'Psyche Me Up' is topic for Chaminade Music Club

Members of the Chaminade Music Club were entertained by a speaker from Methodist College during a September 10 meeting. The club held the first meeting of the year at the Hoke County Library, with President Mrs. L.S. Brock Jr. presiding during the business session. Mrs. William Colston, program leader, introduced Mr. Jack Peryrouse, from Methodist College, who entertained the club as he explained how he motivated students and steered them toward the study of drama in his presentation, "Psyche Me Up."

Hostesses, Mrs. Jake Austin and Mrs. William Colston, served refreshments to the members and guests.

The club welcomed three new members; Mrs. Frank Crumpler, Mrs. Neill McDonald, and Mrs. Harry Williamson.

Bridge tourney planned

On Thursday, September 19, a gala bridge afternoon is planned for Turkey Festival celebrants. Organizers Mrs. Betty Barnhart and Mrs. Marguerite Thomas report that many people are helping prepare for a lovely party. Homemade goodies are being baked by Hoke County women. The Hoke Civic Center is to be decorated and inviting. Prizes will be presented for high score and second high for the afternoon's play. Each table's high scorer will also receive a prize. Gifts have been donated by the Calico Corner, Home Food, Ann's House of Beauty, Jean's Beauty Salon, Neil and Mary Helen Senter, and the N.C. Turkey Festival committee. Bridge players and enthusiasts of other card games are encouraged to arrange a table or join a group for play. The entry fee is $2.50 per person. The time and place are 2:00 Thursday at the Civic Center.

Receiving recognition
Mrs. Dorothy Cameron (right) receives a certificate of appreciation for her long service to Hoke County from County Commission Chairman John Balfour. Mrs. Cameron served as the Hoke County Librarian for almost 30 years. She retired from the post December 31, 1983.

UDC donates to monument

The Raeford United Daughters of the Confederacy met September 13 at the Hoke County Library and voted to donate funds to the new Hoke County Monument. President Miss Isabel McFayden presided. The devotional was given by Mrs. Pauline Pittman. Miss McFayden led the rituals, allegiance and salute to the Flags. New Yearbooks and Couriers were distributed. The President announced the N.C. Division Convention would be in Winston Salem N.C. October 4-6 at the Stouffer Winston Plaza Hotel. Mrs. Herman will be a delegate. The Chapter voted to make contributions to the Mill-Prong project in addition to the War Monument to be built on the Courthouse lawn. Plans were made and committees appointed, Miss McFayden encouraged all members to work to secure new members. The Program of the month, "General Braxton Bragg," was presented by Miss Isabel McFayden. Mrs. Marianne McLean hostess served refreshments during the social hour.

Bridal party held

Miss Debbie Hancock, bride-elect of Rob McNeill, was honored at a luncheon on Saturday, September 14. Hostesses were Mrs. Scott Poole, Mrs. Wyatt Upchurch, Mrs. Bennie McLeod, Mrs. Jack Burgess, Mrs. Ralph Barnhart, and Mrs. C.L. Thomas Sr. Roses were used on the bride's table at John's in Lumberton. Guests were served quiche, bro-coli and an ice cream with cherries dessert. Special guests were Miss Hancock's mother, Mrs. Wayne Hancock, her sister, Miss Deneen Hancock and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bobby McNeill, and his sister, Miss Beth McNeill. The hostesses gave the honoree a corsage of roses and each gave her a gift.

DIET FACTS & FALLACIES

CAFFEINE AND CHILDREN

Billboards, catchy jingles and attractive ads on TV and in magazines tell the public that they may look better, feel better and perhaps, even be more successful and popular if they drink caffeine-containing beverages. Is it any wonder their sales are booming? Children are particularly susceptible to the "power of suggestion" from these ads.

Is there really any harm in drinking caffeine beverages? If a young child drinks one can of cola containing caffeine, the caffeine content is comparable to an adult drinking four cups of coffee. Research studies are being conducted to determine if these drinks are connected with symptoms that many of our youth experience, such as insomnia, increase in heart rate, nervousness and irritability.

Diet Center feels adults should realize the effect of caffeine drinks. Children should be encouraged to drink water, fruit juices and natural lemon drinks instead of soda pop, which may be filled with sugar, caffeine, chemicals and sodium that can be harmful to the body.
