannon.

Watch for a free youth's ticket to this year's Highland Games which will be on neck ringers on bottles of Coca-cola in most supermarkets beginning September 23.

The ticket will be good for one admission of those 12 and under to this annual event. Tickets purchased in advance are $4 each for adults, good for both days. They will be $5 at the gate.

Tickets for those 6 to 18 purchased in advance are $1 each, good for both days and will be $2 at the gate.

Children under six are admitted free.

There will be entertainment for the whole family.

The gates will open at 9 a.m. on Saturday and many events are also scheduled for Sunday beginning at 1 p.m.

There will be arts and crafts demonstrations and sales along with concessions.

One can also browse and shop at the Scottish Vendor booths for the best in woolens, jewelry and accessories as well as purchase foods native to Scotland.

Saturday you can watch the competitions in Highland dancing and athletic events native to Scotland including the tossing of the caber and the putting of the stone.

There will be pipe band competition and individual competition in piping and drumming.

The Flora Macdonald Highland Games are an annual event sponsored by the non-profit Flora Macdonald Highland Games, Ltd.

All events are open to the public and tickets may be purchased in advance from the Flora Macdonald Highland Games, P.O. Box 547, Red Springs, NC 28377.
